On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, ordinarily I would regard it as being foolhardy to talk on a bill where obviously there is no opposition, but lest the membership fail to recognize that the bill has been amended, I desire to call their attention to that fact. The original bill called for a penalty of six years in jail and a fine of five hundred dollars. This bill is designed to take cognizance of the ever increasing number of fatal hit and run accidents. There is no provision in the present law that specifically provides for penalty where a death occurs. As a matter of fact the law does not differentiate between damage to a car and the death of an occupant. This bill has been amended, of course, to meet objections on the ground that the bill originally was unnecessary drastic.

In the area embracing the city of Scranton with which I am quite familiar the 1935 traffic toll is appalling. The number of accidents has been 739, the number of injuries 441, and the deaths 29. Of the 29 people that have died, four of them have been victims of hit and run drivers, who never stopped to ascertain as to whether or not anybody had been injured. The necessity for the passage of legislation of this sort was forcibly called not only to the attention of the adminisration but to the membership as well several weeks ago when the wife of the Governor of this great Commonwealth was an occupant in a car struck by a hit and run driver, who never stopped to find out whether or not anybody had been injured.

I dislike to use the hackneyed, the time worn, moth eaten method of logic that we used to use in our debates on capital punishment back in high school by asking what you would do if it were your own flesh and blood, but I wonder what the reaction would be if ony one of the members of this House would go home and find lying cold in death one of their flaxen haired youngsters, the victim of a hit and run driver, particularly if the doctor had told you that immediate medical attention might have saved her life.

I have always regarded life as the supernatural gift bestowed by the Divine Master upon man and He alone should take it away. It is three thousand years since the promulgation of the ten commandments, and let me remind you tonight that all of them, including "Thou shalt not kill" are as true and as binding tonight as when God gave them to Moses on the hill of Siniai. I appeal to the membership of this House in behalf of the survivors of these hit and run victims, in behalf of the thousands of men and women in the state, among them whom pedestrianism is by no means a lost art, and I appeal to the membership of this House to support this bill.

On the question recurring,

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1083, Printer's No. 1087, on page 21 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. HOLLAND.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1083, entitled:

An Act to provide for the better protection of life and property by the examination and licensure by the Department of Public Instruction of operators having charge of stationary steam boilers pressure vessels steam or internal combustion engines and turbines designating the requirements necessary to secure the licensure providing for the collection of fees making it a misdemeanor to operate or cause to be operated such apparatus without licensure and providing penalties

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask the sponsor of this bill to explain the bill.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, at the present time we find that engineers are licensed by the cities through political pulls. In fact, it has been proven that men have actually worked on dead men's licenses. By placing this in the hands of the state, we will safeguard the lives of the people. This bill does not affect those who fire small boilers; it merely affects those who fire large engines or boilers. It does not affect the churches, the schools, the hot-houses, the small apartments, the hospitals, the stores, or garages. It is very true that in the city of Philadelphia they now have a local ordinance. This does not in any way deprive the city of Philadelphia of the home rule or the revenue. It merely gives uniform protection to the whole state. At the present time the state is discriminated against in favor of the city. It also affords the State an income.

There are sixty thousand engineers in the state. At two dollars per year for a license, it would bring one hundred and twenty thousand dollars. Six thousand applicants for examination at five dollars each, after the act goes into effect, brings in thirty thousand dollars additional, or a total income of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The estimated cost of administration would be fifty thousand dollars. That would give the state an income of one hundred thousand dollars.

By subjecting these engineers to examination, you will be sure to get efficient men and not simply men who, due to some political string can get a license. I wonder if this answers the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sower's, question.

Mr. SOWERS. Not quite. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill you have before you for consideration appears to be very innocent but it is a very serious bill and one of vital importance. The bill pretends to be a safety measure, but in reality it is not a safety measure. The bill provides for engineers to operate boilers where equipment is attached, and it provides for no protection to the public where no equipment is attached. For instance, a fifty pound pressure boiler used to heat a large apartment house or to heat a show place or a theater or to heat a schoolhouse or to heat some educational institution is entirely eliminated from the bill, and there is as much danger to the public with the high pressure boiler used for heating purposes as there is from a high pressure boiler used to drive equipment. There isn't any doubt that by increasing the size of the cylinders, even a ten or fifteen pound pressure boiler can drive equipment. Even a higher pressure is used in many buildings to heat those buildings.

Now, the places that should be protected would naturally be schoolhouses and places where a large number of people gather, but this bill eliminates them entirely.

In Philadelphia, we have a very satisfactory system. For thirty-five years we have had no boiler explosions of any consequence or account, and no one has been injured. Our boiler inspection system has been maintained to the highest degree of efficiency, and if this bill is enacted into law we might be deprived of having control of inspection over apartment houses, or schools, and the various other places where large populations congregate. Now you have in addition to that the old system that has existed since eighteen ninety-one. In eighteen ninety-one, this legislature saw fit to give to the insurance companies the right to write policies of insurance, and the insurance companies, with the permission of the authorities, appointed inspectors. These inspectors inspect the boilers and then issue a policy. If this bill becomes a law there is some opportunity of saying that the acts of eighteen ninety-one relating to insurance and relating to boiler inspection by insurance companies is repealed, and therefore the people of Pennsylvania, instead of having the protection of insurance against damage and injury would have none.

I ask the members of the House to vote "no" on this bill because it is not a safety measure. It does not protect the public. It is merely a measure to regulate engineers that operat power equipment machinery, and it exempts all boilers that may cause great damage and injure many persons, and it may repeal the insurance law and it will undoubtedly upset the boiler insurance system in first, second, and third class cities.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to Mr. Sowers, I will state that there is a clause in this bill which states, "This bill will not affect any existing laws now in effect in any of the cities."

It will also cut down the insurance rates which the gentleman from Philadelphia complains about.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in addition to what Mr. Sowers has stated, respecting the regulations and ordinances of the city of Philadelphia, I want to say that the city of Pittsburgh has at the present time and has had for many years a very good ordinance regulating the operation of boilers and boiler inspections. There has been for many years no serious accidents in that city, and no appointments so far as I know have been made from a purely political standpoint. Therefore, I feel insofar as second class cities are concerned, this bill is entirely unnecessary and that it will do more harm than good.

I want to call the attention of the members of the House to page two of this bill where it says: "As used in this Act 'boiler' shall mean a steam or mercury boiler in which pressure is generated to drive equipment." My interpretation of that is that any truck which uses pressure in order to lift equipment or anything on to that truck will come under the provisions of this act. In other words, a truck driver would have to have the license of an engineer in order to operate one of those trucks, for instance, a concrete truck, a loading truck or a truck of that sort.

I also call the attention of the members of the House to page five of this bill, wherein it states that when a licensed operator changes his place of employment he must within ten days notify the Department of Revenue and also the employer must within ten days notify the Department of Revenue. This seems to me to be too strict a provision for this House to enact into law.

Also on page 5, section 10, it gives the Department the power to alter, amend, or repeal rules and regulations for the examination and registration of operators of equipment.

I feel that this act is very badly drawn and is totally unnecessary and I ask the members of the House to vote "no."

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to Mr. Eberharter, I wish to direct his attention to page 2, line 9, which defines equipment. This does not affect elevators or any hand hoists or any trucks which may be using dumps.

On the question recurring.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2524, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand two hundred three of the act approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "For the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of the highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justice of the peace, the courts and clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers! providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds" by providing for the right of arrests on view by certain peace officers for summary offenses in certain cases, and regulating the procedure with respect thereto.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Coakley.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COAKLEY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I understand that this is an amendment to the Motor Vehicle Code. Will the gentleman from Northampton please explain to the members of the House the amendments? I would like the sponsor to explain the amendments to this bill.

Mr. COAKLEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the purpose of this bill is for officers to arrest on view. If Mr. Tahl will give me permission to just read what the chiefs of police of Pennsylvania say in reference to this bill, I would like to do so:

"The Chiefs of Police of Pennsylvania are appalled at the constant increase in the number of deaths and accidents in this state by automobile. From our experience, we feel that this is largely due to the fact that under the present laws the police, with the exception of the Highway Patrol, can not arrest any offender on view for summary violations of the Vehicle Code. Consequently, racketeers, bandits, and other law breakers are immune from immediate arrest for a great number of violations. Because of this condition we feel that there is a general disregard for all motor vehicle laws in this state. We, therefore, urge you to support Bill No. 2524 which restores police officers to police duties and permits arrest on view of persons violating the summary provisions of the Vehicle Code. The amendment as drawn is in flexible enough form to prevent any hardship upon any law abiding motorist.

We also urge you to support Bill No. 2064 which provides for the training of police officers at the training school of the Pennsylvania State Police. It is our constant effort to raise the standard of all police officers in this state and we believe that the passage of this Bill would be a forward step on the proper training of men for police duties throughout the state.

Our organization is confident that you, as law-makers, appreciate the importance of having the laws you adopt properly administered. We, on our part, are anxious to administer these laws fairly and uniformly and ask your cooperation in securing the passage of these particular Bills for the benefit of all the people of Pennsylvania."

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there was a similar law on the Statute Books of the State from 1927 to 1929 when it was repealed, and it was repealed because of abuses and because of the creation of a large number of fining squires throught the Commonwealth. We recognize just what was said and we also recognize the fact that this bill is being fostered by the police in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and there probably is a reason for that. But I want to call attention of the members of the House just to this one fact. On page 8 it is provided that "If the defendant is unable to give bail in the usual legal form for a hearing or continued hearing or for his appearance in court the magistrate shall accept as bail any article of sufficient value or if the defendant is owner thereof and tenders the same shall hold in custody the vehicle found in his possession and the court or magistrate after the trial of the defendant or when bail in the usual legal form is given shall make such order as to the disposition of such vehicle or other articles accepted as bail as shall seem just and proper."

I submit to the members of the House that that is a hardship that may befall any one particular motor vehicle operator following an accident. I believe it is vicious legislation. I believe that all of us are in a position at times when we may not be able to pay a fine, when it would be a hardship to have our vehicle held as bail. I think that the bill should be defeated.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill does not originate in either Philadelphia or Pittsburgh. It originates at a conference of all the police officials of the State of Pennsylvania and results from a conference had by a committee of that association with our Secretary of Revenue. It is the first real forward step that this association has proposed in order to make the highways of Pennsylvania safe for pedestrians. We have experimented with the present law and the amount of injuries and deaths increases yearly, so that today in Pennsylvania each year finds a greater toll of lives than Pennsylvania has lost in the World War. If anyone will take the trouble to read this bill, he will see that every opportunity has been given to the one arrested so that no hardship will be imposed upon him. If we are going to get respect for our traffic laws we will have to do more than simply send a notice to someone to appear, if and as they want to appear. This act provides that the officer may arrest on view but he must do several things after the arrest. First, he may either take the name and address of the offender. Now, that undoubtedly will be done where the violation is slight. Second, where the violation is of a more serious character, he may take the arrested person before a magistrate, and the defendant is given the right to elect whether he be given an immediate hearing or whether he post bail for a hearing ten days from that date. Third, he is taken to the headquarters of the police department, and he shall have the right to immediate release, except in cases of a felony or a misdemeanor, or in cases that result in injury or death to any person, and he is entitled to have his release upon depositing a sum of money with such office equal to the amount of the maximum fine or the fine and the costs applicable to the offense. The next provision is in the event he does not have the fine, he may if he is the owner of the automobile leave that as security, or any other article of value, which article is returned to him at such time as he does post the bail. As I read this bill, aside from a real honest attempt to safeguard the pedestrian, and to cut down this enormous toll that these automobiles take each year in this state, the offender is put to no great inconvenience. He must post bail, and if he cannot post bail he leaves security. If he has no security he can put up the cash. It is non-partisan, gentleman, and I think this is a real bill to get behind. We have got to do something. Here is a bill on which all of the elements have agreed. I therefore ask the House to vote aye on the bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, whether this bill would permit a township or borough justice of the Peace cooperating with officers of that borough to arrest on sight.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, this bill would undoubtedly permit the peace officer to arrest where there has been a violation of the law, with or without any cooperation on the part of the justice of the peace.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, previous to 1929 and in 1927, 1928 and 1929, in our county there were several instances where there was a regular racket performed by the justices of the peace and the constables or officers of those boroughs. It caused a lot of inconvenience to the traveling public and if this in any way would bring about that same condition I would have to be very much opposed to the bill.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I heartily agree with my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, but he has covered all the important parts of this bill and the recommendation of the Superintendent of Police of Philadelphia also the Director of Public Safety, and I am asking the members of this House to vote aye on this bill.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in assuming that this bill applies to non-residents who may be guilty of a minor offense the same as residents.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, it applies to all who use the highways of the state.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in assuming therefore, that a non-resident may post his own recognizance for his appearance?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, that is a matter of discretion with the magistrate or the justice of the peace. Undoubtedly where the affender is a non-resident he would be required to post bail or leave sufficient security to cover the imposition of the maximum fine.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. So that page 5, line 2, down to line 16, does not make it mandatory upon the justice of the peace or the committing magistrate to make a non-resident post security, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, no the provisions of Section 1, 2 and 3, would be sub-divisions, or alternative provisions, and referring back to page 4 you will note that it says that "The arresting officer shall thereupon either," and then it takes in Sections 1 and 2.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, then it is not mandatory?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, no, sir.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, let us assume then that a justice of fthe peace or a committing magistrate will be as lenient with the non-residents as he would be with the residents and would let a non-resident post his own recognizance, and the non-resident does not appear. Do you believe that the non-resident could be extradited to stand the charge of the misdemeanor under this act?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, no, unless the offense is an extraditable offense the non-resident could not be brought within the jurisdiction. I am assuming that the administering officer would use his own discretion and will be honest. May I also add that at the present time that the situation as you have described is possible, and that situation is not changed under this act.

On the question recurring,

Shall tht bill pass finally?

SENATE

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

As flowers in a garden and as the leaves of the forest turn their faces toward the sun, so turn our souls unto Thee, O God. To whom else shall we go? "Thou hast the words of eternal life."

In times of confusion and uncertainty we have sought help in many places, and too frequently have we been disappointed. But when we have approached Thee, seeking Thy counsel, our hearts have been comforted and the tangled paths have been made clear and straight.

May such seeking after Thee become the habit of our lives. Here, in legislative assembly, at home amid our daily duties, in every department of our lives, may we ask Thy guidance. We are assured of Thy willingness to help us by the promise "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out."

We thus pray in the name of Thy Son. Amen.

RESOLUTION FOR APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE CHARGES OF VARIOUS NEWSPAPERS RELATIVE TO THE PASSAGE OF "PITTSBURGH RIPPER BILL"

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Resolution No. 1, relative to the "Pittsburgh Ripper Bill," reported from Committee on Municipal Government at yesterday's Sessions.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 3, 1935.

Whereas There was introduced into the General Assembly a bill commonly known as the Pittsburgh Ripper Bill that if enacted into law will abolish the office of Mayor in the City of Pittsburgh and

Whereas The real purpose of this bill seems to be to remove the Honorable William McNair from the office of Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh by legislative authority nothwithstanding that he could be removed by appropriate legal proceedings if found guilty of malfeasance in office or that he had been elected to the office of Mayor at the preceding election by a large majority of the votes cast or that a newspaper poll taken after the introduction into the General Assembly of the above mentioned bill indicated that a large majority of the voters were still desirous of having him as their chief executive and

Whereas The real objection to having the said William McNair serve as Mayor for the full term to which he had been elected seems to be that his independence in the administration of his official duties especially his dispensing of political patronage is not satisfactory to the Democratic organization of that City and

Whereas Various newspapers circulating in Pennsylvania have published news items and have given considerable editorial space to the above mentioned bill generally agreeing that all the Democratic Senators will support the bill and inferring if not actually alleging that in order to secure the votes of seven Republican Senators necessary to have the bill pass that parties having at their disposal political patronage were offering Republican Senators jobs or positions for their friends or constituents in return for votes to have the said bill reported out of committee and for final passage in the Senate and

Whereas This seems to be a serious reflection on the honesty and integrity of members of the Senate therefore be it

Resolved That the President pro Tempore of the Senate appoint a committee consisting of three Senators to investigate the charges made by various newspapers as to the methods used to secure the passage of said bill and of all lobbying done in the interest of this bill or of any offer made to any member of the General Assembly for his or her support in favor of said bill and to all other matters in connection therewith The said committee to make a report of its findings to the Senate for such action as may seem desirable And be it further

Resolved That the said committee shall have power to issue subponeas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary

Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subponeas issued out of the courts of the Commonwealth Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this is an important paper, and I think a matter as important as this is, which alleges certain things, or a great many things, without very much proof back of it, requires that the Senate rules be adhered to and a printed copy of the resolution be placed on the desk of the Senators before it is voted upon.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Huffman, make that as a motion?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I think the rule provides for that.

The PRESIDENT. The Secretary will read the Rule.

The Rule was read as follows:

"The following resolutions after they have been twice read, shall be referred to an appropriate committee, without debate (unless by unanimous consent the Senate shall otherwise direct) and if favorably reported by the committee, shall lie over one day for consideration, after whic hthey may be called up as, of course, under their appropriate order of business."

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I have not had the time to go over the Rules and the Constitution, but my recollection is that either the Rules or the Constitution require that a resolution must be printed and placed on the desks of the Senators, but we have not been adhering to it.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is unable to find anything in the Rules to require the printing of the resolution.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I think that is a Constitutional provision which requires all resolutions of this kind to be printed for the use of the members before they are acted upon.

The PRESIDENT. What section is the Senator from Fayette referring to?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, Article 3, Section 2.

The PRESIDENT. That refers to a bill. This is no bill.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Will the sponsor of the bill permit the resolution to be put on our desks?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I would be very glad indeed to have the resolution printed, and I do think that every member ought to be absolutely familiar with it before voting upon it. I have no objections to withdrawing my request for consideration of the resolution at this time, and in deference to the request from the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

MOTION TO PRINT RESOLUTION

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be printed, and that a copy be placed on the file of each Senator.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Warren, Mr. Chapman, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, how can the school system of Pennsylvania be improved?

On April 24th, I discussed in a brief way the educational problems before the Senate in a broadcast. I said at that time that we faced a new Commonwealth and new problems, some of which have been before the present Legislature, namely adequate relief, sufficient finances to carry on the functions of government, social security and methods of revising the Constitution. All the foregoing must be given consideration. We must, however, not loose sight of the fact that equally important with those previously mentioned is the problem of education. The security of Pennsylvania in the final analysis depends on the wisdom and intelligence of the citizens. These qualifications in the words of William Penn do not descend with worldly inheritance. Some agency must have as its chief responsibility in the propagation of wisdom and intelligence if they are to remain a part of the heritage of Pennsylvania. This is the responsibility of public education in the public schools of the Commonwealth. I desire to suggest a program for the betterment of the school system of Pennsylvania. I wish to make it clear that I do not necessarily voice the sentiment of the Senate of Pennsylvania, neither do I speak as Chairman of the Educational Committee of the Senate, I rather speak as a citizen who is interested in the public schools. I speak as one who has made careful observation of the work of the schools—one who by reading has kept in touch with writings on educational problems—and as one who has sought the opinions of educators. Frankly, then, I am presenting my own opinions secured from by own thinking, observations, and discussions on the subject.

I do not voice the sentiment of the Senate of Pennsylvania as I discuss these somewhat specific details but I should be very much remiss if I did not tell you that without exception my colleagues in the Senate hold education as one of the important activities of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

How can the school system of Pennsylvania be made better? This topic, I am sure, is of interest to everyone. Those who have children in school are anxious that the children learn. Those who pay the bills, the tax payers, are anxious to receive full value for every dollar expended. And if the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania itself could speak, I am sure it would voice the sentiment that every child of Pennsylvania—every youth capable of learning—should be provided with such education as would enable him to be of service to the State as a useful and happy citizen.

Not so many years ago we thought of education as comprising mainly reading, writing, and arithmetic. The schools in which these subjects are taught are now commonly called the elementary schools. In my own thinking I like to think of these elementary schools as the place in which children are taught fundamentals. Some people call these three subjects the tools of learning. Personally, I am a strong believer in building solid foundations and in good tools. Whether we call these subjects of the elementary school the fundamental subjects of the school curriculum or whether we call them tools of learning is of minor significance. The important thing to me is that the subjects be well taught and that following the period of schooling in the elementary school, our boys and girls shall be able to speak the English language well and effectively—to read with intelligence and understanding—to write legibly and with a forceful style—and to be expert in the simple arithmetical computations.

My chief interest in this connection is accuracy rather than speed. Speed with inaccuracy is as dangerous in the educational field as it is on the public highways. No one from my observation has ever been taught to use the English language too well—to write too legibly—to spell too accurately—nor to be too correct in arithmetical calculations. It is upon these subjects that the rest of the education of the individual is largely built, which, therefore, gives them their importance.

My first suggestion, then, for the betterment of the school system of Pennsylvania would be to teach better and better the fundamental subjects of the elementary school.

By this emphasis on the fundamental subjects I do not mean to minimize other subjects taught in the elementary school. Surely everyone should have a clear understanding of the history of the Commonwealth, the State, and the nation in which one lives. Surely everyone should know about the geography of his country. Surely, as a physician, I would be the last one not to emphasize the need for knowing about the laws of health as taught in health education. Likewise, the joy that comes from knowing and participating in music and to be trained so that one has an appreciation of color combinations, great pictures, and to engage in a simple way in art activities make these two subjects very important.

All of these are so interwoven in our everyday life that to be even an intelligent reader of the daily newspaper or to select wisely good music on the radio requires that our boys and girls have some education and experience in these other subjects of the elementary school.

If I should make a second suggestion for the betterment of the school system of Pennsylvania as it applies to the elementary school, it would be that these subjects of health, art, and music be provided for more generously in the rural schools of our Commonwealth. Notwithstanding the fact that they are part of our school curriculum, there are thousands of boys and girls in the rural areas of Pennsylvania who even today are not receiving proper and adequate instruction in health education, in music, and in art. These boys and girls of the country have within their souls the same cords yearning to respond to the beautiful in art and in music. It remains for the schools to set these cords vibrating in such manner that the beautiful in art and in music may be woven into their life activities.

My next suggestion for betterment has to do with the high schools. These schools in the past had as their chief purpose the preparation for college. Chief emphasis was placed upon teaching those subjects which would enable the boys and girls when they graduated to enter professional courses in college such as those preparing for the ministry, for law, for medicine, or for teaching.

The percentage of our population, however, that is engaged in these professions is very small, probably not more than ten per cent. Suddenly, as a people, we realize that this vast expenditure for our high schools benefited only approximately ten per cent of the pupils because ninety per cent of all our students could never become ministers, lawyers, or doctors.

This large group of boys and girls needed a more practical teaching than those who are going into the professions.

Pennsylvania was one of the early states to recognize this need and in about 1914 passed laws to provide for the teaching of boys in agriculture and trade and industrial subjects and girls in home economics. These schools were called vocational schools.

Later, the Federal government through the Smith-Hughes Act made Federal appropriations to different states to encourage and promote the teaching of agriculture in the rural areas; trade, industrial, and shop subjects in city areas; and home making education for girls everywhere.

I consider this one of the big steps forward in education. I have a feeling that education should be worth while to carpenters, plumbers, bricklayers, hodcarriers, farmers, machinists, in fact to every skilled tradesman. In my opinion it is just as important to teach the farmer, the mason, the bricklayer, the machinist how to make a living as it is to teach the lawyer, the minister, and the doctor.

We in Pennsylvania now appropriate $1,000,000 per biennium to aid school districts in providing this type of training. In my opinion this is not sufficient. I believe our schools could be greatly improved to the advantage of many of our people who need vocational training by making provision for the increase of this type of education so that it would be available to anyone who desires to secure training better to prepare himself for engaging in a worth-while vocation by means of which he might earn a livelihood.

This is particularly important at the present time because of the rapid shifting in occupations. Some opportunity should be provided by which if a new machine removes the opportunity for employment, the schools will provide restraining programs for other types of employment.

I wish to make it clear that I do not have in mind that vocational education should deal only with teaching how to make a living. All of our people need to have a scientific education in government in addition to their vocational skills. They need to have a knowledge of how the government of the United States works. They need to have a good cultural education. They need to have an appreciation of beauty and art so that they may take their place as useful citizens and fulfill their civic responsibilities in the communities in which they happen to live.

Another very important part of vocational education is that which has to do with home making. This includes the proper teaching of girls in the responsibilities of home life. It should include both teaching and practice in cooking, in sewing, in budgeting and home management, in house furnishings, in the care of children, and the numerous activities that fall to the lot of the housewife. I consider this very important because in my opinion the home is our most important institution.

The type of education which I have described above, namely vocational education, requires high standards for the teaching personnel. I believe that the best teaching personnel possible is necessary for this type of education. The practical blacksmith, the plumber, or the carpenter can teach the simple trade practices but, in my opinion, these types of individuals are not satisfactory for teaching these important subjects.

My own belief is that the vocational teacher should be highly trained, of excellent reputation, of good moral character, of outstanding personality, and with high educational qualifications. Citizenship must ever be a first requisite in all teaching whether it be in vocational education or in general education. For this reason the vocational teacher must be well trained so that he can teach these future workers not only to perform expertly vocationally, but, in addition, to perform expertly as citizens.

Another problem which faces our public schools grows out of the depression. It has been estimated that there are approximately 500,000 boys and girls in Pennsylvania who have completed high school but who have not had sufficient funds to continue their education in higher institutions and who are at present unemployed. This group has been called the lost generation. They are neither in school nor at work. They are victims of the depression.

Their time is spent chiefly in idleness not of their own choosing but because jobs are not available for them.

They are at the most critical formative period of their lives. As future citizens they carry tremendous possibilities either for good or for evil. Something should be done for them. My own belief is that the schools should come to their rescue and provide some type of training or education to occupy their time and keep alive the spark of ambition until they may become employes. If this is not done, the State will lose the fine contributions which they could make to the life of the Commonwealth.

The school is no better than the teacher. As someone has said, a good teacher is worth her weight in gold; a poor teacher is dear at any price. It is for this purpose I believe the school program of Pennsylvania could be made better if we could strengthen the laws by which good teachers could be assured of re-election and employment so long as their services are satisfactory. Too frequently boards of school directors, without giving any reasons, terminate the contracts of all their teachers, re-employ those whom they desire, and give no reason for failure to re-employ the remainder. This is not fair to the teacher nor to the pupils. This practice cannot be justified and deserves condemnation.

It is my belief that a teacher before she is dismissed is entitled to the reason. I have, therefore, introduced a bill into the State Senate, Senate Bill No. 1384, which would require that before a board of school directors could terminate the contract of a teacher or fail to re-employ a teacher for the next year, the teacher must be given a notice in writing setting forth clearly the reason for dismissal. This bill also provides that the reason given must be one of those now specified in the School Code and that the teacher must have opportunity for a hearing before the local board of directors. I am hoping that this bill will be enacted into law. Already I have had many favorable comments in favor of it both from groups of teachers and from boards of school directors.

The passage of this bill, I believe will mean much for the betterment of the schools of Pennsylvania in that it will prevent boards of education from acting unjustly towards satisfactory, deserving and competent teachers. The Senate on May 28th passed this bill without an opposing vote.

Perhaps some of my radio audience have questions in their minds as to how these proposals which I have suggested can be accomplished. I have a suggestion on this matter also. I believe, and I have introduced a bill that there should be continuity in the management of the State system of public schools. For that reason the bill which I have sponsored, Senate Bill No. 1162, would amend the present Constitution of Pennsylvania so that the Superintendent of Public Instruction would be elected by the State Council of Education. The members of the State Council of Education, under the provisions of this bill, would consist of nine members, each one named for a term of nine years so that their terms would overlap the tenure of the Chief Executive.

Several of the neighboring states of Pennsylvania have similar plans, notably New York and Massachusetts. We find that in those two states this method has brought to the leadership of the public schools of these respective Commonwealths only outstanding educators of the highest ability. Moreover, being secure in the tenure of their position, they are able to plan programs of education, plan to better the existing programs of education and, without the interference of partisan politics, life the school programs in these states to a high level of efficiency.

I am hopeful, too, that this bill will be enacted into law so that educational leadership in Pennsylvania may be placed on the high plane which now exists in New York and Massachusetts.

In conclusion, may I tell you that it is my firm belief that the youth of Pennsylvania are her most precious assets. Properly taught in the paths of righteousness in their youth, they will not depart therefrom. I would have developed in them through the schools their individual personalities and proclivities.

We need more teachers rather than fewer teachers. We need less students per teacher rather than more students per teacher. We need more individual and personal training so that every student may become an invincible advisary against false and radical doctrines.

We need the application of more human psychology including the understanding of the adolescent child. We need to give more individual attention to the child of low mental ability so that he, too, may be developed to the highest levels of which he is capable. We need to study the child with the same detail and concern with which the physician diagnoses disease and provide for this child such opportunities in public school education and such teachers as will bring him to his highest development as a useful and happy citizen of the Commonwealth.

What greater use can the schools of our State become to our civilization than to achieve these ideals? What more noble work can our Commonwealth undertake? This, my friends, is where I stand and fall. More and better public schools are the answer. Future of Pennsylvania lies with TEACHERS, EDUCATORS, THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. NORTON. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 938, the bill just read, be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS RECOMMITTED

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 34 on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section fourteen of the act approved the eighteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 1043), entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system, and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof; establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes, defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payment therefrom, and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds; imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes; exempting annuities, allowances, returns, benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process; and providing penalties," by providing for a State annuity for principals, supervising principals, and superintendents who separated from school service prior to the establishment of the retirement system.

be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is one of two bills on the calendar for today. It deals with the question of retirement. This bill reduces the age of supervisors of schools from seventy years to sixty-two. I have received information from various school districts in Philadelphia, and I made an investigation of my own which convinces me that while the objections presented may be good, the effect of this bill may be to interfere with the reserves set up by the School Teachers' Retirement Fund, and it may work havoc to the whole fund certainly from an actuarial point of view.

I call that to the attention of the sponsor of the bill, and for that reason I think the bill should be recommitted. I should like to have the sponsor of the bill accept that suggestion.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I accept the suggestion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 848 on third reading, entitled:

An Act to provide for sexual sterilization of mental defectives

be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, state his purpose in recommitting this bill?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I have had on my desk for the last week or two a lot of objections to this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, what are the objections?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I think that there has been a lot of difference of opinion on the bill, and we should have a little meeting on the bill to tell us something about it. Perhaps some quack doctor or somebody else on the Committee will send some person to a hospital and have them cut up or do what he wishes with them.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to inquire from the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, if he had an impression that this is a labor bill.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, there are a lot of quack lawyers and quack doctors at the present time, and I think we should look over a good many of the things that they intend to do before they do what they say.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to know whether the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, will permit himself to be interrogated further.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, whether he is familiar with the purpose of this bill.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, that is the reason why I want to have a hearing, to learn something about the bill. I don't know much about it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object to this bill being recommitted. My reasons for doing so are these: I have a number of letters that I have also received objecting to this bill from people who apparently have not read the bill. This bill is of serious import to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to a number of unfortunate citizens. Some years ago these bills were offered in the Senate. They were presented and public hearings were held and some of these hearings developed the fact that the results to be accomplished could not be accomplished without severe mutilation of the person affected. It has been developed since that time over a period of ten years that the results desired to be accomplished may not be the stopping of the propogation of the character of the people who always will be a burden on the Commonwealth, whether that can be accomplished by an operation which is not a mutilation in any sense of the word, and which is certainly a painless operation.

There are a great many people in Pennsylvania who have made a careful study of this subject, and they came to the conclusion that this bill ought to be passed because, first, there is a considerable expense to the Commonwealth because we are obliged to keep in confinement in institutions people who would be safe in public and along the streets, if they were subject to this operation.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, will state his point of order.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, my point of order is that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is not discussing the motion; he is discussing the merits of the bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I agree with the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken, and the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will confine himself to the motion before the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, for the reasons I have stated, I object to the motion that has been made.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, a similar motion to recommit this bill was made late in yesterday's Session and the Senate voted it down, therefore, I think that the Senate ought to also vote this motion down.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I did not just get what the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, stated.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I will repeat what I said. I thought I made myself clear. I stated that a similar motion was made by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, last night, and the Senate voted the motion down. Now I do not know why we should reverse that action at this moment.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I cannot see why the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is so much interested in this bill, except that he might get a fee sometime. I do not think that it is a good thing to go any further with the bill until we know something about it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have not had a fee for so long a time that I would probably welcome one.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege in order to be able to answer the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not thoroughly familiar with sex questions. If the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, seems to be so much interested in the bill, he may be more familiar with it than I am, and that is the reason I ask the question that I did on the question of personal privilege. I want to say that this bill has been heard by various committees; that the committees that had this bill heard various speeches, and the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, was in the room at the time the interested persons were heard. The bill was thoroughly explained to him, and if it requires any further explanation, I want to say frankly that I think we will be wasting time. I, therefore, say that I think this motion should be voted down.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I do not remember having been in the room at the time this bill was discussed, and I do say that to some extent it depends on the parents who think perhaps some children would be in the way when they get older, or they have some money, or for some other reason, want to put them in some insane institution. I think it is a very bad bill and we should look into it before we vote on it.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, in regard to this bill being returned to Committee, I think we cannot give a bill of this kind too much study. The purpose of this bill is to promote the public welfare. There is another side to this question. They are going to throw open to the public of this Commonwealth a temptation that will do a greater harm by far than by simply taking care of the few of of these people, and if I were permitted to speak on this bill, I would say furthermore that I think we should put this bill back in Committee and give it further consideration, because I think it is a vicious bill and one that is going to cause a great deal of disturbance if it is ever passed in this Senate.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, Is the vote now being taken upon the motion to send the bill back to Committee?

The PRESIDENT. The question is, shall the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for, twenty-five Senators voted in the affirmative and eighteen in the negative; whereupon the question was decided in the affirmative.

Also from the Committee on Federal Relations reported as committed, the following resolution:

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO ALLOCATE FEDERAL PUBLIC WORKS EMERGENCY FUNDS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF VARIOUS RESERVOIRS IN ALLEGHENY AND MONOGAHELA RIVERS

In the Senate, June 3, 1935.

Whereas, For a period of 25 years studies and surveys have been made by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and Engineers of the Flood Commission of Pittsburgh for a system of flood control reservoirs in the headwaters of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, the expense of which surveys were met by moneys appropriated by the Congress of the United States, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the County of Allegheny, the City of Pittsburgh, and by contributions of taxpapers both private individuals and industries; and

Whereas, Nine of the proposed reservoirs are in Pennsylvania and are part of a system of 14 reservoirs in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky studied and approved by the Mississippi Committee of the National Resources Board, by the Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., by Major W. H. Gravell, P. W. A. Engineers for Pennsylvania and by the Tri-State authority, a voluntary organization of the mayors, burgesses and presidents of municipal council in the 230 municipalities in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia; and

Whereas, The first reservoir in the system is now under construction on the Tygart river in West Virginia, a tributary of the Monongahela at a total cost of about $15,000,000, allocated entirely from the Federal Public Works Emergency funds, and already giving employment directly and indirectly to about 4,000 men; and

Whereas, The construction of the remaining 13 reservoirs in the system at a total estimated cost of $70,117,000 will give employment to an estimated 60,000 men out of a total of 200,000 unemployed in the vicinity of the reservoir sites, besides consuming great quantities of construction materials such as sand, gravel, cement, steel, lumber, tools and machinery, thus furnishing employment to additional thousands; and

Whereas, The construction of these proposed reservoirs and the Muskingum Project in Ohio are estimated by the Mississippi Valley Committee of the National Resources Board in its report of Oct. 1, 1934, to reduce floods 5 to 6 feet at Pittsburgh, 4 to 6 feet at Cincinnati, 2 to 4 feet at Louisville, and ½ to 1 foot at Cairo, (confluence of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers) affording flood protection to a population of several million people and their properties, occupations and pursuits and thus constituting a project national in scope and effects; and

Whereas, In addition to furnishing protection from floods the proposed reservoirs will improve navigation in the Allegheny, Monongehala and Ohio Rivers in periods of low and high water, will benefit sanitary conditions of domestic water supplies to millions of population and provide possible future sources of hydro-electric energy; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Senate of Pennsylvania memorialize the Federal Public Works Administration, through the Administrator, Secretary Harold L. Ickes, to procure allocation of Federal Public Works Emergency funds to begin at once construction of additional reservoirs in this system, of which the following have been located in Pennsylvania by the Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., the Allegheny reservoir, the Conemaugh, the French Creek, the Tionesta Creek, the Red Bank Creek, the Mahoning Creek, the Crooked Creek, the Loyalhanna Creek reservoirs, all on or tributary to the Allegheny river, and the Shenango river reservoir, tributary to the Ohio river at an estimated total cost of $54,900,000, all to be allocated out of Federal Public Works funds for temporary relief of unemployment, and for permanent social benefit to millions of population dwelling in the watersheds of the rivers referred to.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, the Secretary of War and the Chief of Engineers of the United States Army, by the Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that concurrent resolutions reported from committee lie on the table one day be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BEAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Bean, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BEAN. Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, in asking your indulgence for a few moments at this time I want to say that as the youngest member of this body in point of service, I have felt a natural reluctance about making any extended remarks during this session. I should not be undertaking to do so now, were it not for the fact that the Governor has seen fit to reopen a subject which most of us thought had been concluded, and which, incidentally, was the outstanding issue of my recent campaign.

The County that I represent is the County in which the Governor himself resides, and inasmuch as the people thereof have expressed themselves so definitely upon this matter, it is one upon which I feel some obligation to speak. And especially am I so inclined since the Governor has set about to ignore, and asks this Legislature to ignore, the fact that a great majority of the people of this entire Commonwealth, by every conceivable means that has been open to them, have registered an emphatic negative upon this proposal which the Governor now renews, to put additional and excessive and unnecessary NEW tax burdens upon them.

In a characteristic attempt to disregard and over-ride the legislative prerogatives which are limited to this branch of the Government and which most distinctly are not within the powers delegated to the Executive, the Governor has done the usual thing by presenting this new demand for more added taxes in the form of an ultimatum. In actual words he has said that if this Legislature adjourns without having provided added taxes in the amount of some 56 millions of dollars, he will immediately call a special session for the purpose of obtaining this desired amount of new revenue, which is in addition to 60 millions of other new taxation already agreed upon.

But, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, what he said in actual effect was more important than his partial statement which I have mentioned here, and he would have been more accurate and candid if he had said:

"I have money in my left-hand pocket ample for our needs. But I have the fear of running short of money in my right-hand pocket. It is true that the money in both pockets is the same kind of money and that it all comes from the same source—the industries, the business, and the people of this State. It also is true that the unusual or unbalanced drain upon one pocket or the other, or both, has been and will be the result of an Emergency—which Emergency I have not failed to use to the limit in behalf of every end that I have sought since taking office. However, it having been a practice which was set up, not by necessity but by custom, in normal times, to use the money in the right-hand pocket for certain purposes, and the money in the left-hand pocket for certain other purposes—and the correct definition of EMERGENCY being something that you use when it serves your purposes, and completely disregard when it does not—I refuse to draw upon the plentifully supplied left-hand pocket to balance any shortage of the right-hand pocket. And if you, the Legislature, do not plentifully supply also that right-hand pocket, then I, in bull-headed vengeance, will put the people of Pennsylvania to whatever the expense may be of calling a special session of the Legislature, in order to get this extra revenue which I demand."

That is precisely the latest situation which Governor Earle has created; it is an exact picture of his position and attitude; and these facts should be brought home to every taxpayer and every jobholder in this State. It is high time that this Administration, its methods and its motives, were debunked in terms which every taxpayer will understand, and by which every wage-earner may know toward WHAT he is headed; and I want to take this occasion to compliment Senator Reed of Dauphin, and Senator Owlett of Tioga, upon the notable contributions they have made along those lines in their respective speeches of April 23rd and May 28th. Each set forth authoritative facts and figures which were completely at variance with the statements and policies of this administration, and I think the people of Pennsylvania are likely to agree with those of us in this Chamber who regard it as of the deepest significance that neither the Governor nor any spokesman for him has attempted to dispute or deny a single fact, figure or conclusion set forth by either of those gentlemen in the speeches mentioned.

Mr. President, it has been only a few weeks ago that the Governor, basing his demands upon a budget that he could neither satisfactorily explain nor justify, was insisting upon the enactment of new taxes to the amount of more than 203 million dollars a biennium. There was a general rebellion against those taxes, which the Governor either COULLD not or WOULD not understand.

In a special election held in Pike County to fill a vacancy in the lower House of this Legislature, the Democratic candidate based his campaign upon support of the Governor's tax program; and in a district that had been Democratic for years, the people defeated that Democratic candidate, rejected the Governor's tax proposals, and elected a Republican who pledged his opposition to those taxes.

How did the Governor interpret this and other equally clear evidences of public opinion? Why, Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, his understanding of these questions is such, and the character of the information and advice that he receives is such, that HE interpreted a widespread and almost unanimous opposition to his whole tax program to be a virtual public uprising in support of it! Senator Owlett was dealing with this period in the tax controversy when, in his speech in this Chamber last week, he referred to that shameful episode, unprecedented in the history of this State, in which the Governor, by an utterly indefensible misrepresentation of what would happen to the people of Pennsylvania if his 203-million-dollar tax program were not enacted, sought to inflame that supposedly favorable uprising into a marching horde which would concentrate on the State Capitol and attempt to intimidate this body into following the example of the lower House in blind and unquestioning acceptance of the Governor's dictates.

And then, Mr. President, came the campaign and special election in Montgomery County, for the seat in the Senate which I now hold. Here the issue of the Governor's tax program was even more sharply drawn, for the Democratic candidate was the Governor's own personally approved candidate, and Montgomery is the County in which not only the Governor himself resides, but also two members of his cabinet. My Democratic opponent declared unqualifiedly for the Governor's tax program, and the Governor brought the full power of his Administration to bear in an effort to elect Miss Ely and thereby procure an endorsement of his Administration and its proposals. The repudiation was overwhelming, and I am here today, Mr. President, with a distinct mandate from the people of my district—the home County, if you please, of the Governor himself.

That mandate, as I have interpreted it, was that I should give my support to whatever new taxes might be necessary in order to provide adequately for unemployment relief—and to stop there in respect of all other increased costs that might be imposed by our State Government, whether direct, in the form of more taxes, or indirect, in the form of added charges upon industry and production, which would retard the Recovery that is the only sound solution of the many problems for which all these destructive experiments and panaceas are now being offered.

Mr. President, it is not necessary to remind this body or the public at large that despite all the Administration's advance predictions and ballyhoo to the contrary, not only has the Republican majority in the Senate agreed to a tax program which all parties concede will meet all unemployment relief requirements in Pennsylvania beyond that period within which the National Administration has promised to re-employ thousands in this State out of its 5-billion dollar Works-Relief-Appropriation, but the Republican majority has done so with taxes which will fall directly—and I do not hesitate to say in many instances destructively—upon the corporate enterprises of Pennsylvania, and very largely upon the manufacturing concerns of this State.

It was another of those ultimatums from the Governor—in this instance EITHER THESE SPECIFIC TAXES or chaos in unemployment relief—and the Republican majority made unemployment relief its first consideration by accepting these particular taxes for a period of two years, however unwise or disastrous they might turn out to be.

And right here, Mr. President, with all the emphasis at my command, I deprecate and denounce that calculated effort of the Governor and his supporters to make the people of Pennsylvania believe that a refusal by the Republican majority of this Senate to accede to all of his demands made in the NAME of unemployment relief, was, or rightfully could be interpreted as being, a reluctance by that Republican majority to recognize real and actual unemployment relief requirements, or reflected a lack of sympathy with those who, through no fault of their own, are unable to find work and thus provide for themselves and their families.

While the Governor of this Commonwealth was only following a notable example in attempting to portray all critics of aimless squandering, and all opponents of ruthless waste, as heartless enemies of the unfortunate victims of this depression, I say that such despicable propaganda is utterly un-American, no matter who the politician is who seeks to profit from it. Moreover, Mr. President, I do not for a moment fear that the people of this State are going to be fooled by such palpable attempts to reflect upon their intelligence.

The taxes to which I am especially referring here are the new 6% Income Tax on all corporations, and the 5-mill tax on the capital stock of manufacturing enterprises.

Mr. President, I will concede that when new revenues must be had, there may be at least some element of justice in a tax which applies only when a profit has resulted from the operation of a business, although it must be clear to most of us that in these times, when those concerns which are not operating at a loss are continuing in business upon a very narrow margin of profit, a tax of 6%, if it cannot be added into price, is going to mean the difference between a nominal return and an actual loss. But I contend that there is no element either of equity or sound judgment in a tax whose only purpose and effect is to penalize men for engaging together to risk their savings in what one might think was the dishonest, if not actually criminal enterprise of paying wages and rents and taxes, and consuming coal, gas, oil and electricity, in the various processes of converting the raw materials of our natural resources into the finished products for use and consumption.

A tax on capital engaged in the useful enterprise of creating products, and, in so doing, also creating and maintaining entire communities is a vicious, dangerous and destructive use of the taxing power for punitive purposes, and whatever revenue may be derived from it will, in the long run and in much larger measure, re-act to the definite detriment and disadvantage of wage-earners and entire communities alike.

Now, Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, I not only repeat that the Republican majority in this body agreed to this tax when the Governor of Pennsylvania stubbornly refused to consider any other as an alternative to chaos in unemployment relief, but I want to add this further statement in that connection: Again in complete refutation of the advance predictions and ballyhoo of this Administration and its supporters, and to their complete dismay, the manufacturing interests of this State did not make any campaign or outcry against this tax being added to all others, new and old-local, State and National—that they are now paying, but accepted it as another burden allotted to them in this emergency, even though they knew that it is likely to force many of them out of business in this State and thus leave more wage-earners without jobs.

But the manufacturing interests of Pennsylvania did make the facts and the probable consequences of this situation entirely clear. And I say, therefore, that to whatever extent this unwise, ill-considered and vengeful course of the Governor crucifies industries and labor in this State, with all the consequences thereof that will affect every phase of community life in Pennsylvania, the responsibility will be upon the door-step of this Administration; and I, for one, will not remain silent under any untruthful propaganda of distortion and misrepresentation which attempts to place it elsewhere.

What are the facts in connection with this loong-standing exemption of manufacturing capital from this Capital Stock Tax, which exemption is now to be removed? The present Chief Executive of this Commonwealth has so misstated the truth about this subject, that for he purpose of making the matter entirely clear and perhaps affording some enlightenment to our Democratic Governor, I should like to state briefly some historical facts.

Mr. President, and fellow members of the Senate, back in 1880 the manufacturing activities of this Commonwealth were shrinking so alarmingly, the industries of this State were folding up or departing elsewhere in such numbers, that in the Legislative Sessioon of 1881 a Revenue Commission was appointed to investigate the whole situation, with especial reference to the effect of the Capital Stock Tax which at that time applied to manufacturers.

On April 25, 1883, Representative Jerome B Niles pointed out to the House that there was a general and continuous exodus of Pennsylvania manufacturing enterprises in New York, New Jersey, Ohio, West Virginia and Delaware; and the Chairman of the Revenue Commission stated: "It was the deliberate conviction of this Commission, consisting of 18 men, that this Capital Stock Tax, so far as it applied to manufacturers, should be repealed."

It was not until the subsequent session of 1885, however, that the full magnitude of the situation became apparent, when Henry W. Oliver, Jr., of Pittsburgh, perhaps the foremost industrialist in Pennsylvania in that day, appeared before a Committee of this Senate and testified that within the preceding two years only 1¼ millions of capital had entered the manufacturing industry of this State, WHILE WITHIN THE SAME PERIOD 20 TIMES THAT AMOUNT OF CAPITAL HAD GONE OUT OF MANUFACTURING IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Mr. President, I merely state the facts when I say that whole communities were withering under the blight of this tax upon the capital stock of manufacturing enterprises—this punitive tax which was deterring and destroying the initiative of men who were willing, under fair chances of making the grade, to join together in risking their savings to employ-wage-earners in the production of goods and commodities in this State. Unemployed workers and dismantled factories told the story of the tragic blunder which was ruining industrial Pennsylvania.

The Legislature wasted no further time. A Revenue Bill then before it was amended to exempt manufacturing capital from the Capital Stock Tax, and it was passed in the House by a vote of 140 to 38, or about 3 to 1, and in the Senate by a vote of 36 to 5, or more than 7 to 1. There is one more point, however, that I wish to bring out.

Mr. President, in the wisdom of the voters of this Commonwealth, Democratic Governors have been few and far between. But I venture the suggestion that it will be news to Governor Earle that it was a Democratic Governor, Robert E. Pattison, who, almost 50 years ago today, without a dissenting comment signed this exemption which the present Democratic Governor has demanded shall be withdrawn.

That Democratic Governor of 50 years ago knew something about this Commonwealth. He erected to his Administration a monument the proportions of which he could not vision at the time. That exemption brought new manufacturing plants into the State and it kept existing manufacturing establishments here from leaving the State. In brief, there began, then and there, a half century of almost uninterrupted industrial development of Pennsylvania, by which manufacturing enterprises spread to practically every corner of the Commonwealth, and by which we not only employed our own natural resources in processing the raw materials of our own State, but furnished vast additional employment for labor by likewise processing here the raw materials produced elsewhere—the cotton of the South, the wool of the West, the iron ores of Minnesota, etc.

Mr. President, that steady industrial development which came from the wise removal of a punitive tax, paid this Commonwealth, its citizens and its communities a million times over what the tax itself would have returned in a steadily diminishing revenue. It has given employment to thousands and hundreds of thousands of our people and thus established and maintained a purchasing and saving and investment power that has built up hundreds of our cities, towns, and boroughs. The manufacturing plants in these communities have supported their governments, maintained their schools, streets, parks, and police and fire departments. They have done these things both directly and indirectly, because they have made profitable merchandising possible and thereby have contributed to the growth and general welfare of our cities, towns and boroughs.

Mr. President, and fellow members of the Senate, the development which came out of the granting of this exemption gave us an industrial structure in this Commonwealth so strong in its foundations that, as Senator Reed pointed out in his speech of April 23rd, our manufacturing enterprises, despite huge losses over a period of four or five years, have been able—and willing—to reemploy workers until today they are using 75% of the number employed in 1929, at an average wage equal in purchasing power to that of the high wages of that boom year.

As was said by Senator Owlett last week, the only rebuttal of those who espouse these additional and destructive burdens on industry is the hollow and meaningless phrase: "add these costs to the price of the product." Utter nonsense in nine cases out of ten, but no more nonsensical than the suppositions of many that, at worst, only the employer and his employees are injuriously affected. I think it would be well for all who listen to such misleading and impractical advice, or who have such thoughts, to consider how the merchant in the community —not consciously perhaps, certainly not with any such deliberate intention, but inevitably and immediately, nevertheless—cuts his own throat in such a situation.

To put the illustration in its simplest possible terms, suppose that Jones, the manufacturer, has had his overhead and production costs so increased by new taxes and restrictive legislation that, in order to continue in business without operating at a constant loss, he must either reduce wages or increase the price of his product. Reluctant to cut wages, he raises prices. Smith, the merchant, is dependent upon Jones' employees for a large part of his trade. But is he going to pay Jones, say, 10c more a unit of his product when he can get the same thing from another concern in New York or New Jersey or Delaware for the old price? If he does, he soon finds that another merchant has set up in business next door and is under-selling him. And there is cut-throat competition in the raw.

Both are strangling Jones to death. Jones, therefore, is compelled to cut wages, and almost immediately he has a strike on his hands. If he compromises with only a partial wage cut, much of his market already is gone and he faces a future marked with constant controversy with dissatisfied workers. Eventually he either closes up and moves out of the State, or takes what he has left and retires from business. In either event, those who previously worked for him are added to the unemployed and immediately begin forcing down other wages in the community by competing for the jobs of workers in other plants. Merchant Smith and his competitor go into a starvation contest for the diminishing trade in the community, and eventually one or both are unable to continue to pay taxes and survive. The community has to add the loss of their taxes to the loss of the taxes from Jones' mill, and to the loss of the taxes from the unemployed workers, while in the meantime its relief costs mount and the increasing tax load falls on a diminishing number, as this deterioration and destruction continues and spreads in an everwidening circle.

Mr. President, I know something about this subject, and I have a natural and very vital concern about it, because I represent a County which, aside from Philadelphia and Allegheny, is one of the most important manufacturing counties in Pennsylvania. It is a county whose manufacturing industries, even in these times of retarded Recovery, are employing some forty thousand wage-earners at an annual payroll of approximately $50,000,000.

There are large areas in that County which are wholly industrial, with many thousands of people wholly dependent upon those manufacturing industries for their livelihoods. I have in mind a single concern in one of those areas whose taxes will be increased by $50,000 a year as a result of these two measures insisted upon by my fellow resident, the Governor of Pennsylvania, as the only alternative to chaos in unemployment relief. Yet if that plant were to close down, either by going out of business or removing elsewhere, more than 2,000 people would be thrown out of employment, more than 5,000 families would be directly affected, and a payroll of approximately 2½ millions of dollars a year would be removed from Montgomery County and the State of Pennsylvania.

Norristown, Pottstown, Conshohocken, Bridgeport—to mention only a few—are among the most thriving communities of their size in the State of Pennsylvania; but without their industries, Mr. President, they would be desolate wastes of poverty and inactivity and despair. Yet within the last two weeks I have heard of one large manufacturing concern in Montgomery County that is building a plant in a southern State; another which is building a plant in a Western State; and two others which are expanding outside of Pennsylvania.

Ample warning has been sounded in this Chamber of what has happened in like circumstances in other States. Well may the wage-earners and the merchants and all other residents of the Governor's own County—and likewise the wage-earners and the merchants and all other residents of all our other counties—pause to speculate in trepidation whether as a matter of fact the great trek of manufacturing industry away from Pennsylvania, away from vengeful legislation and punitive taxation, has not already set in irrevocably as a consequence of policies which carry their own forewarning of the costly consequences.

Mr. President, I refer again to the latest ultimatum issued by the Governor. I remind this Chamber and the people of Pennsylvania that six weeks ago the Senator from Dauphin openly charged that the Earle Administration had offered not a single constructive suggestion looking toward business and industrial Recovery in this State. The Administration has not attempted to refute that charge, but on the contrary has pursued its course of endeavoring to thrust every conceivable obstacle in the way of revived business and industry, and widened employment, in this State.

Meanwhile, Mr. President, the Supreme Court of the United States has outlawed some of the chief experiments of the National Administration and very probably will outlaw the remainder when the test comes. Among the novelties thus put into the discard was the so-called Mortgage Moratorium Act, which would have made it unnecessary for a certain class of debtors to pay their obligations.

I suggest, Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, that the time has arrived for another kind of moratorium, in this State and in the Nation—a moratorium that will immediately suspend all further legislation, State and National, until such time as we have been able to take account of the damage already done, and thus can plan intelligently the methods by which we may rid ourselves of the barnacles of theoretical experimentation, and dig our toes into a climb to a real and lasting Recovery—within the Constitution and in accord with the principles which have been the bed rock of American opportunity, achievement and progress.

Then, perhaps, it may be deservedly said of us, as it was just fifty-seven years ago this month:

"Americans, what nobler spectacle can we present to mankind today than that of a people, honest, steadfast and secure, bound together to protect our interests as our forefathers were to win them at the beginning, by the ties of virtue, honor and love of country,—by that virtue which makes perfect the happiness of people, by that honor which constitutes the chief greatness of a State; and by that liberty which survives all things, braves all things, endures all things, achieves all things, and which, though it find a refuge nowhere else, shall live forever in the hearts of the American people."

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1392, entitled:

An Act to amend section five of the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 343), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commnwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth," as amended, qualifying additional securities as acceptable for the securing of State deposits.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The Chair hears objection.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, It was intended to give the right of securing more funds, those funds of the Federal Government known as Home Loan Bonds, mortgage bonds. It was the intention of the person who drew this bill that it should be restricted to such bonds, the payment of which are guaranteed by the Federal Government. The bill does not contain that provision, and I ask unanimous consent at this time to offer an amendment to correct the situation.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. HUFFMAN.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, be kind enough to explain why he objects to this amendment?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I was at the meeting of the Banking Committee when the bill was sent out, and I know of no understanding that it was to be amended as it was turned out from the Committee. It is well known that you cannot secure these bonds by a guaranty of the Government beyond 1937. That kills the bill.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, I am sorry that the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, did not understand it. It was the intention of the Committee to restrict these bonds to the period that they would be guaranteed by the Government. At the present time there are certain bonds that are acceptable as collateral by the State for the securing of State deposits, and some of the departments here felt that it would be well to have these Home Loan bonds included and the Farm Mortgage bonds. That was perfectly agreeable to me providing they would have carried the endorsement or the assurance of the United States Government that they would guarantee the principal and interest, but if the Government refuses to guarantee them, I certainly, as Chairman of this Banking Committee, would not be willing to accept these bonds to secure deposits in the banks of the State of Pennsylvania, so that unless the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, withdraws his objections, I would say that the bill would be killed, and rightly so.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I did not understand that the bill was to be amended. It was talked over in the Committee, and I do not understand now what the amendment is that is being asked for, because as I understand it, if the Government must guarantee these bonds, this bill does not amount to anything, because they are not guaranteed beyond the year 1937.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Banking.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 1466.

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 1466, entitled:

An Act t oamend section seven hundred and eighteen of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 359) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals; and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" as amended; permitting dogs to be trained on Sunday during training season with the consent of owners of lands, except in certain cases.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I voted "no".

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I voted "no".

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is the second bill to which I referred this morning. This bill covers not only State employees, but carries the per diem employees of the Senate and House, and enlarges the Retirement Fund numbers to a point wherein there is no question about it, to my mind, the Retirement Fund would be ruined. I think before this bill is passed, we should give it further consideration, and I make the same motion in connection with this bill that I made on the one this morning, that it should be recommitted to give it further consideration.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I hope that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will not prevail. This bill has been considered twice very carefully in the Committee on State Government. The second time we had a hearing at which Mr. Fertig was present and gave us to understand very definitely that those who come in on this Retirement Fund were eligible, in fact had been held eligible under prior opinion of a Deputy Attorney General. There can be no purpose whatever in sending this bill back to the Committee on State Government. It has been thoroughly considered and, as I recall it, came out with the unanimous endorsement of that Committee.

In response to the suggestion that this would wreck the fund, I would say that Mr. Fertig, who is a director of the fund, has recommended the passage of this bill.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to urge upon the Senate the same request that the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, makes, to defeat the motion to recommit this bill. This bill is not only a matter of doing no damage to the fund, but it will be a benefit to the fund by the increase of a large number of teachers in Pennsylvania State College who would like to take advantage of the fund, and it will bring in a large capital contribution within a short period of time in the event that the bill is passed, and we have been assured that it will be a help rather than a hindrance to this fund.

These teachers in the Pennsylvania State College are denied help from the Carnegie Foundation for retirement purposes on account of the fact that it is a quasi-public institution, and this is the only way that those teachers in the institution can get any such help of this kind. I ask that the motion be defeated.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have no objection to the teachers of State College being included in the Retirement Fund. My objection to this bill is to that part of the bill on the bottom of page four and top of page five, which reads as follows:

"The term 'State employe' shall also include all State officers and employes regularly employed by the year or by the month at a fixed annual or monthly compensation when the General Assembly is not in session, but who during the legislative session instead of a fixed annual or monthly salary or compensation are paid upon a per diem basis or by a fixed salary or compensation from the legislative session."

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

RESOLUTION NO. 162.

ADVOCATING RETENTION OF LABOR STANDARDS ENACTED UNDER THE NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL RECOVERY ACT

In the House of Representatives, June 3, 1935.

Whereas, The National Industrial Recovery Act, by establishing codes of fair competition, by eliminating child labor and by setting up minimum rates of wages in coded industries, had been of incalculable benefit to the people of our nation throughout the period of the operation of that Act; and

Whereas, By decision of the Supreme Court of the United States the continued operation of the National Industrial Recovery Act is declared to be no longer constitutional; and

Whereas, The highly desirable humane results attained through the National Industrial Recovery Act can and should be retained and augmented by voluntary co-operative action to that end between employers and employes within this Commonwealth. Therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the sense of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania that the cause of social justice and the best interests of our people require the maintenance of and continuous improvement in standards of employment for all wage-earners as essential to eventual economic recovery and sustained prosperity; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly urge upon our citizenry, both employers and employes, such steps as may be necessary, in good faith, to carry out the intent of this concurrent resolution; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly augment the program outlined herein through the immediate passage of any and all pending legislation that will contribute to the social and economic welfare of the people of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Labor.

By Mr. FITCH, RESOLUTION No. 163

In the House of Representatives, June 3, 1935.

Whereas, The Philadelphia County Medical Association in a meeting in Philadelphia, attended by about 75 doctors united to oppose the creation of a Chiropractic License Board and the president of said society, Dr. Seth Brumm declared that the National Chiropractic Organization had sent $50,000 into the State to get through this vicious legislation. Said statements were published in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, May 16th, 1935; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Chiropractors' Association has not at any time attempted to use money to secure passage of House Bill No. 494, has made no promises or assumed any obligations to any Members of the Legislature; has not maintained any paid lobbyists at any time; and

Whereas, In the physicians magazine, called the "Weekly Roster and Medical Digest" issue of May 25th, 1935, Volume 30, No. 39, there appeared an article filled with many misstatements of fact, the most damaging of which is as follows: "The Chiropractics deluged these Legislators with printed cards, letters and telegrams and possibly something more substantial;" and

Whereas, The statements made by Dr. Seth Brumm and Dr. Samuel Horton Brown, editor of "The Weekly Roster and Medical Digest" are a reflection upon the honorable Members of this House and a reflection upon those Members who believe in the inherent rights of the people to have a doctor of their choice; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives ask Dr. Seth Brumm and Dr. Samuel Horton Brown to submit proof of these statements or publicly apologize to the Members of this House.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I thought that I might conserve the time of the members of the House while the Speaker was in conference and nothing particular was under consideration to make a short statement to the House. I am glad and I appreciate and I wish to thank the gentleman from Washington Mr. Brown, for granting me the opportunity to make this statement. I, however, do not want you to think that this is in any way facetious. I believe that we are all tremendously interested and I think that the most important question before this Legislature during this entire Session has been the financial question. I think that every member of this House is interested to know what is going to happen as far as the finances of the State are concerned in the next three weeks of this Session, and what is the financial picture at the present time. For the last month at least we have been rather busily engaged in work on the general appropriation bill and on other appropriations. It was not until yesterday morning that I felt we could get the first picture of the situation as it exists. Therefore, I am going to ask your indulgence to let me read you this statement which is rather full of figures but which I trust you can follow as we go along.

The Governor, in his budget message presented in February of the year, recommended new revenues of $203,267,260 for the purpose of balancing the budget for the biennium ending May 31, 1937. Subsequently a tax program was introduced in the House which it was estimated by the Administration would raise approximately $213,000,000.

This program with one or two exceptions was passed by the House and sent to the Senate.

After a number of conferences on the part of the Governor and the Republicans of the Senate, it was agreed to enact legislation to raise $120,000,000 in new taxes, the receipts for the first year to be applied to unemployment relief.

The Governor has now informed the Senate that in addition to the 120,000,000 already agreed upon, the additional sum of $56,000,000 will have to be secured during the first year of the biennium, and therefore additional taxes will have to be levied.

In his budget message the Executive estimated the ordinary revenues from existing measures to produce $128,388,995. The receipts from the General Fund from the biennium just clolsed amounted to $186,000,000. This included $25,000,000 of money received from a bond issue, and $9,000,000 repaid the State by the Delaware River Bridge Commission. If this be deducted from the $186,000,000 received, the balance is $152,000,000 which is about $1,000,000 less than the amount set forth in the budget message as the anticipated revenue for the biennium.

It has been stated by the State Treasurer that the Governor's estimate of $128,000,000 plus, for the biennium of 1953-1937 is $20,000,000 less than the amount which may fairly be expected to be received.

In view of the fact that the revenue for the past biennium was $152,000,000 after making the above deductions, it may safely be figured that the revenues for the coming biennium from comparative sources with the last biennium, should reach the total of $150,000,000 in spite of the fact that in the last biennium the State received large payment from the Dorrance estate.

Corporate income have been on the increase and prices of stocks and bonds have advanced from twenty-five to fifty percent in recent months with every expectation that this advance will at least be held. This will have an effect upon the tax returns to the State, both from corporations and from estates, which should make up the difference occasioned by the receipt of so unusual an amount as the said tax in the Dorrance estate.

If we accept the estimate of $148,388,995 and add to this the $120,000,000 of new taxes, the Governor's estimate of $10,000,000 from the Liquor Store profits, $3,000,000 yet due from the Dorrance estate, and $11,000,000 of uncollected liquor floor tax, the total estimated revenues in the General Fund for the next biennium will be $292,388,995.

The total appropriation liability to which the General Fund revenues would be applied amounts to $297,746,869.44, including the General Appropriation Bill as sent to the Senate, unemployment relief, unpaid General Appropriation liabilities of 1933-1935, the Department Deficiency Bill, the return of monies borrowed from Special Funds, Old Age Assistance, Pensions for the Blind, Mothers' Assistance, State-aided Hospitals, State-aided Homes, Universities and Colleges, educational institutions, and for the care of the insane, the incorrigible and other items including the amount necessary for the Constitutional Convention.

This would leave an excess of disbursements over revenues of $5,357,874.22.

If we assume the revenues for the next biennium will reach $150,000,000, there should be deducted from the above amount $1,611,005, leaving a balance of $3,746,869.44.

At this time, before the General Appropriation Bill has passed the Senate and before it is possible to determine the exact amount that will have to be added to the above figures by reason of the appropriation items that are not included in the above statement but which may become liabilities if certain Bills are passed, it is safe to assume that the total difference between the disbursements and revenues will be about $5,000,000.

This amount, to wit, $5,000,000 is far below the demand of the Governor for the $56,000,000 of additional revenue.

The following is a recapitulation of the above figures:

Revenues as estimated by the Governor	$128,388,995
Which we claim is underestimated by	20,000,000	$148,388,995
Uncollected Liquor Floor Tax		11,000,000
Due from the Dorrance Estate—Inheritance Tax		3,000,000
Estimated Liquor Store Profits (Governor's)		10,000,000
Estimated New Taxes for 1935-1936		60,000,000
Estimated New Taxes for 1936-1937		60,000,000
Total Estimated Revenues		$292,388,995
Total Disbursements as per financial report		$297,746,869.44
Total estimated Revenues		292,388,995.00
Excess of Disbursements over Revenue		$ 5,357,874.44
Deduct, if estimated revenues be raised to $5,000,000		1,611,005.00
Amount of additional revenue needed		$ 3,746,869.44

If all obligations are to be met promptly, the State will have unusual expenditures to meet during the first year of the biennium. Were the State like an ordinary business, or even like a municipality where it could borrow money to tide it over temporarily, it would be possible, with the addition of a small increase in taxes above the $120,000,000 already agreed upon, to balance the budget and meet all obligations during the next biennium.

During the first year of the biennium the State will have to pay unpaid General Fund Appropriation liabilities from the last biennium amounting to $10,620,000. Also the sum of $5,941,121.20, being the amount of Departmental deficiencies. By December 1st, 1935, at least a portion of certain monies borrowed from Special Funds amounting to $23,043,000, will have to be returned, making a total of $39,604,121.20. All these items are included in the total appropriation liabilities as above set forth and can be met from the contemplated revenues for the biennium 1935-1937. But all of this amount will not have to be met during the first year of the biennium as the State will be able to shift the payment of much of this as it has done during the last two years when it was short of ready cash.

The problem is therefore (1) to determine how much this item can be scaled down (2) whether some scheme may not be devised to produce greater returns during the first year than now anticipated and (3) failing these, to increase the revenue during the first year by additional taxes which may be dropped at the end of that period.

This does not appear to be an unsurmountable task if there can be cooperation between all parties.

Section 10 Effective Date This act shall be effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have been advised it would be a very unpopular move to speak against the Sunday movies bill. No one wishes to become unpopular and I assure you I do not, but being a freshman republican, I have adopted certain policies since I have been in the House. First, when a purely partisan measure is discussed on the floor of this House, I follow the leaders of the Republican party, choosing to be guided by their wisdom and experience. Second, when other controversial bills are discussed, I vote for these bills as I think for the best interests of the people of the state of Pennsylvania, and in particular of the people in my own community, Armstrong County. Third, when a bill is presented which involves a moral principle, I reserve the right to vote for or against this measure according to the dictates of my own conscience, and I believe that this should be accorded to each and every member of this House, whether they agree with me in the discussion of this bill or not. You will all agree with me, however, that since 1929 our country has been passing through the greatest crisis in its entire history. A once proud and a happy people have been forced through no reason of their own to accept a disguised dole; mothers and fathers and children, once contented and happy have seen the roof over the heads sold; they have been cast adrift, with no place to go and no work to do. Many men in our country high in the councils of our country have seen their life's work literally swept away and in a moment of weakness these men have sought to escape the penalty by taking their own lives. I ask the members of this House why these conditions prevail. You have listened, I have no doubt with a great deal of interest, to many learned men who have told you that this is the aftermath of the war, and if that be true, I pray that every man in this House and every woman too, pledge themselves forthwith against any future war. However you have listened to a group of equally learned men who already told you that this crisis has been a result of the breaking up of the capitalistic system. Members of the House, these deductions are based upon certain facts, but I say to you that in my opinion the direct cause of our trouble is that we as a people have forgotten God, we have failed to keep his commandments.

I ask you to think back with me of another people many years ago who miraculously were led out of bondage and were led into the promised land, where they were successful and happy as long as they were faithful. They were led into the error of thinking that their success was due to their own wisdom and they forgot their deliverer and they have ceased to be a nation.

Just a few hundred years ago a band of stalwart men, Christian men and women, settled our country, and the first thing they did was to dedicate this country of ours to the Glory of God and the advancement of the Christian faith, and the United States of America became a veritable second promised land.

They found our soil fertile; they found our forests bounding with great trees, our hills literally filled with valuable minerals. We prospered and we built great churches, we built schools, hospitals, and we became the greatest country in all of the world, but we too have fallen into the error of thinking that this was the result of our own wisdom and have actually forgotten our God until we have shown a complete disregard for his Commandments, and now on this fourth day of June, you ask the members of the House to desecrate and commercialize and profain his own day, just one out of seven. They tell us that in other states they have desecrated and commercialized the Sabbath Day. This may be true, but I appeal to you to vote against Pennsylvania desecrating the Sabbath.

As Pennsylvania was the Keystone state of our country, let it become the Keystone state in the re-building of our country and rededicating it to the glory of God and the advancement of the Christian Faith. I say to these men and women today that if they dedicate themselves and the country follows their lead, I can say without fear of contradiction that this depression and this crisis will pass from this country as the mist before the morning sun.

In conclusion may I read what some of our leaders, statesmen and Presidents, have to say with regard to the Sabbath.

First I will start with George Washington: "The Commander in Chief directs that divine service be performed every Sunday at 11 o'clock. Valley Forge, Pa.—1777."

Abraham Lincoln, "the present Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy, desires and endorses the orderly observance of the Sabbath day by the officers and men in the military and naval service. The discipline and character of the national forces should not suffer, nor the cause they defend be imperiled by the profanation of the day or name of the Most High. 1862".

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the President of the United States, "I extend congratulations and best wishes on the occasion of the forty-fifth anniversary of the Lord's Day Alliance of the United States. The object of your organization is in my opinion, a very worthy one and the efforts of its members toward successful attainment of such a goal are deserving of the highest praise."

Rodger Babson, the great statistician:

"The three greatest factors in the development of the American Nation and its prosperity have been Sunday observance, family prayers, and church attendance. Moreover, the future of our Nation depends on holding unto these great fundamental forces, especially Sunday observance, which is basic to all."

The late Cardinal Gibbons, "The institution of the Sabbath has contributed more to the peace and good order of nations than could be accomplished by standing armies and the best organized police force."

Russell Brougher, "America is founded upon four mighty pillars; the family, the church, the school, and the Sabbath. If we tamper with any one of these the Nation is bound to suffer. The desecration of the Sabbath day has much to do with the present breaking up of family life, decay of morals, and youthful delinquency."

I ask the members of this House to vote "no" on this bill and to keep from tearing down any one of these pillars that might wreck our Nation.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have lived in many cities where they have Sunday movies, and I can say to you that the Sunday movies have not affected the church attendance. In fact, in those cities the churches have been as well attended as they have been in any other cities or any other towns in Pennsylvania.

We are not desecrating the Sunday. I do not hear anybody's voice raised against the rich man who can go out and play golf on Sunday, or against the man who can play polo on Sunday.

The only amusement the poor man has is to go to the movies. The movies are not going to open until the church is through. They do not open until two o'clock in the afternoon. It is not going to interfere with anybody going to church, but if you are going to legislate to force a man to go to church, he will not go to church. A man will go to church of his own free will and will not be forced to go to church. I say to you that if you vote against this bill you are voting against the poor man's only amusement, that man who works and toils, and I speak as one who represents an industrial district,—that man who toils in a mill.

On Sunday, where would he go? You know where he will go if he hasn't a place to go for amusement. He will either go to a speakeasy and get drunk, and I know—

I may add that I know. Why deny the man the chance to go to an amusement, to take his family to an amusement, to bring his wife and children after they have their dinner and go to see a show? I ask you not to deny the poor man, who works hard, the right to have a little amusement on Sunday afternoon, the man who does not have an automobile the right to go out into the country to enjoy nature. The only chance he has is to go to his neighboring theatre and see a good picture.

I ask the members of the House to vote in favor of this bill and give the poor working man a chance to get a little bit of amusement.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask you to grant me a few minutes of your time, in which I wish to oppose the passage of this bill. I, as a member of this House, do not feel that I want to sit quietly by while this kind of bill passes through this House and becomes a law of this State.

You know and I know this Legislature in the past has not been in the habit of passing this kind of legislation. You know and I know for more than one hundred years, more than a century, the members of this House have refused to consider or at least have defeated every bill of this kind that came up before them. That was true for more than one hundred years and was only broken by the last session of the Legislature in 1933, when that century old record was broken and a "Sunday bill," as they call it, a bill whose intent and purpose was to repeal the fourth commandment, was passed. There are many thoughtful people in this state today who will tell you and believe today that that marked the decline and decadence of the Republican party, and that at the next election the Republican dynasty went down to defeat, just like nations and people in the years gone by, that forgot God, have gone down to oblivion. There are those who mock and scoff, and snear at this statement. To those, the thoughtful people simply say "turn back the pages of history and you will find all down through the ages, from the days of antiquity until now, the nations that forgot God were destroyed."

They also tell you that history repeats itself. Those nations that have gone down were as powerful and rich and mighty in their day as the United States is today, but that didn't make any difference, and in the end oblivion was the result just the same.

A new order of things has now come over the State, a new ruler has taken the reins of this government; surrounded by new lieutenants, a new dynasty has come into power. They come with the pledges of a new deal, the dawn of a new day, the forgotten man is going to be remembered and brought into his own, and they are going to prove to us that human rights are more important rights than property rights. We hope they are going to do it, and we honestly believe that they are trying to do it.

And now, let me here and now say to them that in order to do all those things they need not repeal, break down or defy the laws of the God of this great Universe, and that is what the intent and purpose of this bill before us means to do. It is a direct disregard of the fourth commandment, and I contend that the ten commandments are the "constitution of Christian Civilization," and stand as such and have stood as such for thousands of years and will stand as such when the members of this House have gone elsewhere. I feel, gentlemen, that it is a shame and a disgrace for this House to go on record to defy the Creator of this Universe by passing a bill to repeal one of his commandments. Those ten commandments, standing as they do, as the "constitution of the Christian civilization," have given this nation of ours the most enviable position among all the nations of the earth. It was Christian civilization that did it. We owe everything in this world that is worth having to Christian civilization. Our churches, our colleges, our schools, our orphan asylums, our welfare organizations, every good thing in this life, owes its origin to Christian civilization.

Is there a woman in this House or in this state or in this Nation that would vote to repeal one of the laws one article of the "Constitution of Christian Civilization?"

It was "Christian Civilization" that inaugurated and established the marriage institution, that in turn established the home, that in turn gave to women the position of wife and mother, and made necessary the coining of two of the most sacred words in our language, "home" and "mother." It raised woman from being a beast of burden, a slave, a chattel, a pawn in the hands of men, to be an honored member of society, the equal and peer of man, standing shoulder to shoulder with him in every department of life, the mother of his children, the queen of his home, and mother of future generations. That is what the constitution of Christian Civilization did for all womankind and one of those articles is what we are trying to repeal here today.

Members of this House, in your own individual life you have to answer only for yourself but as members of this House, you go on record as placing your seal of approval on a bill to repeal one of God's commandments.

May I illustrate just for a moment? While Calvin Coolidge was governor of Massachusetts, the police force in Boston went on strike, and for a week the city of Boston was the scene of wild disorder, robberies, murders, every kind of disorder and the Governor had to call the state troops to quell it, and at that time Calvin Coolidge coined one of his now famous expressions, "public officials, either elected or appointed charged with the duty of maintaining the peace, the welfare and safety of the public, never have a right to strike." That statement more than any one thing put Calvin Coolidge into the Presidential chair, and it sent those policemen back to shovelling coal and digging sewers.

That statement is now an unwritten law of the land, with almost the force of an amendment to the constitution.

The situation here today is not exactly parallel but similar. The members of this House were elected by the people, charged with the duty of passing wise and beneficient laws, to maintain the peace, welfare, and safety of the people of this great state. We therefore never have a right to strike against or oppose the laws of the Creator of this Universe. That is what we will do if we pass this bill.

Just a few weeks ago we were glad to suspend our deliberations in this House while we paid a tribute to the memory of Thaddeus Stevens. We were glad to pause in our work and hear our colleague read the oration or the speech of this man Thaddeus Stevens, pleading for public funds for the education of the school children of this great state,—free schools in Pennsylvania.

That man with the magic of his eloquence and the power of his logic, carried a hostile legislature with him and instead of repealing the bill which had been passed the year before, it was continued as law and has been the law for more than one hundred years. Do any of you members doubt for a moment how Thaddeus Stevens would vote if he stood on the floor of this House today? Do you think for a moment that a man who was so interested that he would give his very self for the cause of free schools, would willingly throw temptation in the way of those boys and girls?

It must have been such a man as Thaddeus Stevens that inspired the poet to say:

"The lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime
And departing leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time."

Do you know which way the footprints of Thaddeus Stevens are pointing? Are they pointing towards Sunday movies, race tracks, gambling halls, saloons, and brothels, or are they pointing to schools, colleges and the nobler things of life?

One hundred years from now when your descendants sit in the seats you now occupy, will you be glad or sorry for the way you voted today.

Let us vote, members of this House, like we think Thaddeus Stevens would vote, if he stood here today, and if you do that, I am satisfied that all through this great state of Pennsylvania, more people will bless the Legislature that still stands foursquare against the desecration of the Sabbath day.

"Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it Holy" is just as sacred now as it was thousands of years ago when it was uttered and the people of this state and majority leaders and members of this House in my humble opinion dare not ignore that command.

I ask the members of this House to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as a minister I know that in many circles I will be criticized for speaking in support of this measure, but I have had experience a long time in cities that have the open Sunday, or Sunday movies, and I have had experience in cities that did not have Sunday movies. For a number of years I was assistant Pastor in New York City in a large church that seated about two thousand people, and right around the corner from this church was a moving picture house. Despite that fact, we hardly had room to seat the people that came to church both morning and evening.

To my mind vital religion does not need the support of civil law. I believe that pure religion will always be able to make its rightful appeal to the hearts of men and women everywhere, regardless of whatever competition may be offered from other sources.

I would like to inquire where some of these people were, these ministers of the gospel, who came and interviewed me and others, and I would like to know where were they when we were fighting to put through certain social legislation for the benefit of the masses of the people. We have passed in this House bills to prevent discrimination in the public works and in public places and to give all of the citizens of this Commonwealth an equal opportunity to share in this recovery program, and in all of our fights for these bills not a word of encouragement, not a word of support was received from any of these so-called sabbatarians. They were silent.

I believe with the great man of Nazareth that the Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath.

I believe that we ought to allow the people of this Commonwealth an opportunity to decide on such a measure as this, according to the dictates of their own conscience and in their own respective communities. This law does not say that we must have Sunday movies. It simply says that the people in the various municipalities shall have the right to vote and to say whether or not they want these movies on Sunday.

There are just about two things that the minority groups have left today in this country, that is, the ballot and the court, and I say to you that whenever we vote to abridge the right of the people to vote on any measure we are defeating the very ends of democracy and we are aiding tyranny that we all despise. The people from my district want an opportunity to vote on this subject of Sunday movies, and I want to give them an opportunity that we might set up a standard of liberalism in this state that will give freedom to the people.

We do not need to try to force people to go to church, and if these ministers and others who are interested in the progress of religion would spend more time trying to make their church services more attractive and make religion more appealing to the masses of the people, then they would have very little opportunity to complain and to fear competition from any other source.

So, in the interest of democracy, in the interest of vital religion, in the interest of liberty for all the people, I ask the members of this House to vote in favor of this democratic measure.

Mr. SURFACE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I cannot conscientiously let pass the opportunity to say a word in protest against the passing of this measure.

In the first place, I want to call your attention to the fact that the title of this bill states in a negative manner, and I always suspicion a thing that makes a negative statement and purports to prohibit that which it seeks to advance. For example, this is said to be an act prohibiting motion pictures and sound motion pictures, instead of prohibiting them, and so forth, "on Sunday during certain hours and also during other hours unless the electors of a municipality prove thereof."

There are two main features of this bill. The first is the establishment of legislation permitting Sunday movies. The second is the feature of local option by municipalities.

Concerning the first, I would say that Pennsylvania is yet the Quaker state with a reputation that becomes an exemplar among other states for good legislation. If we break down these things which are good and well-established, what can we offer in their place?

Concerning the local option feature with the voting of municipalities, I would call your attention to the fact that there are several hundred municipalities in this state that have no moving pictures whatever. There has been no demand for this bill or its provisions in the county that I present. I represent a rural district in which the people are the kind referred to by the expression, "Ye are thee salt of the earth."

There is no demand whatever in my district for the passage of this bill, legalizing moving pictures on the Sabbath Day.

As far as the ministry is concerned, I have received many letters from ministers and from many others opposing the passage of this bill, and I feel that when we consider its possible influence, that we will stand firm for such legislation that has already made Pennsylvania famous and will keep her so.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there isn't much than can be said for or against this bill that has not already been said upon the floor of this House. There is very little that I might say to you listening here that would change your vote, but I do wish to call to your attention something that struck me rather forcibly in all of the comment that I have received upon this bill and all of the comments that were made at the time the public hearing was given, and that is that while in the state of Pennsylvania there are today approximately one hundred communities who are allowing Sunday movies, that no Sabbath association, no Sunday School association, no minister of the Gospel from any of those towns who came before us or told me that they were against Sunday movies, that in their home town Sunday movies have been the bane of the existence of the good church people of those communities.

It is strange indeed that rather than hearing condemnation in the places in which the movies are now allowed, we who have sponsored this bill and those of us who believe that the state of Pennsylvania should be entitled to say whether or not the people should have Sunday movies, received from our ministerial associations only favorable comments, and nothing unfavorable.

It strikes me rather forcibly that those of you who have not made up your minds should strongly consider that point and should decide that there might be something good in the Sunday movies when those who have them are still maintaining them, and when those who have them find that there is something good in them, and that they contributed to church going rather than to detract therefrom.

Rev. Shepard very ably contrasted New York where he once was with Philadelphia, where he now is. While I very much like to use any personal reference, I do not believe that Mr. McCreary, who happens to be a colleague of mine, can say that Sunday movies have taken the little children away from the churches and put them into dens of iniquity. I do not believe that Sunday movies in my home town and in Mr.Creary's home county have made racketeers and gamblers of all of us. At least I can assume that they have not done so in Mr. McCreary's case.

I hold no brief and would hold no brief for a Sunday movie bill that would force upon the people of Pennsylvania, that would force upon any community of Pennsylvania, something that that they did not want, but I no not believe that we who have it should not be allowed to say that that is legal. While we have it with public sanction and with the sanction of those very Sabbath associations whom some of you members say are against it, while we have it with that sanction, I believe you in this House should say to us that we can have it legally, if we so desire, and that we will not be criminals because we want what we find is good for us.

So I ask you, men of this House, and you women, too, to say that those of us who have Sunday movies can have it legally, and those of us who want them and those of you who want them, can have them legally, also to the end that good government will be best served in Pennsylvania. I know that it will not detract from your conscience, that you will not have to go home hanging your heads in shame, because you have taken something from the great state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I learned last week of a statement of fact which was very interesting to me and I believe it will be interesting to the members of this House, that one-sixteenth of all the people that attend Sunday School in the world live in Pennsylvania; that one-ninth of all the people in the United States that attend Sunday School live in Pennsylvania. Do we want to take away from Pennsylvania that enviable position it now holds? Will the Sunday movie bill have a tendency to do that? It will, because there are children today that are attending Sunday School at the very hour which by the passage of this bill would place them in a position where it would either be Sunday School or the movies. To my mind the children of our great state at the present time would rather, if left to them, attend the movies than attend Sunday School.

Shall we tear down that which our forefathers have built and upheld through all these years of legislation in Pennsylvania?

Sunday is the day on which to worship. Are we right in believing that the poor class of people should have Sunday to attend the movies because of so much work during the week. At the present time we work forty hours a week and we are fast coming to thirty hours. Does that give the working class of people any time to around the movies? I think it will be a step backward if at this time this State should pass a bill that will tempt our children.

As fathers and mothers, where would you sooner your child would be on Sunday, in the movies or at Sunday School?

I certainly have every confidence in this House, that as parents of children and for the generations to come that we will again uphold the traditions of all of the men and women who have gathered in this House in previous years and vote this measure down.

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentlean from Erie, Mr. Barber.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Barber, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARBER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask Mr. Barber, in writing his bill why he excludes people from going to moving pictures from April 1st to September 30th? I say to you as sponsor of this bill, why did you do that?

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I did not hear the gentleman. Will the gentleman please repeat his question?

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Erie is the sponsor of this bill—.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, one of the sponsors.

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Schwartz is really the sponsor, is he not?

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I would not say that. There were three bills submitted in the first instance, I was the sponsor of one of those bills, Mr. Schwartz was the sponsor of another and Mr. Melchiorre was the sponsor of the third. These bills were combined to make the present bill, of which I am one of the sponsors.

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman why in his bill he closes the movies from April first until September thirtieth? Why not keep them open during the summer time as well as in the winter?

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, the movies will be open in the summer as well as in the winter.

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker, it does not say that in the bill. It says that they are closed from April first until September thirtieth.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, the bill has reference to the time at which the movies may open from April first until Septembere thirtieth to allow for daylight savings in some communities, but it does not say that movies will not be permitted during that time. I might say that the movies will be permitted all year around, if they are permitted at all. During that period of time, however, in some sections they have daylight saving time and so we draw the bill to allow for that. That is what we have reference to.

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker, I understand the bill would not allow it to run from April first to September thirtieth. Was that so you people could go to see a baseball game on Sunday?

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, no, you can go to the movies on Sunday.

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Schwartz went over to see Mr. Pinchot the last time and said, "Local option" and he got Pinchot to believe it was local option, and now, to have the Democrats vote with him, he comes to Mr. Barber and Mr. Melchiorre to sponsor the bill with him, to get the Democratic vote.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I might say to the gentleman that I allowed my name to be used with Mr. Schwartz's and Mr. Melchiorre's because I felt that Sunday movies were a good thing, believing that the measure was one that should be as non-partisan as possible. I further believe that with this bill going through the House, going over to the Senate, it would have a much better chance of getting through there if it had a Republican name on it.

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to oppose this bill. I do not belong to any church whatsoever. I go to church once in a while. Relative to having movies on Sunday, we have Sabbath schools for children. If the people of Philadelphia want a bill like this, why don't they make it for first class cities instead of having local option. The people in my town go to Philadelphia and disobey the laws of the Sabbath. We have six days to go to the moving pictures, and I think that is plenty and I advise all the members to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is not long since I heard a minister of this House say that he thanked God that he was not an attorney. I want to say to you that I thank God that I am not a minister of the Gospel that would get up and insult the intelligence of this audience by saying that he was for Sunday movies—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is out of order. Personal reflections are not permitted in debate. The gentleman will confine himself to the subject of the discussion.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, in my mind, we make a mistake by commercializing the day that was given to us to serve the Lord, and those of us who think that we can do that and that we can take those things into our hands are making the greatest mistake that we could make. So I say to you that if you are true servants of the Lord, Jesus Christ, you will vote against this bill.

Mr. ARNOLD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have on my desk a petition and request from more than two thousand two hundred citizens of Fayette County, representing more than thirty organizations, requesting me and the rest of the Fayette County delegation to oppose this bill. I consider these people among the best in Fayette County, and concurring in their opinion, I pass this appeal of twenty two hundred people on to you, members of the House, and ask you to oppose this bill.

MOTION TO EXPUNGE

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, if it is in order at the present time, I would like to move that the remarks of Mr. Stewart as a reflection against my colleague, Reverend Shepard, be expunged from the record.

Th SPEAKER. The motion is not in order at this time. It can be made after the main question is disposed of.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as a co-sponsor of House Bill No. 1703, it becomes my duty to inform you of a fact which you doubtless all know well, namely, that the purpose of this bill is to legalize the exhibition of moving pictures on Sunday throughout the state of Pennsylvania during certain stated hours.

I should first like to read to you excerpts of the Inaugural addresses by our present Speaker, the Honorable Wilson G. Sarig, and the Honorable Grover C. Talbot, Speaker of this House during the session of 1933.

"I shall try to give fair and impartial treatment to every member regardless of party or political affiliations.

"Now that this body is duly organized as required by the Constitution, our first duty is to consider those things that will promote the peace, comfort and happiness of our ten millions of citizens. It is only by a contented citizenry that a representative form of government may be lasting.

"We cease from now on to be Republicans, Democrats, Socialists and Independents. We are Pennsylvanians, here to labor for the common good of all.

"This is a period wherein our form of government is meeting a test such as no Legislature has confronted in our generation.

"Our first duty lies in each individual representing his or her particular district, and then those things that affect the entire population of our Commonwealth."

Those remarks, as I have stated, were made by the gentlemen named. They are a matter of record in this House.

Permit me also to read from the record of this Session the address of His Excellency, the Governor of Pennsylvania, given on January 25, 1935, at the opening of the 1935 Session, when His Excellency, the Governor, addressed the Senate and House in joint session:

"I give this Legislature my pledge that it will find me always open to suggestion, ready to cooperate. On fundamentals, of course, I will not compromise because I cannot. I was elected on certain pledges. I owe it to the people of Pennsylvania to do my utmost to carry out those pledges. Your obligation is the same.

"Revision is many years overdue. It is the falsest sort of consistency to believe we can remain unchanged while the world moves around us. It is the weakest statesmanship that will try to apply solutions worked out for one set of conditions to an entirely different set. The Constitution of 1874 is not appropriate to the Pennsylvania of 1935.

"The present Constitution is the fourth since the Declaration of Independence and the third since the adoption of the Constitution of the United States. New constitutions were approved by the people in 1790, 1838, and the last time in 1874."

I fully agree with His Excellency, the Governor, that if the Constitution of 1874 is not appropriate for the Pennsylvania of 1935 then we must surely agree that the Blue Laws of 1794 are not in time with the Pennsylvania of 1935.

No one will deny that the first principle of democracy demands that the people themselves have the right to make the law, and therefore it is fitting and proper that each community should be given the right to decide whether the Blue Law should be modified in the community.

The Pennsylvania Sunday Blue Law of 1794 is violated every Sunday by most of the people in the State. It is impossible to stop people from doing "wordly" acts on Sunday.

Who does not ride in his automobile on Sunday for pleasure? Who does not purchase candy, ice cream and cigars from candy shops on Sunday? Who does not ride in trolley cars, trains and buses on Sunday? Who does not purchase gasoline and oil on Sunday? Who does not use electric and gas on Sunday? And who does not use the telephone on Sunday?

All such things are in violation of the present Sunday Law.

Public sentiment is against these antiquated laws of 1794. They reflect upon our common sense, and are devoid of equal justice and civil rights. They deny the equality of all citizens, before the civil law, and the bar of justice. They are intolerant, unjust, unfair, and un-American, and the State Legislature is fully justified, in submitting the question to the people on a popular referendum, at the next election.

A law that can not be sustained by public sentiment breeds contempt for all law and authority.

For years anyone with money enough to be a member of a club could play golf or tennis on Sunday morning or afternoon, with caddies working on Sunday during church service, and in the evening could attend a moving picture or theatrical show. These privileges are open to only those who have the price to pay.

This unjust and unfair discrimination in favor of the rich and against the poor exists under the Act of 1794 in our Commonwealth today.

Some people believe that repeal of the Sunday laws is striking a blow. That it will empty our churches and cause irreligion to spring up. But the repeal of the Sunday laws in California, Oregon, and in other states, has just the opposite effect.

These states are able to boast of the largest church attendance of any state in the Union in proportion to their population. There are five states which have repealed all their Sunday laws, and yet these states have suffered no moral relapse.

The working man does not have to work seven days each week in these states since its Sunday laws were repealed. Sunday is better observed in these states that have repealed their Sunday Blue Laws, and their statistics show that more people attend church service than is the case in the states that still have Sunday Blue Laws.

People cannot be made good by law.

It might be well to point out that the ideas of the people in various parts of the country, as well as in different times, vary widely on Sunday observance.

The sentiment of one generation or one set of people in regard to what should and should not be forbidden is usually far different from that of the generation that precedes or follows.

It is in a spirit of fairness and moderation that I point out to you that the ideas of the country are growing and broadening and that no individual or set of individuals has the moral or legal right to impose his beliefs upon others.

In speaking of Sunday movies—it is a fact that most people seek recreation on Sunday and the more opportunities there are for them to find good wholesome recreation, the less likely will there be to find the other sort.

It is a good deal better for people who are not religiously inclined to have Sunday recreation and pastimes than to be idle all day or have them frequent back alleys and dens of vice. The devil always finds plenty for idle hands to do.

In Philadelphia, at the approach of our great Delaware River bridge, connecting us with the State of New Jersey, every Sunday afternoon you can get on a bus that will take you to any moving picture house or theatre in New Jersey.

Not only are the buses violating the Pennsylvania law, but the State of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey have toll collectors standing at the approach of the bridge on the New Jersey side who collect twenty-five cent pieces on Sunday, as well as on any other day in the week. Is that fair play to our people in Pennsylvania?

As you know, New Jersey modified her Blue Law last session to permit moving pictures and theatres to be open on Sunday afternoon.

There are only seven states in the entire Union that do not grant a referendum or a right to the people to decide the question of Sunday baseball and Theatrical performances, and our great Keystone State of Pennsylvania is included in these seven states.

It may interest you to note that in 1794 the population of the city of Philadelphia was 32,834, which comprised 13,833 women, 5,270 boys under the age of sixteen, and 210 slaves. And, according to the first census of the United States taken in 1790, the total population of Pennsylvania was 434,373, of which there were 3,737 slaves.

The boundary lines of the city of Philadelphia during that time were from Vine Street to South Street, and from the Delaware River to the Schuylkill River.

At the 1933 Session of the General Assembly I sponsored the Sunday Sports Bill which allowed the people of Pennsylvania to decide whether or not they favored Sunday sports. It is interesting to note that in Philadelphia 390,500 people voted for Sunday sports. A majority of 5½ to 1. The people of Philadelphia overwhelmingly showed their sentiments to be against the antiquated Blue Laws.

In this connection, in order to save the valuable time of this House, Mr. Speaker, I am going to ask permission to incorporate in this record a communication from His Excellency, Governor Pinchot, together with a statement made by that gentleman upon signing the Sunday Sports Bill on April 25, 1933. The letter and the statement read as follows:

"LETTER FROM GOVERNOR PINCHOT

Harrisburg, January 7, 1935.

"Hon. Louis Schwartz,
924 West Girard Avenue
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Mr. Schwartz:

Before I leave the Governor's Office I want to tell you how deeply I appreciate all the help that you, both personally and as a Member of the House of Representatives, have given me, and how warmly I thank you for it.

We have fought shoulder to shoulder for things that are worthwhile—for the honor and welfare of the State, for the rights of the people, and above all for the security and happiness of every family in Pennsylvania.

These great purposes do not change. No matter who is in office, the fight for them must go on.

Your grateful friend,

GIFFORD PINCHOT."

TEXT OF GOVERNOR PINCHOT'S STATEMENT ON SIGNING THE SUNDAY SPORTS BILL
APRIL 25, 1933

"After long and most careful consideration, I have just signed the bill to let communities decide by a majority vote whether they want Sunday baseball, because I am convinced that the people can be trusted to decide this matter for themselves.

"I am emphatically opposed to the commercialization of the Sabbath. But in a state which has Sunday trains, Sunday concerts, Sunday golf, Sunday tennis and a host of Sunday activities of many kinds, the possible addition of baseball and football between the hours of 2 and 6, if the people of any locality vote for it, will not seriously change the present picture.

"For years anyone with money enough to play golf or tennis on Sunday morning or afternoon has been free to do so—law or no law.

"Golf, with its young caddies working on Sunday, has been tolerated during Church services for those who had the price. For those who did not have the price there was no corresponding recreation, even when Church service were not being held.

"This unjust discrimination in favor of the rich and against the poor which has thus existed is one of my strongest reasons for signing this bill.

"We are urged not to abandon the Puritan Sabbath. As a matter of fact, the Puritan Sabbath in Pennsylvania was abandoned generations ago.

"The Bible specifically lays down the principle that the Sabbath was made for man and not made for the Sabbath. I believe that principle is wide enough to cover healthy outdoor recreation on Sunday afternoon.

"After consultation with the Attorney General, I attach little importance to the legal arguments advanced against this bill.

"But I do attach great importance to the arguments of those of my friends who conscientiously believe the bill is wrong. They have urged me to veto it. I have considered their reasons at great length. I would be glad to see eye to eye with them in this matter and I am genuinely sory that I cannot do as they wish.

"I can only ask those who differ with me to respect my convictions as I respect theirs."

Now, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have a compilation of the vote cast for and against Sunday Sports in the various counties of Pennsylvania. This is the only accurate record of that vote that I know of, and I should like to make it a part of this record.

I have received hundreds of resolutions and communications urging the passing of this measure from business associations, social organizations, veterans' organizations of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, political organizations, the American Federation of Labor and many other bodies. I have here a copy of a resolution that was adopted unanimously by the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor at its annual convention held on May 16, 1935, signed by the various labor organizations representing the entire state of Pennsylvania, from Philadelphia, Scranton, Harrisburg, Altoona, Allentown, Pittsburgh, Norristown, Easton, Lancaster, York, Sunbury, Williamsport, New Kensington, Shomokin, Chester Johnstown, Coaldale, Reading, New Castle and other communities.

The only letter that I have received in opposition to this bill was from the Lord's Day Alliance of Pennsylvania, the general secretary being the Reverend William B. Forney, and I am happy to state to you, ladies and gentlemen of this House, that four of their five objections have been removed in this bill that we are considering here today.

The first objection was that this bill makes it mandatory for every municipality to vote on this question at the election next November. That is correct, because they did not want to allow the legalization of Sunday moving pictures in Pennsylvania until each and every municipality shall have had an opportunity to vote thereupon. One of the reasons for doing that has been that we had legal controversies about the referendum provided for in the Sunday Sports Bill of nineteen thirty-three, and we wanted to get legal advice as to how we could provide for a referendum on local option in the state of Pennsylvania. We have had opinions prepared by former Senator Pepper, Professor George Vaughan Strong, teacher of Constitutional Law in the Temple University, Philadelphia, and our own director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, John H. Fertig, and it was he who suggested and recommended the method provided for in this bill as being the only method by which we could give each and every community an equal opportunity to decide this question for itself.

My colleague from Blair County, Mr. Arnold, has stated that he has received something like twenty-two hundred letters opposing this bill. If he will look at the returns of his community, as to how they voted in nineteen thirty-three on the Sunday Sports Bill, he will find that over eighteen thousand people there voted for Sunday sports as against the relatively small number who voted against Sunday sports.

Mention has also been made about children going to Sunday school. This bill, you will note, does not allow any moving pictures to be exhibited on Sunday until two o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, from the Blue Laws, the Act of seventeen hundred and ninety-four, I should like to read to you two sections of that law. In one section we have a penalty of $4 for a violation of the law, in another section we have a penalty of sixty-seven cents, and in another section of this law we have a penalty of forty-seven cents. In the act now under consideration, you will find that it protects the communities that vote against that measure. If you will bear with me, I shall read to you two sections of this bill for the purpose of clarifying the minds of the members, so that they can vote for this bill today. On page three, line four, "It shall be unlawful for any person co-partnership association or corporation to conduct stage manage operate or engage in any motion picture exhibitions regardless of whether a charge of admission thereto or incidental thereto is made or whether labor or business is necessary to conduct stage manage or operate the same on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday after the hour of two o'clock post meridian unless the voters of the municipality have first voted in favor of motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions on Sunday as hereinafter provided and in no case shall a person be employed as a projectionist or operator of motion pictures on Sunday or in or about motion picture exhibitions unless he or she shall have had twenty-four consecutive hours of rest during the preceding six week days."

One other section as a means of protecting the interests of those communities that wish to vote against it. There is a fine of one hundred dollars and ten days imprisonment, and that will protect those communities that are against this measure.

I ask you, members of the House, to vote in favor of this bill, to allow your people back home to decide this question for themselves. If they had enough confidence in us to send us here to this Assembly, then we, in turn should have enough confidence in them to permit them to decide this question for themselves at the November election.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Tumelty, Cannon, Walker, Flinchbaugh, Furman, Schwab, Pfaff, George E. Downey, Harmuth, Stank, John E. Brown, Siegel, Hindman, Welliver, John J. Downey, Hirsch, Muir, Boose, Rooney, Jackson, Condon and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to vote "aye" and file my reasons.

Practically every moving picture house in my county is running every Sunday now in open violation of the present ineffective law. When prosecuted they merely pay a four dollar fine and proceed the next Sunday. In McKean County no new movies will be opened under this bill—some may be closed where the people vote against them. The choice here is not between this bill and perfection. The choice is between this bill and the present situation. I occasionally attend Sunday movies myself and I am not going to be hypocritical and deny my constituents even the privilege of voting on the subject whether they want movies lawfully or want them prohibited by a law which carries a penalty.

This bill was thoroughly gone over by our Law and Order Committee. I had the fines raised to an effective amount. The opponents of the bill in committee or at the public hearing offered no constructive suggestion for otherwise making the law effective. We put in provisions to protect labor; increased the penalties and reported out the bill. It is better than the present law.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to vote "aye" and file my reasons.

Because of the large vote in favor of open Sunday in Philadelphia, I wish to be recorded as voting "aye" and for the further reason that my district is decidedly liberal.

Mr. VanALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker,I desire to vote "aye" and file my reasons.

While I am personally opposed to Sunday movies, I voted "yes" on this measure because I cannot consistently vote otherwise. We have Sunday movies every Sunday in the year in Erie county. This bill will enable people to determine for themselves decisively whether or not Sunday movies shall be tolerated.

MOTION TO EXPUNGE WITHDRAWN

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the rebuke of the Chair, in calling the gentleman to order, is greater than expunging from the record the remarks against my colleague, I withdraw my former motion.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 3, 1935.

Whereas, June 14, is the anniversary of the adoption by the Continental Congress, June 14, 1777, of the Stars and Stripes as the emblem of the United States, and with that date began the history of our Flag as a symbol of our nationality; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania has the honor of giving birth on its soil to our National Emblem; and

Whereas, The American Flag Day Association, which has for over forty (40) years has led the observation of "Flag Day" as a patriotic duty and their affiliated civic, education, patriotic, fraternal, religious and other cooperating organizations which also annually observe Flag Day, have by their example, shown the citizens of Pennsylvania particularly and the Nation at large the influence for good which such observance may exert; and

Whereas, By such celebrations our pride in American citizenship may be emphasized, our faith in and devotion to American institutions strengthened, a stronger love of country shown, our patriotism rekindled and also to perpetuate this observance; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Governor of our Commonwealth be and is hereby authorized and empowered to designate June 14 of each year as Flag Day by proclamation and to request our citizens to observe Flag Day, June 14, as the anniversary birthday of "Old Glory" and that decorations in our National colors be made, and wherever possible in every community, the American Flag be displayed and worn as a badge of honor and distinction, that in schools and colleges and universities there be special patriotic exercises and societies, clubs and other organizations have suitable programs, and also on the Sunday nearest June 14th, in all places of worship, public recognition be made, that we then give expression to our thoughtful love of America, our determination to make it greater with each generation, by loyal service and loyal living.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do nonconcur in the amendments made by the Senate.

STATEMENT BY MR. REISING

Mr. REISING asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, owing to the fact that a local paper in Beaver County, in the issue of Monday, June 3, 1935, made a statement to the effect "County Officers Rebuke Reising for False Talk," I feel that as chairman of the Legislative investigating committee investigating the various relief agencies of Beaver County, I owe to this House a statement, which I shall make at this time.

In reply to the charge made against me for being guilty of false statements, the charge being made by the county commissioners of Beaver County, I herewith make the following reply:

That some weeks prior to April 20, 1935 the question of the proposed Legislative investigation of the various relief agencies in Beaver County was being discussed with certain members of the Beaver County bar, at which time it was suggested that Court Room No. 3 in the Beaver County Court House would be an appropriate place to conduct the investigation. Following this certain of the Beaver County papers made mention of the fact that Court Room No. 3 would be used by the Legislative Investigation Committee to conduct its hearings, beginning at 10 A. M. Saturday, April 20, 1935.

Witnesses were advised to be present at Court Room No. 3 on the above date and at the designated time. It has been stated that certain court house employes were requested by me to unlock the door leading to Court Room No. 3. This statement is in error, as the door was not locked at the time we desired to use that room. After the room was about filled with people an employe of the court house advised Mr. Nagel, one of the members of the committee, that we would have to vacate this room and use the Assembly Room. The time having arrived to begin our hearing, I consulted with Commissioner J. J. Zimmerman with respect to the use of that room which he objected to the Committee using, and owing to the fact that it was generally known for some weeks that the hearings were to be held in Court Room No. 3, I as chairman of the committee did not see fit to acquiesce in the demand of Mr. Zimmerman to vacate that room and leave this room vacant and re-establish ourselves in another room in another part of the court house. As a result of the power and authority vested in me by the resolution authorizing the investigation, I commandered Court Room No. 3 for the use of the committee for that day, Saturday, April 20, 1935, which delayed the investigation in getting started.

On this same date requisition was made to the county commissioners office for transcribing stationery. The said stationery was not delivered until May 11, 1935, the last day of the Legislative investigation hearing, which in effect was responsible for the stenographer who was taking these hearings, not being able to transcribe them until after the final hearing was completed. The first hearing began at 10 A. M., Saturday, April 20, 1935, the final hearing ended Saturday afternoon, May 11, 1935, which entailed a delay of approximately three weeks in the report to the Legislature by the said committee.

Prior to Saturday, April 20, 1935 requisition was made upon the director of the Emergency Relief for stenographic aid. The stenographer provided had already worked forty hours that week, and as a result I refused to accept her services, because I did not desire to violate the Working Code, and to avoid further delay I employed a stenographer to perform the stenographic work for the Legislative investigation committee.

In this investigation I was determined to carry out the wishes of the Legislature in an honest, clean and an upright manner, and as a result the Committee has received many expressions of commendation, both written and oral, for the courageous and determined and upright manner in which this investigation was conducted, and in refuting the rebuke by the county commissioners I will leave it to the judgment of the people of Beaver County who read this statement as to whether or not my judgment was in error when I stated that the lack of cooperation, on the part of certain County Officers and others, was responsible for the delays in making the final report by the committee.

Amend the Bill on page 31, line 16 under the heading of the words: "package retailer" by striking out all license fees.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the amendments that have been offered to House Bill No. 2436 bring before you a moral issue plus some others.

The moral issue is, shall Pennsylvania go along the line which will eventually mean chair store system selling of beer.

When the eighteenth amendment was repealed and the first liquor and beer bills were written, the first struggle was with the effort of the chain stores to sell beer.

And now, the new license that is created under twenty-four thirty-six is a license known as Package Retail License, wherein six bottles of beer can be sold at retail not for consumption on the premises; the purchaser must carry them away. We have the thought back of it:—Cash and carry. Shall it be the policy of Pennsylvania to permit the chain store system to dispense and sell and cater to the public beer No; I think we have ample avenues for the distribution of beer today.

It appears to me that House Bill No. 2436 is a worse bill than what the present law is. The present law permits a restaurant keeper to sell package beer. The present law permits a distributor to sell beer by the bottle or the case. Why should we try to create some other form of license so that thereby in the future the chain store system will get possession of the liquor trade? And now, the amendments go a little further than that. Of course, if this House had the time, I would present many amendments to this bill. I would present some amendments to the bill preventing the liquor control board from having control of the beer business.

It seems to me that beer has been distributed remarkably well under the licenses issud by the various city treasurers and county treasurers of this Commonwealth. I can see no reason why the beer business should be centralized in the State Liquor Control Board. I can see no reason why the investigators provided for the Liquor Control Board should also have jurisdiction over beer.

It seems to me that the public ought to be encouraged to drink beer rather than hard liquor. It seems to me that we ought to encourage an easy distribution of beer and not to encourage a complicated system, and I think that the revenue derived from this bill properly belongs where the law placed it.

I would ask the members of this House to vote "aye" on these amendments and then if the amendments are adopted, the proper place for this bill is to have it go back to the Law and Order Committee with instructions that that Committee in a formal and orderly way sit down, discuss the bill and permit the members of that committee to suggest amendments and for the committee to vote on them rather than have a bill sent in and out, out and in, and amendments put on that nobody can see until the bill comes out in print.

I ask the members of this House to vote "aye" on these amendments and then I will ask you afterwards to commit the bill for further amendments in Committee.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in the first place, in answer to Mr. Sowers, the gentleman from Philadelphia, I want to inform the members that this bill positively prohibits any chain store system from having more than one license. Therefore, none of the grocery chain stores, or any other chain system can be issued a license through which they can sell beer under the package retailer's license in more than one place, so that his argument along that line should have no weight whatever with the members of this House. The purpose of certain of his amendments is to eliminate the package retailer. The package retailer is a new licensee, a form of license which was recommended first by the Liquor Control Board. The matter was considered very thoroughly by the Committee on Law and Order. On that Committee on Law and Order, we have three members who were also members of the committee appointed to investigate the Liquor Control Board.

We feel that this package retailer is a good idea for this particular reason: the package retailer is not permitted to sell more than seventy-two fluid ounces to any one person; that means not more than six pint bottles.

We must bear in mind, members of the House, that this act is passed for several different purposes, and one of the main purposes, in fact the chief purpose behind this bill, is to suit the convenience of the public. We all agree, I believe, that we want a wide distribution of beer and we want to make it convenient for every home owner in every district and rural section of the state, to have an opportunity to buy beer. Therefore, we have inserted this provision so that there can be a package retail licensee.

Another consideration which induced us to introduce this new form of license was the fact that many persons do not care to go to the ordinary tap room or saloon, if you want to call it such, in order to get a couple of bottles of beer to take home. For that reason we feel that this is a good idea.

Therefore, members of the House, I ask you to vote down all of these amendments which refer to the package retailer.

As I said before, it has the endorsement and the approval of the members of the Liquor Control Board, many of the members of the special committee investigating the liquor system, and most all of the interests who have a financial interest in this business, in my opinion.

Mr. Speaker, in order that we may vote on this question alone, I would ask that the vote first be taken on those amendments which refer to the package retailer license.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as a member of the Committee on Law and Order, I wish to say that I have spoken to Mr. Sowers on this particular matter covered by his amendments. If you will turn to page twelve of the bill which is under consideration, you will see, beginning with line seven, the plain wording, "Such licenses shall be issued only to reputable persons engaged in the sale of food or beverages who are citizens of the United States" and so forth.

It seems to me, members of the House, that persons engaged in the sale of food or beverages would include every grocery store and every soda fountain in the State of Pennsylvania. I won't take any of your time in this matter. You may all remember that when prohibition was repealed, there were several rather potent arguments used to secure the consent of the people for that repeal. One of the principal arguments which influenced most of the decent citizens who went along for repeal was the plea that it would end drunkenness in the United States. You can't possibly sustain the argument that you are going to end drunkenness if you allow everybody who sells food and beverages in the state of Pennsylvania to dispense beer in packages. We were going to end unemployment, we were going to end bootlegging, we were going to get the liquor business out of the hands of criminals and back into the hands of responsible people, and I submit to you ladies and gentleman that one of the ways to keep the liquor business under control, if it can be kept under control, is to see to it that the sale of liquor is confined and limited strictly to responsible concerns.

Mr. Sowers is entirely right in his argument and I think we should vote to put these amendments into the bill, and then we should send this bill back into committee, in order that a bill may be brought out here which would be thoroughly understood by the members of the House. You can't do this with this bill with four or five brackets to every line.

I ask you to support these amendments.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny. Mr. Eberharter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EBERHARTER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, tell me where it states in this bill that a person can have only one license.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, on page nineteen, line four; also on page ten, line twenty-six, there are provisions with respect to the ownership and the stockholders of corporations which prevent effectually any chain system in Pennsylvania from having a license.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am reliably informed that a chain store system in western Pennsylvania is at this time preparing to have its different store managers make application for a retail package store license. Apparently the lawyers of that chain store system think they have found a way to get a license for each chain store under this bill.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, many other amendments ought to be offered to this bill. Let me call your attention to a few more thoughts in the bill. The State Liquor Control Board wants the right to suspend or revoke licenses—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I dislike very much to raise a point of order but I feel that I must do so.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, will state his point of order.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I will confine myself to the amendments.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking on the amendments.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I will speak directly on the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, the retail package license, if created by this Legislature would be under the control, as well as the other licenses, of the State Liquor Control Board, and if any little infraction occurred and a letter went out from your county to Harrisburg, a letter would follow from Harrisburg back to your county saying to the licensee, "Your license is suspended." Suspended for how long? Until the Board sees fit to lift the suspension. You would have to gather your witnesses together, bring them to Harrisburg and make some explanation. When you got here you might find that your package license has been revoked or suspended, because somebody sent the Board an anonymous letter. Now, do you want to create a system like that, whereby a restaurant license, whereby a distributor's license, whereby a package store license may be suspended as the result of an anonymous letter and remain suspended until a man has spent two or three hundred dollars traveling from his home county up to Harrisburg for a hearing and then be met with no real evidence?

Members of the House, that system is going far from the principles of the Brooks high license law. Even our great Governor, Pinchot, didn't have the nerve to write a bill so strong as this bill. Even Governor Pinchot in his bill preserved many of the principles of the Brooks high license law. This bill takes those out, this bill takes them out for the package store licensee. This bill would make you come to Harrisburg. The Brooks high license law gave the community control, to a great extent, over the liquor traffic in that community. What is good for Philadelphia may not be good for Washington county, what may be good for Allegheny county may not be good for Tioga county, but if the system is allowed to remain as it now is, you keep the principle of the Brooks high license law in effect. You give back to your own county courts, your courts of Quarter Sessions the power of control.

If you pass this bill, then you would deprive your own county of that control and you would put yourselves under the thumb of some bureaucrat who knows nothing about your local conditions. I ask the members of the House to vote in favor of these amendments.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that Mr. Sowers, the gentleman from Philadelphia, is unduly fearful that we are going to lose the home-rule feature. Everybody knows that the system as it existed in the past, with the county treasurers issuing licenses, has proved unsatisfactory. This bill intends to correct that condition.

I want to again impress upon the members of the House that this feature of this act has been very deeply considered and has the approval of practically everybody who has made a study of the situation. Insofar as the home-rule feature is concerned, this bill provides that the Board will set up districts all over the state, license districts. Hearings in those districts will be had at different times, so that it will not be necessary to come here to Harrisburg for the purpose of a hearing.

Members of the House, I ask you to vote down these amendments and support this bill as drawn.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I dislike very much to disagree with my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, but there are one or two statements that he has made that are apparently made in error.

He speaks of the fact that the chain stores are now arranging whereby each manager may apply for such a license, dealing with the retail package distribution. That is clearly prohibited under the bill. I direct his attention to page twelve of the bill, lines fourteen to twenty-five, wherein one who would get a license would have to own fifty-one per cent of the stock of the corporation. It is ridiculous to conjure up in your minds how it could be arranged whereby a manager of a store would own fifty-one per cent of the stock of a chain store corporation. So, the argument of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, is clearly irreputable and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, clearly is in error when he endeavors to convey that impression to you.

He also endeavors to convey to you the impression that the passage of this bill is a narrow construction of the distribution of beer. On the contrary, the bill is just the opposite. It is not a narrow construction of the distribution of beer, but a liberal one.

A housewife goes out to buy her groceries, under the present law, if she wants to get beer, she has to go to a tap room. I do not think that a housewife ought to be compelled to go to a tap room to buy beer. She may not want to enter a tap room. I can see no objection to her going into a grocery store, where she buys her household supplies, and buying at the same time, six pints of beer, the limit set under this act, direct from the retail package distributor. This bill would permit her so to do. So instead of tightening the distribution, it liberalizes the distribution of beer. The other argument offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, to-wit, that you would have to come to Harrisburg for the purpose of a hearing was well answered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, by saying that the present law is inadequate. This measure provides for districts throughout the state. That is a liberal idea introduced into this bill and into the present law for the purpose of helping people in the various parts of the Commonwealth.

For the reasons I have stated and for the reasons advanced by the gentleman from Allegheny, I regret very much that I must ask the members of this House to vote "no" on these amendments, in order that this bill may be speeded to final passage.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to see these amendments placed in this bill, not for the reason that I worry about chain stores dispensing beer. A retail dispenser must pay a license of three hundred dollars and must set up a place of business with a lot of fixtures and glasses and everything else, in order to dispose of his beer, while the package retailer can have a little candy store, grocery store or anything else and only pay a license of one hundred and fifty dollars—in Philadelphia County I mean. These places at the present time are the places in Philadelphia that abuse the law. I hope that nobody will ask me to prove a lot of things that I might think of in that connection. However, if we went out and investigated, we would find that they are the very people who are selling beer on Sunday and doing a bigger business than the licensee who pays a higher license fee.

Mr. VANSICKLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, has rather hurriedly read page twelve, line twenty-one, when he has the impression that any manager of any store would have to own fifty-one per cent of the stock. The act says at least fifty-one per cent of the capital stock of such corporation is actually owned by individuals who are citizens of the United States and have been residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for a period of at least two years prior to the date of application. This does not mean that the manager must actually own fifty-one per cent, it simply means that persons who own fifty-one per cent of the stock and are not actually engaged in the retailing business but are simply stock owners, must be citizens of the United States and residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Mr. Sowers, the sponsor of these amendments, has informed me that the only amendments before the House are those that deal with the question of whether or not you are going to provide or whether you are going to eliminate by these amendments from the bill persons engaged in the sale of food or beverages as licensed package retailers. That is all there is before you. The question of whether it is done by chain stores or by grocery stores or by someone else is a minor consideration. The thing before this House is whether or not the dispenser of beverages or every seller of food, whatever his title or wherever he is located, can be licensed to sell beer in packages.

I ask you to vote 'no" on amendments of this sort to open beer selling places in every block in every city and along every road in the State of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SOWERS and Mr. SHORTZ and were as follows:

BILL AND AMENDMENTS RECOMMITTED

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill together with all the amendments be recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order for the purpose of further study and amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the Committee on Law and Order ought to function. It has not functioned on this bill and the following bills. The Committee on Law and Order should sit down and consider the bill, and I ask the House to send these bills back to the committee on Law and Order, so that that Committee will go to work and send out bills after the committee as a whole has considered and voted on them.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to oppose this motion. This bill was introduced on April seventeenth. That is about seven weeks ago, and since that time public hearings have been held, many conferences have been held with all of the different interests concerning the proposed changes in this measure.

We must take into consideration, members of the House, that we will only be in session a matter of practically two weeks. We must show to the Senate the courtesy of giving them time to consider this bill, because I feel that we all realize that the present law is unsatisfactory.

We appreciate, I think, each and every one of us, that there must be some changes in the law. If we are going to send this bill back to committee, we are delaying the matter, and in the final analysis, in the closing days of the session, we will try to pass something and the result will be something that will be unsatisfactory to the members of this House and to the people at large.

I ask the members of the House not to send this bill back to committee. The members have had plenty of time to study it and we must pass a bill regulating this traffic.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the ayes appeared to have it,

Whereupon a division was called for, one hunderd and twenty-eight members or more than a majority having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 1, page 6, line 11, by inserting after the word "thereof" the following: "except as to incorporated clubs, the term "person" shall mean, such individual or individuals who, under the by-laws of such club, shall have jurisdiction over the possession and sale of liquor therein"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

BILL AND AMENDMENTS RECOMMITTED

Mr. VanSICKLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill together with all the amendments be recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order for the purpose of further study and amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, in order that my amendments may go with the bill, I offer them now.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will send his amendments to the desk.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to join with my friend, Mr. VanSickle. I think that the proper thing for this House to do is to send this bill back to committee and let the committee consider it and amend it and report out to this House a really good and substantial bill.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to oppose the motion. I point to the members of the House that the bill has not even been discussed; no tangible or sensible reason has been presented to the members why this bill should be recommitted to the committee. As a matter of fact, it is not in its entirety, a companion bill. I say, very frankly, that this bill should receive the consideration of the members of this House rather than having it sent back to committee.

I, therefore, ask the members of this House to vote down the motion to recommit.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I, too, rise to oppose the motion to recommit this bill to the committee on Law and Order and I do so for two very important reasons. In the first place, may I state that during the last session of this Legislature I opposed the creation of the State Liquor Store System. I did not believe that that was the proper method of dispensing liquor, but we do have that system and there will be no repeal of that system in the next two years.

In the light of the experience that the Liquor Control Board has had during the past year and a half, this bill has been prepared and is a distinct advance in the method of dispensing alcoholic liquors in the state. I say, this bill grows out of the experience that we have had. For instance, when this bill was passed, one of the main bones of contention was the regulation of clubs, and we thought at that time that we had provided so that clubs could sell liquor on Sunday, that a club was in effect a man's home, and there was quite an extensive debate on the floor of this House, and yet when the bill came up to the Superior Court for interpretation, that court said that a club could not sell liquor on Sunday. Now, that is taken care of in this bill. This bill provides that clubs can sell liquor at any time or in any way. In addition thereto, the hours have been extended on Saturday night and Sunday morning until two A. M.

It provides for the one-man store, so that people in small communities can have the advantage and the convenience of purchase.

The bill has been thoroughly considered. As one of its sponsors, I have sat in a number of conferences, I have sat in with the Liquor Control Board, I have sat in with distillery interests who are vitally interested. I have sat in with others who wrote in to the committee with suggestion.

And now, what would be the effect of sending this bill back to committee for amendment? If the committee does not agree with an amendment or any group of amendments, when the bill is reported back to the House we would have the same situation as if the amendments were offered on this floor and considered. Let us do this now. We are in the closing days of this session. If we are to continue with our present store system, it will need a lot of improvements, and this bill is the first serious attempt to close up those loopholes that experience has taught us should be closed. We can't evade that responsibility. We ought to pass on this measure right here on the floor of this House. It is useless, it is futile and it is a waste of time to send the bill back to committee, where we won't get anywhere.

I, therefore, ask you to oppose this motion to recommit.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have learned that it is true that the sponsors of this bill met privately with the Liquor Control Board.

I ask that the Law and Order Committee committee to hear the Liquor Control Board, I ask the committee to consider this bill, I ask that the members of that committee be permitted to vote on the various amendments to the bill. The chairman of the committee would fix a time for the meeting and then come an hour late to the meeting. The chairman of the committee would quit the meeting about five minutes before the House would convene and have a bundle under his arm.

We haven't the time to consider. The committe has reported amendments to this House which the committee did not even read. I ask you, in all fairness, to let it go back to committee. Let that committee sit down and go over this bill, consider all the amendments, and then let the members of the committee report out a bill.

We have no real improvement on Liquor Control in this bill. True, the clubs are taken care of, but they are not taken care of properly, but in a highly improper manner. We have no aid and assistance for the men who pay the six hundred dollar fee. We have an amendment in the bill permitting the Liquor Control Board to go on creating state stores and infinitum in competition with the restaurant license holder.

We have many principles in the bill as it is now written that are good, but the various principles that are there in addition weigh down the good ones.

Send it back to the Committee so that a good bill may come out.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I stated previously, I do not feel that I have the right at this time to take up this bill section by section and point out to you why I made the statement that this bill represents a great advance in the operation of the Liquor Control System.

When my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, said that clubs have not been adequately taken care of, I should like to interrogate him for the purpose of ascertaining in what manner clubs have not been taken care of, but that would only extend the debate.

I say to you, that the time we are now spending on the motion to recommit ought to be spent on these amendments. Let us have an open discussion of the question by the entire House. The subject is important enough. Let us not delay any longer. Sending it back to committee will only postpone discussion and the second reading of this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for, one hundred and twenty-two members or more than a majority having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Give unto us, O God, clearness of vision to discover the opportunities which are from time to time presented unto us as we pursue life's journey. Opportunities to increase our own usefulness, develop our own character and strengthen our own powers.

May we also, O Lord, cultivate a desire to use these possessions of body, mind and soul to serve the age in which we live. May our light not be hidden under a bushel but placed on a candlestick so as to brighten the way for our fellow travelers. Many such there are who sorely need a guiding beacon in these times of uncertainty and depression.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Northampton, Mr. Roberts, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I hold in my hand House Bill No. 864, which is Senate Bill No. 507. This bill is what is commonly known as the Chain Store Tax Bill. It was referred to the Committee on Finance, of this body, on March 11, 1935; and since that date, to the present time, it has been in that committee. As a member of that committee I brought to their attention the necessity of reporting this bill out to the Senate, so that such action might be taken as would be deemed prudent. I was unsuccessful, and yet we find that the financial condition of our State is such that we will need additional revenue. I believe that under those circumstances a bill of this character, which is, I think, a very just bill should be brought before the Senate for action.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 507 (HOUSE BIL NO. 864)

Mr. President, I now move that the Committee on Finance be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 507 (House Bill No. 864), so that the same may be returned to this Senate floor for first reading and Constitutional consideration by members of this body.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I desire to oppose the motion which has just been made by the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Roberts. This particular tax bill is not included in the program which has been agreed upon between the Governor and this body. There is no necessity at this time for action, particularly until such time as the Senate takes action on the "Check Tax" which was placed on the postponed calendar last Monday night. It is true that there has been a demand made by the Governor for additional taxes, and the Senate Finance Committee, which met with the Governor, promised to offer him a program to meet the necessities during the fiscal year of the next biennium.

I request the gentleman from Northampton to withdraw his motion until at least next Monday night, when the Senate Finance Committee will have time to offer its program to the Governor and to consider taxes which will be adequate to meet the situation which now confronts us.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, has made a request, and I, therefore, deem it proper that I should make reply to the request as made. I do not think the occasion requires the withdrawal of this motion. It may not have been on the compromise program, but the compromise program, as I understood it, was a compromise program for relief purposes, and this bill was not under discussion, if I remember correctly, for relief purposes. The moneys derived from this bill do not go to relief purposes, but go to General Fund purposes.

Reference was made also to the "Check Tax" bill. This entire matter of the "Check Tax" bill is a tax that is designated or ear-marked for relief, whereas this bill is not, therefore, since this bill has been in committee since, as I previously said, March 11th, almost a period of three months, I do not see the necessity to make the withdrawal.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Roberts.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Roberts, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Roberts, if it is not true that the Governor of this Commonwealth said in this rostrum, when he spoke on the so-called social legislation, that the budget is balanced for the coming biennium.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I did not so understand him.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, and is it not true that the budget is balanced and this is an additional tax that is not needed?

Mr. ROBERTS. I think that the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, understands as well as I do that the budget is not balanced.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I understand no such thing, and the Governor of the Commonwealth said from this rostrum to the members of this Senate that he was happy to state that the budget of this Commonwealth is balanced. Now, Mr. President, if the budget for the coming biennium is balanced, and if the Democratic members of the Senate will carry out the agreement that was made with the Governor for the balancing of the budget, I submit that it is unnecessary, just for the purpose of carrying out the will of a Governor who wants to be the Legislature as well as the Executive, to add on to the people of this Commonwealth any additional taxes, no matter how meritorious they may be.

I want to call the attention of this Senate to the fact that they are asking us to discharge a committee of this Senate and bring out a bill on the floor of this Senate for passage when we do not need the taxes. Now, it is a new thing in government to pass taxes just for the fun of raising new revenue, and that is just what this motion means. They propose, after the Governor has stated our budget is balanced, to bring out a bill and levy new taxes because they like the looks of it and they want to sock somebody else whom they are not very much pleased with.

Now, we do want to vote for such taxation as is necessary to meet the needs of this Commonwealth, but, I submit no one who is true to his oath of office wants to sit in these legislative halls and impose taxes just for the purpose of getting even with someone.

When the Governor of this Commonwealth comes out over the radio and attacks this Senate as he has done, and states that we have deliberately "pickled" bills here in the Senate, and that he is going to open up the "vat," I think that it is pretty nearly time for this Senate to say whether they are the legislative body or the Executive is. I hope the Senate will vote down this motion to discharge the Committee.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). The Governor's speech of May 20th was distributed in mimeograph form to the members of the Senate. I have it before me, and I would like the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, to point out to me where the Governor made the statement that the budget is balanced.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I did not keep a copy of the Governor's speech because I did not think it was important, so I have no printed copy that he might have distributed to refer to, but I did hear him say from the rostrum of this Senate that he was happy to say that the budget was now balanced.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would be very glad to furnish the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, a copy of this speech for him to look it over and point it out.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not know where the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, got the copy which he claims is a copy of the speech.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I am afraid that I must, in answer to the remarks of the Senator from Tioga, say that he is just deliberately misrepresenting the Governor's remarks in that speech. What he evidently has reference to is the paragraph in the Governor's speech in which he said:

"You have agreed upon a revenue program designed to meet the relief needs of the Commonwealth for the next year."

There is no reference in the remarks of the Governor on May 20th to anything about the fiscal necessities of the Commonwealth, and I submit, Mr. President, that the remarks of the Senator from Tioga are entirely out of order on a question of this kind, particularly in view of the fact that he cannot substantiate or back up by reference the statements to which he refers.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I would like to say a word on the motion advanced by the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Roberts, to discharge. I have, on two occasions, stated from this floor that I was unalterably opposed to the discharge of committees having under consideration legislative bills, though not necessarily opposed to discharging committees from consideration of executive nominations or resolutions of a non-legislative character. I have never yet voted to discharge a committee on a legislative bill, and I have said that I never would. That, however, was not a promise, but a statement of position which I claim the right to reverse.

In the main the precedent against discharge is a sound one. The committee system is essential to wise legislation. It is a parliamentary mechanism devised to simplify and facilitate our work by selective process, and it is the only way to handle legislation in its preliminary stages. But it is merely a means to an end. It should not become a fetish. The committee system is intended to prevent bad legislation; it is not intended to obstruct good legislation. To sublimate a natural respect for a useful instrument into exaggerated reverence for a sacred institution would result in the same folly of self-stultification, which preserves the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States under glass in Safe Deposit vaults as objects of veneration, and every day violates the spirit of liberty enshrined in the one and the spirit of law embodied in the other.

The Chinese emperor once said to a famous scholar of his realm, "Hung, ninety years of philosophy must have taught you a great deal. Tell me, what is the chief danger to government?"

"Well, Sire," replied Hung, "it is the rat in the statue."

"Rat in the statue!" exclaimed the emperor, "why what on earth is that?"

"Well, Sire", said Hung, "you see it is like this. We build statues to the memory of our ancestors; they are all of wood, they are hollow, and they are painted yellow. Now, Sire, if a rat gets into the center of one of those wooden statues, you can't plunge it in water, for that would wash off the face of your ancestor; you can't smoke it out, for that would defile the sacred image; and, therefore, sire, the rat is safe because the image is holy."

The experiences of the present session have given me to see some things which had not particularly impressed me in previous sessions. One is that iron-bound adherence to an ordinarily good rule may in occasional instances militate against the very object which the rule was designed to insure—namely, wise and equitable enactment—and thus defeat its own end. The Duke of Wellington was a great soldier who made war by rule, but who had enough originality and initiative to modify or even ignore the rule when an unforeseen emergency arose where the rule wouldn't work. Forty years after the Battle of Waterloo, where the Iron Duke defeated a far greater general than himself, the Czar of Russia, undertook to apply the Wellington maxims to the operations of the Crimean War. The Czar had an imitative but not a discriminating mind. One of the Duke's elastic principles was never to sacrifice his artillery. This profoundly impressed the Czar, who issued orders to his subordinates under no circumstances to allow the enemy to capture their guns. In one of the battles incident to the siege of Sebastapol the British advanced upon a Russian position strongly defended by batteries. To the consternation of the attacking force, the Russians wheeled their artillery and withdrew, leaving the British in unchallenged possession of a field which they must either have lost, or carried at an appalling cost of life. The Russian commander had obeyed the Czar's orders. He saved the guns but he lost the battle. There is a battle to win here and now, and and I don't propose to imitate the false discretion of that Russian general. No rule is so infallible that it cannot sometimes be advantageously broken.

When a man takes an unequivocal position on any question upon which he subsequently changes his mind, he can do one of two things: persist in his outward attitude on the question and sacrifice his convictions for the sake of consistency, or admit his original error of judgment and sacrifice consistency for the sake of his convictions. I choose to follow the latter course, and I shall vote in support of the motion.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have listened with great interest to what has been said about the necessity for the passage of this bill. I find a little inconsistency between the two gentlemen who have objected to the passage. Senator McClure says that this Finance Committee will hold a meeting before this evening for the purpose of discussing a program on the amount necessary in addition to the money allocated for relief. Senator Owlett takes the position that there is no money necessary, and that we have supplied all that there is.

I have examined the budget and found that irrespective of the $60,000,000 that we have suggested for relief—to be exact, fifty-seven millions and some odd hundred thousand dollars—there still remains unprovided for certain moneys which must be met in the next biennium; 50% must be met in this biennium.

Without trying to burden you in a measure with a lot of figures, I should like to point out that there is unprovided for in the present budget for the next two years, or in that present program, $20,000,000, for Old Age Pensions, there is unprovided for, $3,000,000, necessary for the Blind, there is unprovided for, $10,000,000, for the increase in Debt Service.

I make no mention of the $5,000,000, or $6,000,000, which has been appropriated for school deficiencies. I make no mention of the several million dollars necessary to keep the hospital doors open, and I say, if you divide by two the first three figures you will have $23,000,000, which is necessary for the next two years, sixteen and a half million dollars, which is necessary this year. I say those are uncontrovertible facts, because, as the budget reads, there is $152,000,000 necessary for normal expenses, $128,000,000 of which will be covered by the probable income for this year; the only way the $152,000,000 for normal expenses is obtainable, is in the hope that there will be realized $10,000,000 for the sale of liquor, $11,000,000 from the Floor Tax, and $3,000,000 from the Dorrance Estate.

If we get that $25,000,000 we will have $153,000,000 of income to meet the expected expenses of $152,000,000, and there will still be nothing left to meet the obligations made necessary by appropriation acts which we have passed and by debts which we have incurred, and, therefore, I say that I disagree with Senator Owlett that there is no immediate necessity for immediate action—there is immediate action necessary for at least $16,500,000, and I see no reason why this tax bill which cannot fall upon anybody except stockholders, should not be passed.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, who is also Chairman of the Committee on Finance, whether or not this bill has been acted upon finally adversely.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it has not been acted upon.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, it is not postponed?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the bill has neither been postponed for the present nor postponed indefinitely.

It is unfortunate, Mr. President, that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is not a member of the Committee on Finance; if he been he would have been in the Governor's office when we were last called into conference, at which time it was agreed between the Governor and the members of the Committee on Finance that the budget for the next biennium is in balance for all practical purposes.

I wanted to be quite sure that my memory served me correctly, after leaving the Governor's office, and this week I had a further talk with the Secretary, Mr. Kalodner, who assured me that I had understood and heard correctly. This budget is in balance for the biennium. The question arises from the fact that $60,000,000 is appropriated for relief for the first year, and therefore the revenue to meet items amounting to about $23,000,000 will not be available in ready cash for the first year.

I have in my hand—I have just received it—an article headed "Fiscal Facts", a statement by Charles A. Walters, State Treasurer, for immediate release. I am not going to burden the Senate by reading this whole article, but I am going to turn to the conclusion, and he has it so marked:

"I can see no reason for further increase of taxes. The claims for promptly returning the moneys borrowed from special funds by December 31, 1935, fall far short of the pleas of an already over-taxed people.

"Those transfers amount to $23,043,000, of which sum $9,340,000 was borrowed from the Motor Fund, and since the start of our highway system the General Fund had contributed to highways many times this amount before the motor fund became self-sustaining.

"Furthermore, local communities which share in the Liquid Fuels Tax and the Liquor License Tax should at least be indulgent in view of relief burdens which the State must assume, or at least is assuming.

"A pooling of the resources of the Commonwealth over this emergency would have prevented much of the increased taxes already levied by this session of the Legislature, but certainly no further burdens should be added."

Mr. President, there is no controversy between the Governor and this body concerning the necessity of additional taxes at this time; it is the unevenly balanced receipt of the taxes which have already been levied that is the question which we have to settle before we finally adjourn, and I ask the members of this Senate to grant time to the Senate Committee on Finance to give proper consideration to the taxes and tax measures which we have before us before discharging the committee from further consideration of this tax bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I shall be glad to be interrogated.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am interested in knowing, if there are no necessities for further taxation, why it requires time to consider tax matters and tax bills.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the question is caused by the fact that the check tax has been placed on the postponed calendar, the mercantile tax was acted on yesterday, and the Senate Committee on Finance referred it to a special committee with instructions for that special committee to report it out on this floor. The bill has probably been reported by this time The income tax for school purposes, to relieve the burden on real estate, was given to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, for amendment, and when that bill is properly amended it will be reported out. The cigarette tax bill is in conference.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr President. I should like to ask a further question of the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure. I am not certain as to the exact statement the Governor made in first address to the Senate on this subject, but as I remember, after his conference with Mr. Hopkins, he made a demand with reference to making up the $60,000,000 program in order that we might continue to receive the Federal allotments for relief.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Then I say, Mr. President, there is still no answer to the question that is troubling me, and that is: If we are to adjourn on the 21st of this month, and there is no consideration being given now in the Committee on Finance to a subject which is clear to anyone who reads the budget and who knows anything about figures; and that is, that there is $23,000,000, at least, of money necessary for the next two years which is not provided for.

In addition to that—and I did not mention it, but the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, did mention it—there is $13,800,000 which is to be repaid to the various funds, which was borrowed during the last session, $9,000,000 of which came from the motor fund, and $4,800,000 from the liquid fuel tax. Now, I have not counted that in going over in my mind the necessities of the situation; and I have not counted the $5,000,000 appropriation to schools; I have not counted the fact that we advanced $2,800,000 to keep open the hospitals; and have not counted the fact that there is on the postponed calendar a bill to make up the deficiencies of last year—hospital awards which we made by appropriation and which we understand are, by recent decision, lapsed because they were not taken care of by June 1st.

Therefore, I say that there is ample reason for alarm at the situation, there is ample reason to act now; and if there had been no motion made to adjourn on June 21st I would have had a different thought on the matter, there might have been time to argue and discuss this proposition, but I do not propose to run away from a picture which to my mind is equally as important as the relief situation—and that is, if we have not provided funds to meet those expenditures which we have by law created—and I feel it is the duty of this Senate to give consideration to that situation, because I do not want to come back to a special session, but every man who has any common sense knows that if we do not make provisions for this we are going to be charged with the responsibility of incurring the cost of an extra session. The question then will arise, "Shall we accept pay for our services?"—which will amount to anywhere from a half a million to a million dollars.

I repeat, no harm can be done by passing this tax, no harm to a single individual except to a man who owns stock; and I am sure that if the man who owns stock were asked to give consideration to it he would not object to the tax either.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ROBERTS and Mr. RICE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—24

The PRESIDENT. On the question of the adoption of the motion the "ayes" are twenty-four and the "noes" are twenty-four. If the Chair votes as he would vote—"aye"—the motion would still be short a Constitutional majority by one vote. Under Rule 42 of the Senate, adopted at this session, "No committee shall be discharged from the consideration of any measure within ten days of its reference, without unanimous consent of the Senate or after such ten day period except by majority vote of all members elected to the Senate." The Constitutional majority is twenty-six. While the Chair votes in the affirmative, the motion is not agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED (Washington). There was introduced in the House on January 21, 1935, Resolution No. 183, providing for pensions, not only for the blind, but also for the aged, and also for the purpose of military service. Now, that resolution passed finally in the House on April 17, 1935, by unanimous vote, 175 to 0. That vote in the House is an indication of how important this question of pensions is in Pennsylvania. It has been a very important question in Pennsylvania for sometime past, and it is important today, and it is not a political question; it is a question that is deep in the minds of the people of Pennsylvania, and on account of its importance, and on account of the near date of adjournment of this Senate, it is my opinion that the members of this Senate should have an opportunity to express their views on it, and on that account,

Mr. President, I move you that the Committee on Constitutional Changes, to which this resolution was referred, be now discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill or Resolution No. 973 (House No. 184) so that the same may be returned to the Senate floor for constitutional consideration by the members of this body.

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, before a vote is taken on this motion, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, who is Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Changes.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to be entirely fair with the Chairman of that Committee and its members. I asked a few days ago for a meeting of this Committee. It was received with great courtesy, and in fact an expression was given that it was advisable to report this resolution out, and before voting on this, I ask the Senator from Tioga if it is his intention to hold a meeting today.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Senator from Allegheny is correct in his statement as to the conversation we had. I think there is also a joint resolution similar in terms, Senate No. 65. Neither of these resolutions has been acted upon by the Committee on Constitutional Changes, because of the time that has been spent and the attention given to general constitutional revision, and I stated to Senator Harris, and I now wish to repeat, that it is my intention to call a meeting of the Committee on Constitutional Changes at the earliest possible moment this week to act on those resolutions and several other joint resolutions and amendments to the Constitution, many of us feeling that those resolutions should be passed in order to assure necessary changes to the present Constitution, if we have no new one under House Bill No. 147. Now, I therefore ask the members of this Senate to vote down this motion to discharge this Committee. The Committee has not acted on this, and I know of no intention not to report out this bill; it is a House resolution and there is ample time to pass it, and I submit, Mr. President, and members of the Senate, that this motion can have no purpose other than to carry out the orders of the Governor to make motions to discharge committees, I see no reason for discharging this Committee, and I ask the Senate to vote down this motion.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, be further interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Tioga whether or not there was any definite promise made to hold a meeting today of the Constitutional Changes Committee.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, there was, and the Senator is correct as to his conversation with me.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, why that promise is not carried out.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, because we have not had time today to call it.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the Senator notified me yesterday that it would take just five minutes to report it out or keep it in Committee, and if he intends to call that meeting sometime today and if it would take just five minutes either to report it out or keep it in Committee, I cannot see where we have been so busy that an important thing like this, and coming so near the close of the session, that we could not have taken five minutes today to act on it either one way or the other.

I am not bound to vote for every motion to discharge a committee; I am not bound to vote for or against a bill even after making a motion to discharge; but I do think that on a question of this kind that deals with a subject the most important piece of social legislation discussed in this body for years, that it should be given prompt consideration. Everyone knows that the old age pension that we have now is not liberal enough. There are constitutional provisions against doing the thing that most of the members of this body want to do, and this constitutional change will require not only the vote of this body, but a vote by the next Session of the Legislature, and then it will go before the people for a final vote, and even then we will not have old age pensions. It must come back here and an Act must be passed to aid these people who are entitled to this, and justly entitled to it, to get the reward they deserve.

This is the first step in a liberal Old Age pension bill, and I submit to you that there is no question as to what you are going to do about it. If there is a motion not to discharge this Committee, it will mean that you are voting against old age pensions.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I cannot let go unchallenged the statement made just now by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, that a vote against discharging this committee is a vote against Old Age Pensions. I stated to him that there would be a meeting of the committee today. I stated before that I did not think the session was over at this hour. The meeting of the Committee on Constitutional Changes will be called and this legislation will be considered, and I say to the members of this Senate that a vote against the motion to discharge this committee is not a vote against Old Age Pensions but would be a vote to belittle the integrity of the committee.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, if the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will say he will call a meeting of the committee today before we adjourn, I will ask the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, to withdraw his motion to discharge the committee.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have said at least five times, and I repeat, I promised the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, on Monday that a meeting of the committee would be held this week to consider this legislation. I have stated on the floor that I intend to call it today. The meeting will be called. There has never been any intention to do anything else. This is merely making a mountain out of a molehill; it has never been my intention not to call the meeting.

MOTION TO RECESS

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I move that a recess be taken for fifteen minutes, for the purpose of giving the committee an opportunity to meet.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object to that. There is a motion before the house.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there is a motion before the house; this motion is out of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair did not recognize the motion. There is a motion pending.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, after a recess of fifteen minutes, or five minutes, I ask whether the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, does not feel, in view of the statement made today that there is going to be a meeting of the committee today, that his motion to discharge the committee should be withdrawn.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, I will reply in this manner—that we might agree to table it for the time being, until the Committee on Constitutional Changes have had an opportunity to meet and report the bill out.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, no. Now, Mr. President, I want to make the statement here that in the discussion of this matter I heard the statement made by the gentleman from the other side that the committee has no integrity, and I want to state that I do not think that is a fair or proper remark to make in the hall of this Senate. My action is not to be taken as a reflection on any committee; I am acting, under the circumstances, according to my best judgment, and I want it understood—at least I hope no member on either side of the house will consider any action I take as any reflection or as intended to be any reflection upon him; and, so far as I personally am concerned, I resent the statements that have been made occasioning any reflection on the integrity of the committee in question or the integrity of any other committee of this Senate, and I now say that this statement of the chairman of the committee satisfies me that there will be a meeting, and I am satisfied to wait until they act on this bill. There is nothing in this bill so urgent that it cannot be taken care of on Monday night as well as today, and I do not think there need be any adjournment.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, in opposing this motion to discharge the committee I desire to give, as my reason, the statement made upon the floor of this Senate on December 20, 1933, by the able and distinguished Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince. At that time Senator Prince said "The committee system is the legislative mechanism which simplifies and facilitates our task by selective process. In my judgment it is the most vital element in American government, State or National. The committee system is absolutely necessary. It is the only way to handle legislation in its preliminary stages. I have heard it charged that the Senate does not represent the people and that the committee system is responsible for its alleged failure in that respect. I do not believe this for one moment. The Senate simply refuses to allow itself to be stampeded. I would suggest, however, that bills in which considerable and influential bodies of our citizens are interested ought to be accorded a place on the calendar and a public hearing if desired. But while the committees may kill some good bills, they kill a far greater number of bad bills. I have a profound respect for Senatorial precedent, and I am not willing to weaken by my vote a system which I believe to be both necessary and wise. For this reason if for no other I would vote "no" on the motion to discharge any committee from the consideration of a legislative bill, even if that bill were my own."

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I uttered every one of those words in the form in which they are quoted, and up to the last sentence or two I stand by my position as stated then. I would like to ask the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, if he heard my speech a few moments ago.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I heard the first part of it, and then I went into the anteroom and got the Legislative Journal.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, if the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, had waited until the conclusion he would have had no occasion to refer to what I said previously. The substance of my remarks today was that it was a mistake for me or anybody else to take an unequivocal position in a general way, as I did; that there might be occasional instances where such action would defeat its own end. I have nothing to retract except the last statement I made at that previous session; I made a mistake and have admitted it.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, so that there will be no misunderstanding, I desire to ask the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, whether or not it is the intention to hold today a meeting of the Committee on Constitutional changes.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, will state his point of order.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, has already answered that three times.

The PRESIDENT. We will let the Senator from Tioga answer the question.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am very reluctant to answer the question again. However, I will say again that I intend to call the meeting today.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I am perfectly satisfied with that, and I will ask the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, to withdraw his motion temporarily.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, upon the statement of the chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Changes, to the effect that there will be a meeting of the committee held this afternoon, I will withdraw my motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object to the withdrawal of the motion.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, has nothing to do with the withdrawal of the motion by the Senator from Washington.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, having stated, in his reply, "temporarily", I desire to have the motion acted upon by the Senate. If the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, wants to withdraw it entirely—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, withdraws his motion. Is that correct?

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, if the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, objects, I will withdraw my withdrawal and ask that a vote be taken on the original motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. REED and Mr. RANKIN, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22.

Baumer,	Lanius,	Pytko,	Rodgers,
Cavalcante,	Law,	Rankin,	Rupp,

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 973 (HOUSE BILL NO. 184)

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, on January 25, 1935, the same day that the resolution which was just voted down was introduced in the House, a joint resolution was introduced providing as follows:

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That section seven of article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 7 The General Assembly shall not authorize any county city borough township or incorporated district to become a stockholder in any company association or corporation or to obtain or appropriate money for or to loan its credit to any corporation association institution or individual Provided That the General Assembly may authorize any county city borough township or incorporated district to appropriate money for assistance to mothers having dependent children and to aged persons without adequate means of support

That resolution was passed by the House unanimously, 175 to 0, and it came from the House over to the Senate and is now with the Committee on Constitutional Changes. I have a motion similar to the one just presented.

Mr. President, I move that the Committee on Constitutional Changes be now discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 973 (House Bill No. 184), so that the same may be returned to this Senate floor for consideration by the members of this body.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, tell me, if this resolution is passed, and approved by the people, if that would not put a tax on real estate to take care of the pensions the Senator has mentioned.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, that would be a question to be decided at that time. That matter could be raised in many ways, and I would not know at this time just what course the representatives of the people would pursue to raise money to cover this necessity at that time.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, tell me whether there is any means by which the people resident in counties, townships or boroughs can raise money other than by taxing real estate.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, yes.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, what are they?

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, by the personal property tax.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, we have that now, and in our county it amounts to about 16% of the total valuation. In other words, if that legislation is passed it means they are going to put an additional burden on the homes of the people of Pennsylvania to take care of these people,—is that not the effect of this resolution?

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I could not catch the last part. Was that in the form of a question?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, is that not the actual effect of this Constitutional amendment?

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, the question would be decided at that time. I would not want to say "no".

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have before me the resolution in question. This was introduced by Mrs. Lilith Wilson on January 21st in the House of Representatives. Now, this bill has never been considered by the Committee on Constitutional Changes, and I have no means of knowing whether it has been discussed by any of the members, and have no means of knowing what their attitude is on this bill. All I can say is that this amendment to the Constitution attempts to set up an Old Age Assistance Fund, a pension system, supported by the municipalities and counties of the State rather than by the State itself, and therefore the effect of this resolution would be clearly to add to the burden of Old Age Pensions and Mothers' Assistance which is now borne by the State from taxes levied by the State. The purpose is to take that burden from the corporations and put it on the real estate of the State of Pennsylvania. I ask the Senate to vote down this resolution.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I would like to ask my friend, the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, whether or not this is one of the bills included in the Governor's program.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I do not know. I am for Old Age Pensions, and whether it is included in the Governor's program or not would not make any difference, I would support the bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, whether he is in favor of this bill.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, yes.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, if he thinks the burden of Old Age Pensions, or any other pensions, should be placed on real estate in Pennsylvania.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the motion to discharge the committee is in order, but any argument on the merits of the resolution are out of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am not arguing any merits of any resolution or anything else; I am trying to find out what is in the resolution approved by the gentleman who made the motion. I submit that my questions are entirely in order.

The PRESIDENT. It is the opinion of the Chair that the question is in order.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I would like to have the question read again.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will repeat it. My question is, whether the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, feels that the money with which to pay pensions, as provided in this bill, should come from the townships, counties and municipalities of the State.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, that is my personal opinion, but the motion before the body is to get this resolution out on the floor of the Senate, where everybody can express his views. I am in favor of seeing the needy cared for; it would not make any difference from what form of taxation the money is to be raised.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I understand the Senator to say, then that he is in favor of raising the money from real estate taxes in the State of Pennsylvania?

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, no, not necessarily.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I cannot help but marvel at the remarkable lack of knowledge that my colleague, the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, possesses on this question of Mothers' Assistance. If he were acquainted with the present situation of Mothers' Assistance administration he would know that the counties, under the present jurisprudence, are expencted to contribute half of the maintenance of the Mothers' Assistance Fund.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, will state his point of order.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, is arguing the merits of the bill—of the resolution, and therefore I think he is out of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would ask the Senators to keep within the confines of the motion.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be glad to.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Tioga realize that there are some counties in the State where Mothers' Assistance Funds are not being administered on account of a question of the ability of the counties legally to contribute to the maintenance of those funds?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator from Centre, I wish to advise him that I do know that we have a Mothers' Assistance Fund now in Pennsylvania. It happens that my county has taken advantage of the provisions of the present bill and contributes to the cost of the present Mothers' Assistance Fund. I also know that many counties do not feel able now to do it. However, I would like to call the Senator's attention to the fact that under this resolution instead of paying half, the counties would pay it all.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I desire further to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be glad to.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Tioga realize, when he objects to a further imposition on real estate, that there has been a bill reposing in the Senate Committee on Finance, literally for months and months, providing an additional personal property tax which will raise the revenue in counties for all purposes, whichever they desire to apply it to?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, yes sir, I know there was introduced in the House a bill raising the personal property tax from four mills to six mills, that took away exemptions from savings accounts and making it applicable to all the banks. I know further that the Republican majority of this Senate has called the attention of the people and of the Legislature, ever since we have been here, to the campaign pledge and the platform of the Democratic Party that they proposed to relieve real estate. I know that the Governor's budget did not have a single item for the relief of real estate in it, not a single one; and the only bill they introduced was an income tax bill for that purpose, a personal income tax bill, which admittedly would pay only about 10% of the present school tax.

I do know that many of us have been advocating for months a sales tax, which has just been enacted yesterday in New Jersey, for the relief of real estate taxation, which will take 75% of the present school burden off real estate; and I know the reason it has not passed, that we do not have that real estate relief, is because the Governor of Pennsylvania and some of his associates are interested in a mercantile business, or some of the associates of the Governor are intetested in mercantile business; and it has been freely stated all over this Capitol that that is the reason they are against the sales tax.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I desire to still further interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be still further interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, would the Senator from Tioga vote for a motion to discharge from the Committee on Finance this personal property tax with the intention to relieve real estate?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would not,—I would not vote to discharge any committee from the consideration of any bill.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, do I understand then that the Senator from Tioga prefers to be consistent in the wrong rather than inconsistent.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to endorse the reasons for my position as filed by the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, if he is not a member of the Committee on Constitutional Changes.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, the Senator is correct.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I desire to ask him whether he asked the chairman of this committee to bring up for discussion in committee this resolution which he now asks the committee to be discharged from considering.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I did, as the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, well knows, ask for the release of the bill on the question of a new Constitution and was refused. After that the bill was so badly cut and mutilated in Committee on Constitutional Changes I quit attending the meetings of the committee, because I saw it was of no use, it was a waste of time.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, is referring to the Ruth Bill?

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, not only to the Ruth bill but to Dr. Woodward's bill. I made a motion to report Dr. Woodward's bill out of committee early in the session.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I ask if the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, ever asked the chairman of the committee to report out this resolution.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, no.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, it might be important to know just what this resolution contains. Now, I have heard a great deal of talk today about the expenditure of money and the adding of expenditures on to the taxpayers. Now, let us just see what is in this resolution. It simply states that the General Assembly may authorize any county, city, borough, township or incorporated district to appropriate money for the assistance of mothers having dependent children and to aged persons—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his point of order.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, is discussing the bill and not the motion.

The PRESIDENT. I think the Senator is reading from the bill in question on which this motion is based. I think it is perfectly in order.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, so that the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, may be perfectly satisfied that I am not violating the rules, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, this resolution does not provide for the expenditure of a single penny of the taxpayers' money. As I said before, it is a resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution, which must be voted on—or could be voted on at this session of the Legislature. If it passes, it could be voted on by the succeeding session and even then there is not a penny of the taxpayers' money spent. And then, when there is an Old Age Pension bill or Mothers' Assistance bill presented to the Assembly, it is then up to the members of the Legislature to decide whether they want to spend the money of the taxpayers. I repeat again, not a single penny of the taxpayers' money will be spent by the passage of this resolution.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, there is a motion before the House, and a question of personal privilege at this time is out of order.

The PRESIDENT. In the opinion of the Chair the point of order is well taken.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RODGERS and Mr. RICE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22.

Baumer,	Lanius,	Pytko,	Rodgers,

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION ON SENATE BILL NO. 693 (HOUSE NO. 132)

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I imagine that you are all aware of the fact that because of the intense interest of the members on matters before the Senate that impulses are aroused, and sometimes words are said on the flare of the moment that would not otherwise be said. However, for a long period of time, on the floor of this Senate, there has been a very studious and systematic campaign against the efficiency of governmental agents and executives, both Federal and State. Mr. President, often from the gentlemen on the left have come outbursts of speech. I will be more specific for the benefit of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, who takes pleasure in interrupting Senators on the floor. I mean the Republican side of the floor. More than once they have engaged in long and abusive attacks against the President of the United States because of his policies. They have engaged in abuse and vilification of Mr. Hopkins, the head of the Relief Administration. They have engaged in vicious, studious and systematic abuse and vilification against the Governor of this State, and yet, when anything is said touching on the integrity of a Committee of the Senate, all Hades turns loose, that it is sacrilegious of the highest type to even question the integrity of a committee of this Senate, and especially of a committee whose chairman has indulged in the most vicious abuses of the Federal Government and the State Government.

Now, Mr. President, whenever we engage in abuse and vilification of the policeman who stands on the street corner to protect you and me, it must occur to the man who abuses and vilifies that policeman that he in fact is abusing and vilifying the form of government, that very majesty of the law that that policeman represents. Whenever we engage in the abuse and vilification of a schoolmaster who teaches the future citizens of our country, that man ought to appreciate that ultimately the abuse and vilification of the schoolmaster is abuse and vilification of the government and the majesty of the government that that schoolmaster represents, and I say, and I say sincerely, that when members of this Senate talk on the floor of this Senate and launch abuse and vilification on the Federal Government and on the State Government and its agents, they only attack, abuse and vilify the very majesty of government that preserves our society and nation, and I cannot understand why the slightest mention of an agency of this Senate not properly performing its duties, that it is something outrageously sacrilegious.

Mr. President, on July 15, 1897, just a few months before I was born, representatives of the people said to the General Assembly which meets on the site that we meet in this General Assembly, saw the necessity of enacting a law for the protection and safety of a group of citizens of this Commonwealth engaged in one of the most hazardous occupations that we have, the operation of the coal industry, the anthracite coal industry. That law that I have indicated was placed on the statute books of State on July 15, 1897, known as the "Miners' Certificate Law." That Act, Mr. President, is of such a nature that it imposes no financial burden upon the industry it belongs to, but it is important and has kept peaceful the relationship of employer and employe to a large extent, and has been the means of saving and protecting the lives of those engaged in the anthracite mines.

Now, on April 2nd of this year, there came from the House of Representatives a law that is an exact duplicate of the anthracite "Miners' Certificate Bill." There is no difference between the two. That bill applies to coal miners engaged in the bituminous coal industry, while the other applies solely to miners in the anthracite industry. This is a classification of the General Assembly—they enact laws for the anthracite region and laws for the bituminous region.

Now, this bill, as I stated, is merely a duplicate of the anthracite "Miners' Certificate Bill". It imposes no liability on any employer, but merely gives to 100,000 bituminous miners the same protection that the General Assembly back in 1897 gave to the anthracite miners. Now, it has been in Committee since April 2nd, and, Mr. President, I would not undertake what I am about to undertake if I were not certain of what has taken place in that committee. I am satisfied that that bill has been considered, and I know the action taken on that bill, and I respect the consideration given by the members of that committee to that bill, and I am at this time satisfied and convinced that the only way that that bill can be brought out and each member of this Senate allowed to vote on the bill one way or another, is by discharging the committee.

Now, of all the motions to discharge made, I have agreed that the vote to discharge the committee or against the discharge, was not a vote for or against the bill, but this bill is in a different situation, and a vote on this motion to discharge is a vote that you would cast for or against the bill, because the bill has no more life unless it receives life by the vote of the membership of this Senate on the floor of this Senate.

Mr. President, therefore, with that in mind, I make the following motion: That the Committee on Judiciary Special be now discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 693, so that the same may be returned to the Senate floor for first reading and constitutional consideration by the members of this body.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RODGERS and Mr. REED (Washington) and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25

Baumer,	Law,	Reed, (Washington)	Sones,
Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	Rice,	Thompson, (Centre)

Chapman,	Harvey,	Norton,	Woodward,
Clark,	Homsher,	Owlett,

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I am glad to hear, here today, from the other side of the house, that there is interest in relieving the tax on real estate. The Republican Party in Pennsylvania have been in control forty years, and after forty years of Republican rule in this State the owner of real estate is paying thirty mills,—after forty years of Republican rule in this State the result is that the real estate owner is paying thirty mills throughout the State of Pennsylvania. Some pay more than that, but the average throughout the State of Pennsylvania is thirty mills. And during the past forty years manufacturing corporations have been exempt to the four-mill tax, and I am glad here this afternoon that at last on the other side there is some relief on real estate. But the Committee on Constitutional Convention held a bill in their committee three months, whereas if there had been prompt action on the bill we might have had a Constitutional amendment within the year, which would have relieved the tax on real estate; and every member of this body knows that we cannot have any real relief from taxation on real estate until there is an amendment to the Constitution.

Now, in view of what the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, said in regard to what we have been hearing here every week for the last three or four weks about attacks on the Federal and State Administrations,—yesterday we heard a very eloquent address here from the new member from Montgomery County,—after listening to those speeches you would almost believe that the bad situation which our country is in today, nationally and State-wide—that this was due to the Roosevelt Administration, of a little over a year, and to the Democratic State Administration of only a few months.

I feel that the Democratic Party cannot be held responsible for the terrible straits that we are in in this country. I charge that to the partnership between Big Business and Government. I feel that if you leave any party in power, Democratic or Republican, for forty years, there will grow up a partnership between Big Business and Government that will wreck a country. Therefore, I contend that no party should be left in power for forty years. As a result of this partnership between Big Business and Government in our nation we had during the ten years, the last ten years of Republican rule in the United States, ten thousand bank failures, whereas just across the line, in Canada, we did not have a single failure during that time. The longer you leave any party in power the more certain it is that Big Business bill bore in at the top, and I am certain that this Administration, the Democratic Administration in this State and in the Nation, will have to be on guard, because I know that Big Business is boring in already, and the longer that party stays in power the more certain it is that Big Business will finally dominate that party.

I remember, years ago, reading LaFollette's magazine, and in that he had a column known as "The Roll Call", and in one of those issues he said that there was a man who used to get up in the United States Senate—a little man—John Dalzell. He said he was repugnant, and sarcastic in his remarks. He did not prepare his speeches, and yet when he got up to speak the people listened to every word he said—"because," he said, "when John Dalzell got up to speak everybody knew the trusts were giving their orders." And here in this Senate, during the last few weeks we heard a lot of eloquence on the part of those attacking the Federal Administration and the State Administration; but in all the weeks I have been in this Senate I have never heard from the other side a word about Old Age Pensions. I have never heard a word about the Industrial Police System of this State, I have never heard a word about the iniquity of overlapping governments, in five or six instances in this State, and the wasting of tax funds; I have never heard a word about minimum wages; but I have heard page after page read here complaining about the tax on corporations, complaining about the exemption of the four-mill tax. Why, you know, the manufacturers of this State have saved about $20,000,000 every year, that even other corporations of this State had to pay—taxes the other corporations had to pay, taxes that other States have to pay; and so the manufacturing corporations of this State have been exempt to the tune of $20,000,000 every year. And now, in these times, when people are starving, when as a result of the iniquity and the harm of a partnership between Big Business and Government it seems the same insane hand has come along and wiped home and life's savings right from under the feet of our people, and in a crisis like this, it does seem that the manufacturers of this State, that have had favors granted to them to the tune of $20,000,000 a year, should come out in this crisis and help pay for unemployment relief and emergency relief in this State.

And so I feel, Mr. President, that there is some hope when the Republican Party—or the Republican side of this house—is complaining about the taxes on real estate and are willing to put the shoulder to the wheel and relieve the taxation on real estate; and I hope from now on, for the next two weeks, we can expect some help from the other side in that respect, if no other.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO JUNE 14TH BE DESIGNATED AS FLAG DAY

He also informed the Senate that the House had concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, June 3, 1935.

Whereas, June 14th is the anniversary of the adoption by the Continental Congress, June 14, 1777, of the Stars and Stripes as the emblem of the United States, and with that date began the history of our Flag as a symbol of our nationality; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania has the honor of giving birth on its soil to our National Emblem; and

Whereas, The American Flag Day Association, which has for over forty (40) years has led the observation of "Flag Day" as a patriotic duty and their affiliated civic, education, patriotic, fraternal, religious and other cooperating organizations which also annually observe Flag Day, have by their example, shown the citizens of Pennsylvania particularly and the Nation at large the influence for good which such observance may exert; and

Whereas, By such collaborations our pride in American citizenship may be emphasized, our faith in and devotion to American institutions strengthened, a stronger love of country shown, our patriotism rekindled and also to perpetuate this observance; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Governor of our Commonwealth be and is hereby authorized and empowered to designate June 14th of each year as Flag Day by proclamation and to request our citizens to observe Flag Day, June 14th, as the anniversary birthday of "Old Glory" and that decorations in our National colors be made, and wherever possible in every community, the American Flag be displayed and worn as a badge of honor and distinction, that in schools and colleges and universities there be special patriotic exercises and societies, clubs and other organizations have suitable programs, and also on the Sunday nearest June 14th, in all places of worship, public recognition be made, that we then give expression to our thoughtful love of America to our determination to make it greater with each generation, by loyal service and loyal living.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

Whereas, Crime is so prevalent in this and other States as to constitute a serious menace to life and property; and

Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

RESOLUTION NO. 162

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 162, Printer's No. 1343.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Advocating retention of labor standards enacted under the National Industrial Recovery Act

In the House of Representatives, June 3, 1935

Whereas The National Industrial Recovery Act by establishing codes of fair competition by eliminating child labor and by setting up minimum rates of wages in coded industries had been of incalcuable benefit to the people of our nation throughout the period of the operation of that Act and

Whereas By decision of the Supreme Court of the United States the continued operation of the National Industrial Recovery Act is declared to be no longer constitutional and

Whereas The highly desirable humane results attained through the National Industrial Recovery Act can and should be retained and augmented by voluntary co-operative action to that end between employers and employes within this Commonwealth Therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That it is the sense of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania that the cause of social justice and the best interests of our people require the maintenance of and continuous improvement in the standards of employment for all wage-earners as essential to eventual economic recovery and sustained prosperity and be it further

Resolved That the General Assembly urge upon our citizenry both employers and employes such steps as may be necessary in good faith to carry out the intent of this concurrent resolution and be it further

Resolved That the General Assembly augment the program outlined herein through the immediate passage of any and all pending legislation that will contribute to the social and economic welfare of the people of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not want to oppose this resolution because in its general character I think it is one which we can all concur. The last "resolve," however, I do not think we ought to allow to pass without some comment as to our position. If you will read page two of the resolution, line 12, it says, "resolved that the General Assembly augment the program outlined herein through the immediate passage of any and all pending legislation that will contribute to the social and economic welfare of the people of Pennsylvania."

Taking that in the liberal sense in which it is written, I think we will all concur that we want to see passed any and all pending legislation that will contribute to the social and economic welfare of the people of Pennsylvania. If that, however, means we are to support any program that would say that all of the legislation which is now before the General Assembly which might by the author or by others be labeled as contributing to the social and economic welfare of the people of Pennsylvania, with that, of course, I cannot concur, because that it a question and a matter of opinion. As I have said so many times here in the House, it is not a question so much of the objective or the principle involved in a piece of legislation, but the particular machinery by which it is sought to bring about the end intended by the legislation.

Therefore, with that explanation and comment, I am asking you to vote "aye" on this resolution, because I am in favor of legislation for the social and economic welfare of the people of Pennsylvania, but I do not want to be misunderstood and later on be accused as not going along with or complying with the resolution for which I voted, when some legislation is sought with which I do not agree.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 2784 (Senate Bill No. 144), Printer's No. 326, on page 12, of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. WICKERSHAM.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2784 (Senate Bill No. 144), entitled:

An Act prescribing the method of making applications for unemployment poor or other relief for the needy making misrepresentations and misstatements in connection therewith the unlawful approval and granting of relief conspiracy to obtain relief and the sale of relief orders and articles received as relief misdemeanors and prescribing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to oppose this bill. Some two or three weeks ago the House passed the Law bill after we amended it, which amendments were concurred in by the Senate and the bill was signed by the Governor last week. There is now upon the statute books ample protection and means of punishing those who violate the law with regard to obtaining relief. This bill goes further and provides that any person who makes any misrepresentation or misstatement in any application for obtaining any such relief, and I may say that the bill is so broadly worded that it applies not only to public relief but to any sort of charity. I believe if you will read section one, which is extremely broad, if you are convicted of it you shall be sentenced to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or not more than five hundred dollars, or to undergo imprisonment for not less than three months or not more than a year, or both.

On general principles, no matter what the crime is that you are punishing I am opposed to penal measures which provide minimum sentences which must be imposed by the courts regardless of the circumstances. It is very bad policy. A person may commit a very slight infraction, which would make him technically guilty, and under this act he would have to be sentenced to a fine of one hundred dollars or to an imprisonment of three months.

That sort of legislation is bad, no matter what the particular crime may be, and in this particular case we have already got statutes on the books which cover the situation, and to add this to it is just adding insult to injury.

I ask the members of the House to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the Law bill which the gentleman from Berks refers to, as I read the measure, was designed to punish applicants for relief who misrepresented their condition of their need.

This bill as I read it, is designed to punish members of relief organizations who conspire with relief applicants. The two bills cover, to my mind, entirely different fields. The gentleman from Berks, in attacking this measure, is making a plea in behalf of conspiracy, because that is what this bill does; it punishes the members of relief organizations who conspire for the purpose of defrauding the state, and it is to my mind a meritorious measure and should be passed.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I will ask the gentleman from Cambria who has just spoken to read the second paragraph of section one of the bill, which very definitely applies to persons who make application for relief. It is true that there has been an amendment added to the bill in Section 2 which covers the field he mentions, but so long as the first section, particularly paragraph two thereof, remains in the bill, it applies also to applicants who are already covered by the other bill. Even with all of that, regardless of whom the bill applies to, this is bad legislation to put through a measure which makes mandatory a minimum fine and a minimum jail sentence.

We have several such measures on the books at the present time with the result that the courts are continually confronted with the situation wherein the persons are technically guilty, they want to plead guilty, but they are compelled to say, "You had better not, because if you do I have got to give you so and so," whereas the crime is not serious enought to warrant a penalty to that extent. So long as the bill is in this form, including applicants that are covered in the Law bill, I think it should be defeated.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in my opinion in the way in which this bill is drawn, it should be defeated. In the second section of the bill, the reading of the act is such that if any charitable organization, whether or not that charitable organization is using public funds, gives money to a person who is not legally entitled to relief, the officers of that charitable organization whether it be a fraternal organization or a religious organization or any other sort of charitable organization, the officers would be liable to the mandatory penalty provided in this act. I ask the members of the House to vote down this bill.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, last week I moved to place this bill on the postponed calendar, and when I did so I stated two very good reasons. The first was, then at that time we were under the impression that the Law bill was unsatisfactory to its author and would not become a law. Since that time the Law bill has been signed by the Governor covering the same subject.

I ask that this bill be defeated because we already have the Law bill upon the statute books, secondly, because obvious defects in this bill, which at the time of the postponement we intended to eradicate have not been eliminated. These defects have been pointed out to you by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, and by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

Therefore, because of these two facts I ask you to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, sometime ago Robert L. Johnson issued orders that all relief chiselers shall be prosecuted. We found in some of our investigations where investigators have given as many as sixty pairs of shoes to one party. Should they be shielded? Should they be exempt? Why go after the chiseler? Why not go after the investigator himself?

We complain about expenditures. In order to be a relief investigator you must have a college education, you must have certain qualifications, and surely if you must have those qualifications you should have some penalty imposed upon you if you go out and issue money orders, food or clothing orders, to friends of yours that are not entitled to it.

SPECIAL ORDER ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business on third reading and final passage fixed for this hour, being House Bill No. 1373, Printer's No. 1337.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1373 as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that House Bill No. 1373, Printer's No. 1337, is unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, raises the point of order that House Bill No. 1373, Printer's No. 1337, is unconstitutional. In accordance with the previous ruling of the Chair, this being a point of order on the constitutionality of a bill, the Chair submits the question to the House for its decision?

On the question,

Will the House sustain the point of order?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MOOMAW. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw, whether or not the amendments which were placed in this bill in the Committee on Counties before it was reported out the last time, were prepared by Mr. John H. Fertig of the Legislative Reference Bureau.

Mr. MOOMAW. They were, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw, whether or not Mr. Fertig has ever furnished him with a written opinion on the question of the constitutionality of the bill, as amended in the manner in which these amendments amend it.

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, I will say that Mr. Fertig did give an opinion of what he possibly thought, but it was not pertaining to these particular amendments in their present form.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw, whether or not he has an opinion from the Attorney General concerning the constitutionality of the bill as it is now drafted and now before us.

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, the Department of Justice has carefully weighed some cases which can possibly be considered as parallel with this bill. The Department of Justice, however, only gives formal opinions as requested by the Governor on measures which have become law. They have, however, informally advised me that while there are several controversial features which can be considered, in their opinion they consider the bill as drafted with these amendments as constitutional.

However, they further state that regardless of what any legal head may say, in the final analysis, it is up to the Supreme Court and on any measure practically the Supreme Court can rule as they see fit, and their decision only is final.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Mr. John H. Fertig, who is the director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, is recognized throughout this Commonwealth as one of the most outstanding constitutional lawyers. I believe that it can be conceded without question that there is not another man in this Commonwealth who has had the experience, who has had the background, who has had the training to determine whether or not legislation is constitutional.

The bill which is before us in the form which it is now before us is unconstitutional according to the opinion of John H. Fertig, who drew the amendment and who drew the bill. I have spoken with him concerning that point.

I also have before me a written opinion, which was furnished by Mr. Fertig concerning the constitutionality of this bill as now amended. I am of the opinion that it is the same opinion which was furnished to the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw. Then, Mr. Speaker, with the consent of the House. I desire to read into the record this opinion:

"I have your request to be advised whether House Bill No. 1373, proposing to establish a centralized county system for the collection of local taxes may be amended to make its operation in any county depend upon its acceptance by local action.

"It is necessary at the outset to note the distinctions between the proposal and so-called local option laws The existing local option laws operate in the field of the police power and are designed to give to a local community the right to determine certain facts for instance whether it wants liquors sold in the community or whether it favors

Sunday baseball or football. Under local option laws a community is never permitted to decide the basic question whether the law shall or shall not operate in the community the question here involved. The distinction is well explained by the Supreme Court in Locke's Appeal 72 Pa. 491, in which that court considered a local option liquor law. The court in considering the point whether the law delegated legislative power, said this, (quoting from page 498, bottom):

> 'Then the true distinction, I conceive, is this: The legislature cannot delegate its power to make a law: but it can make a law to delegate a power to determine some fact or state of things upon which the law makes or intends to make, its own action depend. To deny this would be to stop the wheels of government. There are many things upon which wise and useful legislation must depend which cannot be known to the law-making power, and must, therefore, be a subject of inquiry and determination outside the halls of legislation. * * * * If the power to determine the expediency or necessity of granting licenses to sell liquors in a municipal division can be committed to * * * * a court, which no one can dispute, why cannot people themselves be authorized to determine the same thing?"

"In the case of local option laws, the law comes complete from the legislative halls. It is in full force and in operation. The voters do not determine whether the act should apply in a given community. That point the legislature has decided for itself. The voters are given the power only to say whether or not liquor licenses shall be granted.

"The same is true of the Sunday baseball law. This law applied to the entire State when enacted. It prohibited Sunday baseball unless the electors voted for such games, and then declared that a favorable vote made the game on Sunday lawful. The law was in operation, but the voters decided the manner in which it should operate.

"Here we have an entirely different situation. This proposed law, if made optional, would not be in force anywhere. It would have no life whatever. It would require action of the people to bring it into being, not action on the part of the legislature. The difference is well illustrated by another excerpt from this same case, (quoting from page 487):

> 'If we admit the fact that the law now before us was of this character, an imperfect and unfinished act, a mere invitation, to the people to issue their mandate, and to breathe into it vitality, and thus give to it all its validity and binding efficacy as a law, we might concede the conclusion that there was a delegation to the people of the power to legislate.

II

"There is one illustration where a law may be passed the operation of which in a given community depends upon its acceptance, but this is also readily distinguishable.

"When cities were first classified in 1874 into three classes, this same act provided for the incorporation of cities of the third class. When passed, it did not apply to a single city, but any city of the third class thereafter incorporated had to come under its provisions. Certain cities, which by population belonged in the third class as established by the Act of 1874, had theretofore been created by special charters. These cities were given the option to surrender their special charters and to accept the Act of 1874. When this acceptance clause first came before the Supreme Court, it was held unconstitutional, but subsequently the court ordered a re-argument and the clause was upheld in Reading v. Savage, 124 Pa. 328. The court said, (quoting from page 336):

> When the requirements of the fifty-seventh section are complied with in any given case of a pre-existing city, such city enters into the third class of cities whose future incorporation has been provided for, and becomes a constituent part thereof. No city is prevented from doing this, and all have the opportunity of doing it. Those that do not embrace the opportunity simply remain as they were before, and all that do embrace it become members of a class whose existence and all elements of whose governments are regulated by general law. There is no possibility of any exercise of the powers or privileges, conferred by the 57th section, which can work affirmatively a local or special result. Whatever is done by virtue of this section simply converts that which was, or might be, local or special, into that which is general.

"When this law came from the legislative halls it was complete. It did not depend upon an acceptance to put it into operation. True, when passed, it did not apply to any city, but it did provide a manner for the incorporation of a city, which when incorporated became automatically subject to its provisions. Here again the people decided a fact, whether a city should be incorporated, and this decision having been made, the law passed by the legislature for its government, applied.

"The 57th section afforded those cities incorporated by special law, which came within the population basis of third class cities, the right to accept the act and to surrender their charters. This acceptance did not breathe life into the act,—it already had that—it simply extended the field of its operation, and this tended to produce a unified system of laws for these cities instead of having many of them acting under special charters. The result of this wise decision was that all cities in that class are now governed by a uniform law, including those incorporated under the general law and those accepting it. The one point which moved the court into holding this acceptance clause constitutional was that it produced uniformity.

III

"Here we have the converse situation. There is now a general system of laws providing for the collection of local taxes. True, in some territories this system does not apply in its entirety, but this is due wholly to the existence of local laws passed prior to 1874, which have not been surrendered or repealed. Since 1874, all laws adopted have uniformly applied to all local government or to complete classes of local government. Now if it were proposed that the local governments should surrender their local tax laws and accept the existing general laws, we would have the exact situation pointed to in discussing the Third Class City Law of 1874. Instead, we have the converse. Having a general system, it proposed to put on the books an additional system which, the instant it is placed into operation in one community, destroys the uniformity now existing. We are thus forced to the position which was held invalid in the case of Frost v. Cherry, 122 Pa. 417. In that case the legislature passed a law repealing the Fence Law of 1700, which applied throughout the Commonwealth, but provided that the repeal should not be effective until the voters of a county voted in favor of the repeal. While here, as pointed out in discussing the local option laws, there seems to be a clear case of the delegation of legislative power, the courts held the law unconstitutional on the theory that to put this act into operation resulted in local legislation. Having held the act invalid on this point, the court said 'we have not considered it necessary to discuss the question of the delegation of power.' Speaking of the effect of such an acceptance of the act producing a local law, the court said, (quoting from page 427):

> 'Is it a local law? Upon this point we are free from doubt. It is to be observed that the first section, repealing the Act of 1700, does not go into effect in any county by its own force. If it did, we might sustain it even if the rest of the act were unconstitutional. But the first section is tied to the second section by an umbilical cord. If we cut it they both perish. The first section (in our case the act) is only effective after a vote of the people in each county. If a majority of any county vote in favor of it, then the act takes effect in such county; if the majority should be against it, the act does not take effect. Thus, it may very well happen that Venango County may vote in favor of the repeal, and its adjoining counties against it. We then have one law in Venango County regulating fences and a different law in the adjoining counties, both local laws prohibited by the Constitution.'

"This is exactly the situation which would result if this proposed tax collection law were made optional. The instant one county adopted it, there would be a local law in that county, and the existing general law would become local because it no longer applied uniformly.

IV

We need, however, not rely on the cases which I have cited before, since there is a case exactly in point—Schanton School District, 113 Pa. 176. In this case the court considered the Act of 1875, March 18, P. L. 15, which provided for the assessment, levy and collection of taxes in cities of the third class. A proviso to the fifth section of the act excluded it from operating until a city, by ordinance, accepted its provisions. The court construing the act said, (quoting from page 189):

'According to this all cities that do accept, will be subject to the methods of assessment and collection prescribed by the first five sections, and all that do not will not be subject, and as to them different methods, will prevail. Whether the methods prescribed by the act shall be the law, will depend. not upon the terms of the legislation, but upon the will of others who are not lawmakers at all; and what may be the law in one city of the third class may not be the law in another city of the same class. In other words, a majority of the members of the city councils in any one city of the third class may impose upon the inhabitants of that city a method of taxation which may not prevail in any other city of the Commonwealth. A law which authorizes this to be done is, in our judgment, clearly obnoxious to the seventh section of the third article of the Constitution, which prohibits the General Assembly from passing any local or special law regulating the affiairs of counties, cities, townships, wards, boroughs, or school district.'

"It seems to me that the proposal involved constitutes a delegation of legislative power, and I am convinced that the acceptance clause makes the act unconstitutional as a local law. There can be no doubt on this latter point.

Respectfully yours
J. H. Fertig
Director"

Now, members of the House, if this bill is clearly unconstitutional as it appears by the opinion of the most outstanding constitutional lawyer, whose opinion I think is available, who has given this matter very careful consideration, who has personally written an opinion on it, then I say that it is the duty of the members of this House under their oath to vote to sustain the point of order which I have raised, to vote "aye" on this point of order and to have this bill declared unconstitutional.

I have a great deal of respect for our Attorney General. He is one of the most outstanding lawyers in this state. However, his training and his background has not been that of a constitutional lawyer. I think that if he had set out in the beginning to be a constitutional lawyer, he probably would have ranked among the very first in this state. I think a great deal of his ability, but I submit, members of the House, that he has not furnished you a formal opinion. He has not been able in his office at the present time with all the work that is there, to give this matter the attention which it should have, and due to the fact that he is not in a position to come before this House as is the director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, and state definitely and conclusively that in his opinion this bill is constitutional, I submit that the authority which is before this House, and the best authority that is available, is that this bill is unconstitutional, and under the oath which we have taken to support this constitution it is our duty to vote "aye" on this point of order.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like very much to concur in the high opinion which Mr. Woodside has of Mr. Fertig. However, I would like to call the attention of the members of the House that when the President of the United States wished to form the NIRA, he called together the brain trust, which included possibly the finest lawyers in the United States, but the NIRA was declared unconstitutional by the highest tribunal in the United States. I do not think that this House has the right to take any one man's word or any one lawyer's advice on the constitutionality of any clause in this particular bill. If it is unconstitutional, let us pass the bill and take it up and find out.

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the opinion which the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, has read to you was drawn several days or probably two weeks before Mr. Fertig drew these amendments, and at the time these amendments were drawn he did not in one single instance mention to me in the discussion of them that these amendments as he has now drawn them would be unconstitutional.

I might further state, supplementing my remarks as to the informal opinion rendered by the Department of Justice, when they were going over this matter for several days, in fact from one Wednesday until the following Tuesday, they had in their possession this complete opinion from Mr. Fertig. Notwithstanding the fact that they had it and naturally considered it they still rendered that informal opinion which I set forth in my previous remarks.

I do not think that on a question which is so controversial as this particular question is and has been in the state of Pennsylvania for the past fifteen or twenty years, that we should stop with any single man's opinion but should carry it to the Supreme Court so that we may have a final decision by which we shall all abide.

We know that in thirty-seven states a system of centralized tax collection has worked out, and not in one instance have they ever attempted to go back to a system similar to that which we have in Pennsylvania, and to merely prohibit the people of the State of Pennsylvania from having the opportunity to vote on whether or not they desire to take advantage of a system similar to that practiced in other states successfully, I think we should at least carry it to the Supreme Court and get a final decision on the matter.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as a member of the Committee that conferred with the Attorney General and his assistants I would state that the Attorney General's office said this, "that for every decision of the Supreme Court to the effect that amendments of this sort were unconstitutional, there was also another decision of the Supreme Court that amendments of this kind were constitutional. In other words, the Supreme Court has decided this issue both ways, and as the Attorney General's office states, this question could be decided either way in accordance with the precedents of the Supreme Court, and we were, therefore, advised that there was more than a fifty fifty chance for amendments of this kind—that the Supreme Court in its next guess was altogether as likely to decide that they were constitutional as it was to decide that they were unconstitutional.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the two things that have been said, one by the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw, the other by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, I wish to make this statement.

This opinion which I read was written on the tenth day of May, 1935, which was before the time when these amendments were drafted. I have spoken to Mr. Fertig since the time these amendments have been drafted and he says that his opinion has not been changed one iota. He said further that he would like very much to see any opinion, has one or two men draft this opinion and then a tendency to have this opinion reversed.

I wish further to state, Mr. Speaker, that the Attorney General's office, when it makes either a formal or informal opinion, officially makes a formal or an informal opinion, ha sone or two men draft this opinion and then that opinion is passed around the office so that each deputy attorney general reads that opinion and passes upon it. I have been advised that has not been done in this case, and I know that it is not the unanimous opinion of the Attorney General's Department that this bill could be declared constitutional.

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is no doubt in my mind that this Assembly here has the right and the jurisdiction over constitutional questions. However, we must consider this fact, in the first place, this House is not composed of lawyers, and if it were composed of lawyers, there very possibly would be a division of opinion on questions of this kind.

It is also evident that if we pass upoon the constitutionality of this bill before this House and we should support the motion made on the point of order raised by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, that the courts of Pennsylvania would not be given an opportunity to pass upon the question.

Therefore, I think that in view of the fact that this bill is very important that this House should defeat the point of order and give the people of Pennsylvania and the courts of Pennsylvania the chance to pass upon the question of the constitutionality of the act.

On the question recurring,

Will the House sustain the point of order?

So the question was determined in the negative and the point of order was not sustained?

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill has been dressed up, painted, and masked to fool the people and to fool this Legislature. The proponents of this bill have carried on propaganda by radio, by bulletin, by press and by all the other means in order to lead the public and members of this House into thinking that this bill did certain advantageous things. When I refer to the proponents of this bill, I do not refer to the sponsors, who have been, I believe, perfectly honest in their motives and have been very fair in their dealings but I do refer to the outside interests who have carried on propoganda which is misleading to the public and which is misleading to the members of this House. I hope that I will be able in a short time to tear away from this hideous creature the mask so that it can be seen in all its hideousness.

The one thing that the proponents of this bill have been crying is that it will save three million dollars, until they have "couied" themselves into believing it. The thing that impresses me concerning this matter has been the entire lack of consideration of the human element. We talk about dollars as if there were no human values involved; we talk abaut dollars as if there was no fundamental governmental principle involved.

I am thinking now of a tax collector in my district in the borough of Lykens, who when he was a boy was shot in the back accidentally. He will never be able to walk, but he is earning and I use advisedly the word "earning",—he is earning an honest livelihood and rendering a service to his community as its tax collector.

I am thinking of another tax collector not five miles away from him, who for twenty-five years, although a cripple who has to crawl around on the floor, which is his desk, has been rendering a service to his community as its tax collector and has suported for these twenty-five years an aged mother.

Of course, those fellows are tax eaters; we are not to consider them; they are monsters; they are not to be taken into consideration in this matter.

Outside of the borough of Steelton there are thirty-eight of those in my district. What is the magnificent sum that those thirty-eight tax collectors are paid for the services which they render to their communities? The magni-ficant sum of approximately $38,000, less than a thousand dollars a piece. We are to throw out of a job 2300 tax collectors in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to save at the figures of the proponents of this bill, roughly twenty-three hundred thousand dollars.

Will the taxpayers benefit? Take my district, how much will it amount to that these tax collectors are paid? Does it amount to a mill of tax upon the real estate in any of the sub-divisions of the government? No. Does it amount to a half a mill? Possibly in a few districts. Does it amount to a quarter of a mill? In a good many districts it runs about that, and in a good many it runs less. What will be done with that quarter mill? Will that be passed on to the taxpayers? Well, I think to ask the question is to answer it. But I will yield. I will admit that these tax collectors are employes of the government, are being paid by the taxpayers, and that they are possibly not the primary consideration in this matter. I subscribe to the proposition of the greatest good to the greatest number. Let us take up what this bill is and what it does. In the first place, it is a centralization of power. It is taking away from the district and the people of the district the right to say who their tax collector is to be, and requires that they shall unite with a number of other districts in picking one tax collector.

Centralized power, centralized authority, so that in my district the people in the upper end of the county, living from twenty to forty-five miles away from the county seat will have their taxes collected in Harrisburg by clerks from Harrisburg.

I submit that it is a stab at home rule. I submit, members of the House, that fundamentally it is a step in the wrong direction.

Then, in the second place, let us consider the inconvenience it will cause the taxpayer. We talk a lot about the taxpayer. He is the one for whom the proponents of this bill suggest that it should be passed. How about the inconvenience that he will be put to? I have been told by one of the members of this House that he stood in line for two hours to pay taxes in the city of Pittsburgh. That is one of the effects of the centralized system. Of course, I do not suppose his two hours of time was worth anything to him. I do not suppose that the time involved in the paying of taxes by the taxpayer is worth anything to him.

Let me relate very briefly how taxes are collected in small communities. I do not need to do that for the members who are from small communities, but possibly some of the members here from the cities do not realize what the tax collector really does and what his work really is. When the tax collector gets his duplicate he sends out his notices, he sits at certain places, at certain times when they can come and pay their taxes. In the townships he may sit at three or four or five or six different places, so that it will convenient for everyone in the entire township to walk to where he sits and pay him in cash.

I am told upon investigation that approximately sixty-five per cent of the taxes are paid in cash. When the time for delinquency comes around the tax colector starts after his taxes. He goes to the home. He knows where the person works. He knows whether he has an automobile. He knows whether he has anything that can be levied upon, if he is trying to beat him. He knows when he is going to get his pay. He knows when he is going to sell his wheat, his corn. He is Johnnie on the spot. He knows when the sale is to be had, when he is going to dispose of something, and he is there to get his tax. He goes to the taxpayer and the taxpayer says to him, "I have got a dollar to apply on my five dollar tax." He says, "All right, I will take it and I will see you for the balance on the coming pay day." All that is done away with under this system. Instead we will have a system whereby the taxpayer will have to go and pay his taxes at the county seat or mail it or in some way or other go to the trouble and expense in order to get the money into the county seat. Maybe he will have to buy a money order, maybe he will have to go to the bank and buy a check and send it in by check. At any rate he will be put to considerable inconvenience and considerable additional expense. I submit to you that in most instances in the rural sections that will amount to considerably more than the amount he will save. It will also put to considerable inconvenience the municipal subdivisions who are levying the taxes. I happen to be the solicitor for the borough council and also for the school district at Millersburg. Within the past month I sat with both of those bodies; they sat with our tax collector and went over the exoneration list, and have gone over their mutual problems, to determine who is to be exonerated and how the tax money should be gotten.

I say to the members of this House, that had each one of you the opportunity to sit in at a meeting like that, I would not take the floor against this bill because it would not be necessary, for every member of this House, I feel confident, would vote against this measure.

Now, there is another question which is very important. We have efficiency experts in business. Their main idea is to get rid of a lot of jobs. And by so doing they think we will have "efficiency," regardless of the fact that by getting rid of a lot of those jobs we may greatly reduce the efficiency of the organization.

In Pensylvania we have a per capita tax and we have an occupation tax. In many of the rural districts, we use the per capita tax is a great deal, and I say to the members, of the House, if this bill is passed, we are going to have to abolish the per capita tax the year after it goes into effect.

What does that mean? We talk a lot about relief to the real estate tax payer. If the per capita tax in my own borough is abolished it means an additional rate of four mills a year for school taxes. You can not collect the per capita tax under the system which is set forth in this bill. I submit, members of the House, that this is a serious consideration.

Then we come to the only question that has been spoken about by the proponents of this bill, and that is the question of the three million dollar hooey. According to the latest statistics available from the Department of Internal Affairs the amount paid to tax payers in the boroughs and townships and school districts, everything outside the cities, in nineteen thirty-two was three million three hundred eighty-five thousand two hundred and fifteen dollars. In nineteen thirty-three it will be less than that, and in nineteen thirty-four, it will be still less—less, I submit, than three million dollars. Yet by some means or some hocus-pocus we are to save three million dollars. Let us use their own figures. They say, "Here in Ohio you can collect the duplicate in nineteen thirty-two for one million three hundred thousand dollars." I will admit, if taking their own figures, it will save one million seven hundred thousand dollars or whatever it happens to be, that might offset several of the other evil effects of this measure. Where is the joker? There is a joker in that. I am reading now from the report given to the committee, by Mr. Becker, chief of the county affairs division of the Ohio Tax Commission. He says this: "The cost of collecting taxes from the same persons is approximately the same whether the amount levied is three hundred million dollars or whether it is two hundred million dollars."

What does it mean? It means this—you can not compare the cost of collection on the amount of the duplicate. You have to compare it on the number of taxables. There is a joker in the whole business. They come before you and they say, "Yes, it costs so much to collect a duplicate of this kind in Ohio; it costs so much to collect a duplicate of this kind in Pennsylvania; therefore Pennsylvania is extravagant."

But the cost of collection does not depend upon the duplicate. Down in Delaware county they collected transfer inheritance tax a year or two ago on a commission of slightly over one fourth of one per cent. Why? Because they had a big tax payment and they were well paid.

I submit, members of the House, it is not fair the way this matter has been submitted to you, the way we have been attempted to be fooled on this basis of comparison. There are many more taxables in Pennsylvania than there are in Ohio. We must not only compare it on the basis of population, but also in consideration of the fact that the per capita tax makes necessary the handling of a much more difficult situation in Pennsylvania than would exist in Ohio.

It is interesting to note that the amount of taxes collected in Ohio has dropped from three hundred twenty-four million dollars in nineteen hundred twenty-eight to two hundred and three million dollars in nineteen hundred thirty-three. How much of that has been the result of the failure of the system? I might go on indefinitely taking comparison after comparison and figure after figure and I believe truly that I can convince you that this will not save any money as a whole to the state of Pennsylvania or to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania.

Maybe that is the reason why in some of the counties of Pennsylvania, where a centralized collecting tax system was had, they abolished it. I want to call your attention to another fact that I think is important, and that we very frequently overlook and have not given much consideration in this matter. That is that under the law the legislature does not set the tax collector's salaries. The tax collector's salary is not fixed definitely and permanently. Each district, the school district, the borough council, the township commissioner, sets the amount the tax collector can receive for collecting its taxes. Now, if a tax collector is receiving too much; and he may be in some districts of Pennsylvania, then the district which is paying the bill, the district which is paying him, the school board which is spending the money can reduce the amount which he will receive.

How do they go about putting into this bill the saving? In the first place they change the bond provision. They find that under the bill as originally drafted it would be impossible to get any surety company to issue a bond at any premium that it would be possible to pay. So they change the provision so that the tax collector's surety in the county system will not be liable to the same degree as our present tax collector's surities. In Harrisburg, they pay seven or eight thousand dollars a year for tax collector's bonds, I believe. If we change the law relative to the provision for bonds of the present tax collectors, we can save as much and more money than could be saved by changing that provision in this bill.

Then, they say another thing. They say, "Oh well, we will get the bank to do the collecting free of charge." Maybe they will and maybe they won't. I do not believer they will. I have spoken to some of the banks in my district and they say they will not act as collector. I think perhaps Governor Earle would serve without pay. Maybe he would. I don't know. Why not reduce his salary to one dollar a year? I think it would be just as sensible and just as reasonable.

Then they have introduced another amendment which has just gone in, providing that the clerical hire will not exceed one fourth of one per cent of the tax duplicate.

I want to read from a statement of the proponents of the bill furnished to the committee: "Number and salary of clerks. After careful consideration of this question it was decided that it would not be possible to limit the number or fix the salaries of clerks to be used in tax collection work in advance of some definite experience with the requirements in counties of various sizes. It would be quite possible by doing so either to so cripple the operation of the act that it would be impossible to carry out its provisions effectively or to allow for assistants that may prove to be needed."

That careful consideration, I guess, is now changed. The answer to all this is going to be, "Oh, well, it is a local option matter. You are going to send it to the people and let the people decide it." You are arguing what should be argued to the people.

I have one thing to say, one more thing, and that is on this question of local option. In the cities of the third class they maintain their local tax collectors under this bill. The say, "oh, yes, it is all right for you fellows out in the rural sections, it is all right for the boroughs and townships to abolish your tax collector, we are going to keep ours, we are going to make our county treasurer our tax collector." We say more, we say, "Oh, yes, we are not going to stop there, we are going to give you the right under the provisions of this bill to decide whether or not rural sections are going to abolish their tax collectors."

The cities of the third class who refuse to give up their local tax collectors, who maintain their local system of tax collection, are to decide under this local option amendment whether or not the people outside the cities in the same county are to have their local tax collectors or whether they are to be collected in the county seat. That would have a considerable effect in a number of counties. In Allegheny County, Berks, Blair, Dauphin, Delaware, Lackawanna, Lawrence, Lycoming, Northampton, Venango, and others, the population of the cities in the counties in some cases will exceed and in others practically equal the population outside the cities, yet those people living in the cities are to decide, while maintaining their own tax collector, mind you, whether or not the people outside the cities are to have their tax collectors abolished.

I submit from beginning to end this bill has not been well considered. It is not proper legislation and should be voted down.

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while I have before me sufficient statistics and sufficient facts that I could refute in detail every argument that has been brought up by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, I am only going to take a few moments of your time to answer a few of the points brought out by the gentleman.

I want to start in the main, where the gentleman from Dauphin terminated his argument, namely, that of third class cities. This measure does affect third class cities. in the collection of county taxes. The county taxes in the city of Harrisburg for the year 1932 were sixty-five percent of all the county taxes collected in Dauphin County, and more than twenty-five percent of the total amount of taxes of all kinds collected in Dauphin County. I can take other cities or counties which he has mentioned and that same percentage carries out in practically every one, and in some instances it goes as high as reaching seventy-four percent of the taxes.

I submit to you, why should we disfranchise the people of those cities, when their proportion of the taxes is as great as I have set forth, and these are figures of the 1932 collection? He spoke of the state of Ohio and some of the other states, naming in particular the state of Ohio. I have before me here the statistics of the number of different taxes that are collected in the state of Ohio and likewise in the state of Pennsylvania and Indiana.

In the state of Ohio they have seven separate classes of taxes which the county tax collector collects. In the state of Indiana they have six. In Pennsylvania they have five. In the instance of Indiana they not only collect one per capita tax but they collect two per capita taxes.

Of the number of states which have a centralized system of tax collection, twenty-three of those states have a per capita or a poll tax to be collected, and as I said previously, Indiana and I believe some others have more than one poll tax which is collected by the county tax collector.

He also mentioned that in Ohio the amount of taxes collected made quite a substantial drop. True, those figures are absolutely correct, which I presume he obtained from the official records, but he did not give you the reason for that. He merely inferred that it was due to a centralized tax collection system. If that were the case, why didn't those taxes drop in years previous to the year that he mentioned. I will give you the real true reason why the amount of taxes dropped in the state of Ohio. The same thing happened in the state of Indiana. It was because that whole system of assessed valuation in the state of Ohio was dropped possibly thirty percent with no increase in millage. That does not then indicate any drop in collection, in fact the amount of taxes did not drop thirty percent, but the assessed valuation did, with no increase. So, in reality, the tax collections went up, while the gentleman from Dauphin has tried to paint the picture that they have been reduced.

I am going to cite here some of the taxes that are collected in Ohio by the county tax collector. This is given by a man who spent forty-two years in the state of Ohio.. He states: "I know something about that state's tax collection scheme. Ohio does collect personal taxes. It collects taxes on automobiles (other than license fees), on furniture, watches, pianos, cows, horses, farm equipment, equipment of professional men, merchandise in stores equipment of manufacturing concerns, pole line, utility equipment such as central office equipment, wires, cables." I can name a dozen others that are on that list.

Those are all collected by the county tax collectors. The gentleman also spoke, and he answered what I intended to answer, that we are taking away, in effect, home rule. In the first instance, do we not elect our county officers? In the second instance, are we not putting this directly up to the people in those counties?

He also spoke of the reduction in the millage rate, speaking about one mill or half of a mill. I again submit to you that if we are going to bring about a reduction in the cost of local government, we cannot do it all by eliminating one particular branch of government. That would paralyze it. The reduction must be made in small proportional amounts in all of the different forms of local and state government. We cannot do it by taking one particular unit, but we must start somewhere. In this session of the Legislature, we have enacted many tax bills, but aside from the abatement bill I have failed to find where this Legislature has passed one real piece of legislation to help reduce local taxation in the various communities from which we come, and that, I believe, practically every member of the House so pledged himself when he came to Harrisburg. I think it is high time that we start somewhere, and I do not believe that there is any other measure that is better to start with than this particular bill. We are putting it directly up to the people as to whether or not they want to try it out the same as it has been tried out and found to be successful in thirty-seven other states of the Union.

Therefore, I ask you to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

The SPEAKER. The House will now resume consideration of House Bill No. 2784, Senate Bill No. 144.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it is very difficult to defend a bill when the sponsors have walked away from it, but I want to call the attention of the members of the House to what has happened in this particular instance. It represents another triumph for the embattled social workers. The investigations that we have had in this state have barely touched the surface of the chiseling. Representatives of thousands of social workers on the state relief pay roll and the social workers on private agency pay rolls have certified friends, relatives and neighbors improperly on the pay roll, and they know it. The only measure that could allay that evil is the enactment of a bill something like this. I simply want to voice my protest against the second triumph that these social workers have to their credit.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 3, 1935.

Whereas, For a period of 25 years studies and surveys have been made by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and Engineers of the Flood Commission of Pittsburgh for a system of flood control reservoirs in the headwaters of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, the expense of which surveys were met by moneys appropriated by the Congress of the United States, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the County of Allegheny, the City of Pittsburgh, and by the contributions of taxpayers both private individuals and industries; and

Whereas, Nine of the proposed reservoirs are in Pennsylvania and are part of a system of 14 reservoirs in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky studied and approved by the Mississippi Committee of the National Resources Board, by the Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., by Major W. H. Gravell, P. V. A. Engineer for Pennsylvania and by the Tri-State authority, a voluntary organization of the mayors. burgesses and presidents of municipal council in 230 municipalities in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia; and

Whereas, The first reservoir in the system is now under construction on the Tygart river in West Virginia, a tributary of the Monongahela, at a total cost of about $15,000,000. allocated entirely from Federal Public Works Emergency funds, and already giving employment directly and indirectly to about 4,000 men; and

Whereas, The construction of the remaining 13 reservoirs in the system at a total estimated cost of $70,117,000 will give employment to an estimated 60,000 men out of a total of 200,000 unemployed in the vicinity of the reservoir sites, besides consuming great quantities of construction materials such as sand, gravel, cement, steel, lumber, tools and machinery, thus furnishing employment to additional thousands; and

Whereas, The construction of these proposed reservoirs and the Muskingum Project in Ohio are estimated by the Mississippi Valley Committee of the National Resources Board in its report of Oct. 1, 1934 to reduce floods 5 to 6 feet at Pittsburgh, 4 to 6 feet at Cincinnati, 2 to 4 feet at Louisville, and ½ to 1 foot at Cairo (confluence of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers), affording flood protection to a population of several million people and their properties, occupations and pursuits and thus constituting a project national in scope and effects; and

Whereas, In addition to furnishing protection from floods the proposed reservoirs will improve navigation in the Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio rivers in periods of low and high water, will benefit sanitary conditions of domestic water supplies to millions of population and provide possible future sources of hydro-electric energy; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Senate of Pennsylvania memorialize the Federal Public Works Administration, through the Administrator, Secretary Harold L. Ickes, to procure allocation of Federal Public Works Emergency funds to begin at once construction of additional reservoirs in this system, of which the following have been located in Pennsylvania by the Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., the Allegheny reservoir, the Conemaugh, the French Creek, the Tionesta Creek, the Red Bank Creek, the Mahoning Creek, the Crooked Creek, the Loyalhanna Creek reservoirs, all on or tributary to the Allegheny river, and the Shenango river reservoir, tributary to the Ohio river at an estimated total cost of $54,900,000, all to be allocated out of Federal Public Works funds for temporary relief of unemployment, and for permanent social benefit to millions of population dwelling in the watersheds of the rivers referred to.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, the Secretary of War and the Chief of Engineers of the United States Army, by the Secretary of the Senate.

Ordered That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. KOBELAK asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1593, Printer's No. 1271, on page 6 of today's calendar, bills on second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1593 entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for Old Age Assistance

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of nineteen million eight hundred eighty thousand dollars ($19,880,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated out of the General Fund to the Department of Welfare for expenditure during the biennium ending the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven for Old Age Assistance in the manner provided by law

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I realize it is unusual to speak on a bill when it is called up on second reading, but because of certain information which I have obtained concerning this measure I feel that I should briefly call the attention of the House to it. This is a measure in which every member of the House is vitally interested. It is the appropriation to the Department of Welfare for old age assistance. I think without doubt that every member of this House has had numerous of his constituents call upon him during the past few months wondering why they did not get their old age assistance or when they were going to get it, or whether the Legislature was going to make a sufficient appropriation. The answer that we have gotten so far, when complaints on this matter have come to our attention, have been either that there have been so many applications that the mother's assistance board which has had this additional duty thrown upon it, has not had time with their very limited force to make the investigations, or in case they have made the investigations and the allotment has been made to a particular person, as has been in many cases, we are told that for some reason or another the payments for January or February or March or April have not yet been made, and the blame is generally placed at the door of the Legislature on the ground that we haven't made a sufficient appropriation.

This bill appropriates for the biennium the sum of nineteen million eight hundred eighty thousand dollars, which is slightly less than ten million dollars a year for old age assistance to all the persons entitled thereto over the age of seventy in this Commonwealth.

I don't know how many of you have gone into this matter and made a study of it. I haven't done so very carefully, but I have tried to get some information on the subject and I have not been very successful. I asked the sponsor of the bill if he had information upon which they decided to ask for this particular amount, and he told me that he did not have it. He also told me that he tried to get it from the Appropriation Committee and they didn't have any detailed information, and that he went to the Department of Welfare and attempted to get definite information from them without very much result.

The Department has sent a letter in which they state they have approved thirty thousand applications, and that they estimate, not upon the experience from the number of applications that they have received during the six months that this law has been in effect in Pennsylvania, but from the experience in New York State under an entirely different law they estimate that the total number of people who will qualify under this act will be something over forty thousand. But they do not have any definite figures at all. I called up the person in charge of this particular bureau in the Department of Welfare this morning and I asked how many applications have been made for old age assistance under this act. "We don't know, we don't have the figures here, they have them in the various counties and if it will be of advantage to the Legislature and they ask for it we will be very glad to get it for them." But they do not have the information. They don't know how many people have applied; they don't know what percentage of those who have applied and have been investigated have been granted relief; they don't know what percentage of those who have applied have been investigated at all. They tell us that there are some thirty thousand applications approved from those received from all over the state.

I called up the board in Berks County last Friday and asked, "How many applications have you." They said, "Twenty-six hundred." I said, "How many of these have you investigated and reported to Harrisburg"? They said "Only eight hundred." I said, "How many of them have been approved at Harrisburg?" They said, "Only 650." In other words, out of 2600 applications in Berks county, only one-quarter of them have been approved by the Department here in Harrisburg. Yet they say that they have approved thirty thousand and they are only allowing in this bill for slightly over forty thousand altogether. These figures don't gee up at all. If it is on a basis of forty-five thousand, according to this letter which we have they tell us that the average grant to persons under this relief throughout the state is $21.50, and on that basis the total grants would require an appropriation of twenty-four million six hundred and forty thousand dollars. Then they go on to say that the appropriation provided by House Bill No. 1593 of nineteen million eight hundred and eighty thousand dollars is therefore a very conservative figure. I would say that it was more than conservative; I would say it was an absolute insult to the aged of Pennsylvania.

Even on that very conservative estimate which they make, this appropriation is five million dollars short.

Do we, members of the Legislature, want to be confronted for the next two years with the problem that we faced during the past six or eight months, particularly with the continual stream of aged persons who are indigent and past seventy years of age, who are entitled to assistance under this act, but who will not get it because of an insufficient appropriation? Do we want to be put on the spot continually, as we are, because the Mothers' Assistance Board—and you cannot blame them—say that the reason is because the Legislature did not appropriate enough money? That is true, there is no doubt about it. We are to blame for it. Do we want to continue to put ourselves on that spot during the coming biennium? I do not think that we do. I think that we ought to have definite facts. The Department of Welfare can very easily obtain from each of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania the following information:

First, the total number of applications that have been made.

Second, the number of those applications that have been investigated.

Third, the number which have been investigated and have been allowed.

From that, by taking the same percentage for those that have not been investigated, we can obtain a very accurate estimate from the experience in this State that we will actually need.

This bill, as far as I can learn, and I have earnestly sought to get information from the sources that should have it, is nothing more nor less than a pure simple guess, nothing else; it is not based upon any information which is available. We should have accurate information so that we can take care of the aged.

The members of this House, in fact I believe both of the major political parties went on record in the last campaign in favor of old age pension, not this paltry old age assistance which we have here. What kind of position are we going to be in, having advocated old age pensions, if we do not appropriate sufficient money to take care of those who qualify under this bill, the Old Age Assistance Act?

We will certainly be putting ourselves on the spot in the very worst kind of fashion. Therefore, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think the intelligent thing to do is to continue this bill on the postponed calendar and ask the Department of Welfare to give us information that I have outlined so that we can determine whether or not this bill contains the proper amount of money to be appropriated for old age assistance during the coming biennium.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I ask that the sponsor of this bill keep it on the postponed calendar until we are able to get that information. Certainly we should be able to get it by Monday. Every county in the State has it, and if the Department asks for it, they should have it by return mail. Then we will have something to base our estimates upon.

Mr. KOBELAK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not know whether there would be any useful purpose served in keeping the bill on the postponed calendar until Monday because in the Department they told us they could not give us the information. I inquired about it and wanted them to make me up a sheet like they did for the Mothers' Assistance Fund for the various counties and they said they didn't have that information available. They just tell us that this is a conservative amount. This is based on the amount that they appropriated in other states. Of course, that Bureau is a new bureau. It has only been in operation for several months. They said that they could not catch up with their work. I saw in the newspapers that last Friday was supposed to be the last day of appropriations, due to the fact that the money has run out. The Welfare Bureau denies this; they say the only reason why many of those old aged people were not paid was due to the fact that they have so much work to do in the Bureau that they cannot handle it all. I don't know whether there will be any use of postponing it until we get the information, because it is getting towards the end of the legislative session. I think we ought to take this at the present time as a Special Session is practically inevitable. Therefore, I think this amount will last until the Special Session of the Legislature. I do not believe there is any use of postponing this bill, because back home they are looking forward to the money and I think we ought to go along with this bill.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I realize that a special session is unavoidable, but this is an appropriation, as I understand it, for the biennium. There is no authority given to the Department of Welfare to expend that at a rate of more than one-twenty-fourth of the amount appropriated for each month during the biennium, and no matter if we are going to have a special sesion next year they will not be allowed to spend it in that way. I do not think that we want to face this situation that we have been facing. Other members have told me that in their counties only one-quarter or one-third of the applications have been investigated. People who made application last October or November have not yet been reached for investigation. Yet they tell us they have approved thirty thousand applications and they are only allowing for a maximum of forty thousand. It is certainly obvious that the appropriation is grossly insufficient. We don't have the information that we ought to have. If we are going to make a decent job of it, we should have it. I know that the information is available in each of the sixty-seven counties. It is only a matter of writing for it. In fact, the head of the Bureau told me this morning, when we asked for it, she would get it for us. Why don't we ask for it? Let us get it.

MOTION FOR BILL TO REMAIN ON POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, Under those circumstances, I move that this bill be kept on the postponed calendar until we get that information, or at least until next Monday. There will be no trouble about passing it then; everybody is in favor of it. It will go through without opposition, through both Houses. We want it to be enough, so we will not be on the spot every day and all the time during this coming biennium.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman repeat his motion?

Mr. HOOPES. The motion is that the bill be retained upon the postponed calendar until next Monday evening.

The SPEAKER. The motion must be that the bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am informed by the sponsor of this bill that he is quite willing to concur in that motion to retain it on the postponed calendar until the information which has been asked for by the gentleman from Berks is available.

Further, I wish to call to the attention of the members of the House some patent errors made in the remarks of the gentleman from Berks. I quite admit that the information necessary to make an accurate appropriation for the old age is not available at the present time. However, the delay in the investigation, the responsibility is not one of the Department of Welfare but is rather the responsibility of the individuals who are making that particular investigation.

As, when and if the investigations are completed, the membership of this House must surely realize that the applicant is then given the money for the old age assistance, dating back to December of 1934. So in reality, while the applicants are not being given the money immediately, nevertheless there is accruing to their benefit the monies from December 1934.

In addition therefor I wish to call to the attention of the hospitals and every other state-aided function that is not of money that is appropriated by this bill, the aged, the a preferential government function, as defined by the decision under the Talbot act is not available to participate in the funds of the Commonwealth.

We have heard the very illuminating discourse on the condition of the state finances given by the gentleman from Delaware, my friend and colleague, Mr. Turner. However, this House must bear in mind that if the immediate cash funds which are going to accrue to the General Fund are not available, if our tax program of one hundred fifteen million dollars, rather than one hundred and twenty million dollars as indicated by the gentleman from Delaware, is not afforded to the General Fund during the instant year of this biennium and during the next year of the biennium, this old age mothers' assistance, the aid to the hospitals, the aid to the homes, the aid to the institutions, the aid to the universities must all be delayed until the actual cash is present in the General Fund and until the perferential applications of carrying on the functions of the government are paid. It is not merely a problem of whether or not we will appropriate nineteen million dollars to the aged or whether we appropriate twenty-five million or thirty million dollars. Our immediate problem is to get the cash money into the coffers of the treasury so we will be able to pay as much as has been appropriated.

I do, however, feel that the Department of Welfare should have available for this House the figures upon which the pensions to the aged are based.

And since the gentleman who sponsored that bill concured in that motion, I feel that we have ample time to allow this bill to remain on the postponed calendar, at least until Monday of next week. At that time I hope that accurate information will be available to the members of this House, and this House can vote upon the bill with a certain amount of knowledge.

I therefore ask the membership to concur in the motion of the gentleman from Berks to place the bill on the postpond calendar.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, in order that we may have some light on this bill may I ask the gentleman from Greene, Mr. Furman, to explain the bill.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is what is commonly known as the unemployment compensation bill. It is modeled after the bill that has already passed the House in Washington and is now before the Senate. It provides for contributions to be made, starting January next year, at the rate of one per cent, and in 1937, of two per cent, and in 1938 of three per cent, of the pay roll of every employer in this state. This money goes into a fund that is to be used to relieve those that have been working and have become unemployed. I feel that it is necessary for us to pass this act at this session. There isn't much question but that a similar measure will be passed at Washington. In that case the assessments will be made against every employer in every state of this Union.

It appears on the surface that would be taxing employers' funds. But the Federal Government allows ninety per cent credit on the amount paid by the employers into the state fund. For this reason, if this bill is enacted at Washington our employers in this state are going to be required to pay this money, and those employes who become unemployed will be unable to receive any benefits in this state. That money will be all going out and no benefits coming back. The benefits are paid according to the time, the work and the wage paid. These benefits shall be forty per cent of the employe's full-time weekly wage, with an additional ten per cent for each dependent, and five per cent for each dependent relative who is a member of his household.

The total benefits shall not exceed fifteen dollars a week or 65 per cent of the full-time weekly wages, whichever is lower, nor be less than five dollars per week. It also provides for benefts for partial unemployment. The bill clearly defines the eligibility provisions in order to receive this benefit.

There are also set up appeal tribunals in case of dispute. If the employe does not agree with the decision of these tribunals, it can be taken to a county Court of Common Pleas for final decision.

The administration of this act is left with the Department of Labor and Industry. The Department is also attempting to provide ways and means for increasing employment in this state under this act.

There are a great many other provisions in this bill, but I believe that those are the most important ones at this time.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

STATEMENT BY MR. JOHN A. SMITH

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, on the eleventh day of March, His Excellency, the Governor of this Commonwealth, in addressing this House, made the following statement:

"Legislation must be enacted which will effect a fair shifting of some of the burden of taxation from real estate.

Such legislation must be enacted to make our people secure in their homes in a time of national emergency—to make it impossible for passing adversity to put our families on the street.

I am for the American principle of fair play—which means an honest distribution of the burden of taxation as between the rich and the poor.

The soundest tax is that based on the principle of the ability to pay.

I know of no fairer method to effect a redistribution of the present tax burden on real estate than by the adoption of a graduated income tax, with exemptions, the proceeds of which shall be devoted entirely to reducing the school tax on real estate in every local community in this Commonwealth.

It has been questioned whether our present Constitution permits the enactment of a graduated income tax with exemptions. The Supreme Court of this Commonwealth, upon passage of this bill, followed by our application, will immediately decide its legality."

There is no question but that the constitutional revision bill and the graduated income tax are an expression of good intention, but promise no actual accomplishment.

In the rough and tumble of scrimmage it has been extremely difficult to keep one's eye on the ball of constructive accomplishment. We are now in the closing minutes of the game and the folks back home have packed the bleachers and with tense anxiety are awaiting the final score. The public who supported us in the first half last November is expecting us to score for them in the final showdown. In two more weeks we will go back to live with the folks who elected us. It is a pertinent question, therefore, to ask ourselves, "What do we have to take home?"

"Omnia Gallae in partes tres divisa est." To paraphrase the commentaries Pennsylvania is divided into three parts, the first of which the Philadelphians inhabit, the second the Alleghenians, and the third those who in their own language are called "Hicks," in our's "Rubes." All these differ among themselves in language, customs, and laws, Legislation must be distinctly classified in this manner.

We rural Members are pledged to two distinct purposes, namely; Adequate Milk Control and a fifty per cent reduction in real estate tax.

Having attained the one we must now diligently and asiduously apply ourselves to the accomplishment of the other.

In twenty years the average millage on real estate has advanced from .0184 to .029 while the millage on personal property has remained .004. Not only that, but personal property which outvalues real estate in Pennsylvania two to one has escaped taxation entirely either by exemption or neglect to the extent of six-sevenths of its volume.

The World's Almanac deduces the wealth of Pennsylvania to be $32,757,000,000; less than $10,000,000 of this wealth is in real estate which leaves approximately $22,000,000,000 as intangible personal property, and of this vast sum only $3,300,000,000 is reported for taxation. These figures are taken from the United States Census.

The tax load of real estate in supporting local government is $283,000,000 against a tax load on personal property of $13,000,000. Two thirds of the State's wealth pays one twenty-third of its governmental burden. Is it any wonder that 2900 farms are listed for tax sales in one of the agricultural counties of Pennsylvania. Is it any wonder that one-third of the homes of Philadelphia are facing foreclosure.

It is reasonable to assume that one-half the personal property of Pennsylvania is tax exempt. Assuming this to be true an efficient collection system should be able to find taxable personal property to the extent of $11,000,000,000. Should we increase our tax rate from .004 to .010 we could secure a net income of more than $100,000,000 which would pay the total cost of instruction in our public schools.

Contrary to general public opinion real estate has built most of our roads. During the eight years preceding 1931 the motorist paid only $4,000,000,000 out of the total of $19,000,000,000 expended on highways of the nation. All city streets have been built by real estate tax and many of you have high road and county taxes because of bond issues for road building. There is no equity in this situation. The users of the roads should pay for them and a two cent tax on gasoline would give us $22,000,000 which when allocated to cities, boroughs, and townships would wipe out every dollar of real estate tax for road and street maintenance in the State (except Debt Service Tax)

A fifty per cent reduction in real estate tax would therefore seem simple. A two cent gas tax would yield $22,000,000, and a ten mill personal property tax would yield $110,000,000, or a total of $132,000,000. If we deduct the total debt service from the real estate tax budgets of the State I am sure that this $132,000,00 will more than supply sufficient funds for a splitting of the $283,000,000 tax load on real estate. This would give us

10 Mills on Personal Property $110,000,000 for teachers' salaries.

2 cents gas tax $22,000,000 for roads, streets bridges.

Property is property; Real or personal it expects the protection of government Real or personal it should pay an equal share of the cost of government.

MESSSAGE AND BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 147, together with the Senate Message which was laid upon the table be taken from the table.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. PETERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 2026, Printer's No. 1323, on page 31, of today's calendar, bills on third reading, which was passed over in order.

Section 3 For the purpose of refunding said moneys the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated for the purpose of such refund

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain its provisions.

Mr. COOLAHAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a bill designed to right a wrong, an act of nineteen hundred and nineteen, which has been declared illegal. There are two opinions by the Superior Court and the United States Supreme Court nullifying that act. The steamship agents paid under protest certain fees, which are still in abeyance and which have never been refunded. The act has been invalidated and these men would like to receive their money. They are still waiting for it. As I stated, the Supreme Court of the United States has invalidated the act.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?
